

New Village Residents Hail from Maryland

CRANBROOK VILLAGE—Boating and fishing are favorite hobbies of Willis Brown while his wife enjoys a game of bridge. The Browns are newcomers to Westbrook Park way from Saveria Park, Md. They moved early in March to Cranbrook Village with their two daughters, Leslie, 10, and Karen, 8.

He is a branch manager with General Finance Corp. Mrs. Richard Hendrix entertained seven guests at her home on March 6. All close friends of Mrs. Robert Schaefer who was the guest of honor at the baby shower and luncheon. "Color scheme was pink, white and blue with place cards made up to resemble tiny paper diapers. All in the mood were the games, especially the contest to see who could dress a miniature doll the fastest, to say nothing of unscrambling "baby-coded" anagrams.

Tax Problems Meeting Topic

SOUTHFIELD — Income tax problems will be the topic of a discussion tonight when the Southfield Optimist Club members meet for dinner at 6:30 at Howard Johnson's Restaurant, 10 Mile and Northwestern. The speaker will be from the Internal Revenue Bureau, Detroit branch.

SOUTHFIELD — Southfield Kiwanis met on March 8 at the home of Gwen Watts on Circle Drive with Julie Walton and Gladys Pollock serving as co-hostesses. Mrs. W. L. Braddock of Brant's Rock Shop, Ferndale, was the speaker and her topic was the "Art of Cutting and Polishing Semi-Precious Gems."

CRANBROOK VILLAGE—"Best Dressed Woman on Campus" was the title bestowed to Carol Harkita, 20, during the recent March 8 Ball at Valparaiso University in Indiana, where she is a sophomore majoring in English. Carol is also a member of Alpha Xi Epsilon sorority and is the daughter of the Ray Zolnowskis of Spring River Drive.

WEST BLOOMFIELD—Jack M. Sauter today addressed more than 250 bankers from all parts of Michigan at the Michigan Bankers Association's meeting in Flint. Sauter is a consultant on micro-filing and the preservation of essential records. He is manager of Recordak Corporation's Detroit branch. Sauter lives in West Bloomfield Township with his wife and three children.

Fashions to Highlight Woman's Club Meeting

LATHRUP—A change of scene it is for Lathrup Woman's Club members who will hold their next meeting Wednesday, March 21, at Lathrup Community Congregational Church. It will be a luncheon and party with fashions featured by the Jacqueline Shop. Time is 12:30 and the church circles are in charge of the menu.

Mrs. William Tucker will provide piano accompaniment for the models and Mrs. Fred Cummins is in charge of meeting arrangements.

"From art gallery to art gallery," is the way Mrs. Vincent Zetall describes her agenda during her recent five-day trip to Chicago.

Visiting her friend, Mrs. John Dugan, formerly of Lathrup, Dorothy says one of the sights she anticipated with relish was the expected viewing of a certain El Greco at the Chicago Art Institute.

That and the weather were the only disappointments of the trip, for the painting had been removed. Seems it had previously been hung where the air-conditioning system threatened to do it harm.

As for the weather in Chicago—well, it was thoroughly air-conditioned to a five-degree-below temperature.

Three Flags chapter DAR members met Monday at the home of Mrs. William H. Arverson of San Diego for luncheon. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Lee Stowell and Mrs. K. M. Farnum.

Mrs. Harry F. Peets of Detroit discussed "Heraldry," a pet hobby of hers.

Mrs. George H. Snaddon, delegate; Mrs. Kai E. Hanson, alternative; Mrs. James D. Eastin, state director; and Mrs. LeRoy M. Hooper, state director of transportation are representing the Three Flags chapter at the state conference in Detroit. The three-day event began Wednesday and continues through Friday of this week.

Dave Redwood, director of the Chevrolet Glee Club, tells us that the club will sing Monday evening at First Methodist Church, Birmingham, for the church's Keystone Club. This will be their fourth appearance before the church group.

The club is celebrating its 30th anniversary this year—Dave has been its director and a charter of the group since its inception.

The Lathrup recreation commission is planning classes in accordion and guitar for youngsters ages 8 through 15. Classes will be limited to 10 students or less and will be held at Magnolia, Lathrup and Birney Schools beginning March 19, 22 and 23, respectively. Time is 3:45 p.m.

Special aptitude tests will be given if desired to determine ability for further instruction, at the end of the beginners' classes. There's no charge for the instruments which will be furnished for instruction and practice during the course.

The Walter Johnsons of Coral Gables are the proud parents of new baby daughter Marjorie Ann, born March 5. Marjorie's big brother, Danny, will be four Saturday and his sister Laura is five. Johnson is an engineer with the Ford Motor Co.
