

'Prescription' Benefits Fund for Scholarships

Many North Adams area residents attended "Prescription Murder," a Kingwood School scholarship benefit at the Fisher Theatre on Friday evening.

The Charles Booths of W. Orchard Hill Drive joined the William Voehls of Far Hill Drive and the Thomas Nicholsons of W. Orchard Hill Drive. Dinner plans followed the play.

The Eugene Swans of Tarry Lane and their Hickory Heights neighbors, the Richard Austins and the Donald Alters, planned a stop performance at the Caucus Club following the performance.

Another group were the William Baldwins of Spur Hill Drive, Dr. Mrs. George Smith and Dr. Mrs. John Esslinger of W. Orchard Hill Drive.

The Michael Redfields of Rouse Circle Drive invited a group of friends back to their home for a champagne supper after the performance. Joining them were Birmingham-Bloomfield residents, the Robert Neumanns, the John Twines, the Henry Hogans Jr. and the David Williams, the Denman Jacobsons, the Gilbert Goves and the John Dixons of Huntington Woods. Also joining them were the Redfields' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max F. Ruff and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thompson of Bloomfield Hills.

The W. Orchard Hill Drive home of Mrs. David Williams was the scene of a bridge-box lunch benefit on Wednesday afternoon. The 80 attending with their gaily-wrapped box lunches to trade furthered the building fund of the junior group of the Village Woman's Club. The building, wing and grounds of the new home on Long Lake road will be completed in May.

Mrs. Williams' committee, working on the bridge benefit, included Birmingham-Bloomfield residents Mrs. G. B. Williams, Mrs. Wendell Smith, Mrs. Henry Hogan Jr., Mrs. S. John McGraw, Mrs. John L. Ducker and Mrs. John Luppenzall. Others were Mrs. Raymond Cunningham, Mrs. William Plant, Mrs. Brian Van Moles, Mrs. John Hardy and Mrs. Lee Gunnerson.

A series of benefit bridges will be held on Thursday evening with proceeds earmarked for the Detroit Symphony.

Mrs. William Bergin will entertain at a bridge and dessert in her home on Ledbury Road to further the cause. Co-hosting the four tables area residents will be Mrs. Thomas Ankeny of Ledbury and Mrs. Robert Loury of Ashover Road.

Mrs. John Mahan of Burley Drive has had many changes of scenery since January. She has traveled to New York, Tucson, Arizona and Cleveland, gathering ideas for painting murals. Her most recent trip was to St.

Louis where she joined her husband. She worked there on her murals. Now that she is back home, she is knee deep painting a mural. This latest one is being painted on a dining room door in her Burley Drive home. A lucky neighbor, Mrs. George Combe of Parklane court, will also be enjoying some of Mrs. Mahan's work soon on her kitchen wall.

Sue Mills of Northover Drive was one of the models parading in a spring fashion in the "Seventeen Show" at the J. L. Hudson Co. on Saturday. Sue's costumes included lounging pajamas and party attire.

The Marvin Lohrs of Queen Way Drive have returned from their fourth time in Acapulco. Joining them at the Maris Hotel for three weeks of golf and swimming were friends Dr. and Mrs. George Diamond of Dearborn and Mr. and Mrs. William Davis of Detroit.

On one of their deep-sea fishing trips Dr. Diamond caught a 179-pound sailfish, while the others brought in tiger sharks.

On Sunday, the Lohrs entertained at a family dinner party in honor of Mrs. Lohr's mother, Mrs. Louis Otto, of Detroit, who was 74 years young. Other guests taking part in the birthday celebration were the Don Lehr family of Royal Oak and the Ron Lohr family of Grosse Pointe.

Home from 10 days in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., are the Vincent Hayes of Charing Way Drive. During their stay at the Seashore, they witnessed with fascination the high tides that rolled into the resort areas, filling pools and grounds with sand and sea.

Mrs. Charles Booth of W. Orchard Hill Drive joined her sister, Mrs. John L. Pickering, at Pompano Beach, Fla. for a 10-day visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Calloway. It was a leisurely vacation of sunning, swimming and conversation.

The Carl Nelsons and children Carol, Lowell and Laurelle, of Ashover Drive were weekend guests of Mayor Ivar Wedin of Cadillac. During their stay, the "O'Nelsons" and the "O'Wedins" put on their best green bib and tucker and joined friends at a St. Patrick's Ball in Cadillac.

The Charles Bethel family of Meadowlane are looking forward to Easter in their new home. It is being completed now and is just a stone's throw away on Charing Cross Road.

Mrs. Edward Martin of South Blvd. invited to Chard Hills Estates neighbors in for a morning of coffee and conversation on Tuesday.
