Duties

Community Association relations and parliamentary procedure to councilman Don Hunter.

J. Robert Mitchell will continue to handle the supervision and administration of the building department with zoning, swimming pool and building ordinances under his jurisdiction.

In addition, Mitchell will direct public information and communications, advancing proper notices to abutting property owners when necessary. He is also chairman of the administrative procedures committee and will oversee governmental planning, inter-governmental activities and continue work on the Consumers Power franchise.

MITCHELL was also named pre-term. Councilman Robert Winkel will continue to handle the budget and fiscal matters. His duties include village insurance, charter revision committee, Dutch Elm disease control, ordinance 14, special assessment districts and public improvement.

Councilman Howard will work with the village marshal on police matters, public safety, traffic control, street and traffic signs and the enforcement of village ordinances.

Edmond Webb will begin his council career in charge of health and sanitation and will assist Oberschulte as street commissioner.

The first formal meeting of the new council will be held April 9, when budget matters will be reviewed among other new projects.
