

Imported Linens Herald Spring

First and last word in crease-resistant fabric is Moygashel linen made in Ireland for Chudiks of Birmingham. The two-piece sheath jacket dress (left) in fawn, fashion's newest color, is trimmed on the bodice top in beige and orange. The beige linen sleeveless sheath (center) is distinguished by a tricolor banded waist in yellow, orange and fawn. Made for summer comfort and high style, it boasts its own built-in bra. The perfect travel suit (right) is fashioned of silk linen with its own silk "around the world" print blouse.

Dress Tips

If you discover that your French cuffs are soiled, just turn them inside out for the emergency. When you send sport shirts out to be laundered or cleaned, request that they be returned on hangers rather than folded. They look better if increased.

Clue for Cleaning

Do not let mud dry on leather shoes, as it can permanently stain them. Wipe off the uppers and use an old toothbrush on the edges. Spots on clothes that resist whisk brooms and stiff brushes will often come out when rubbed with a rubber sponge.

Here Are Hints On Becoming Fair For Summer. Gals

The less sleeves and stockings you wear, the sleeker gals need to be.

Here are tips on personal grooming for the bright summer season:

If you shave with a safety razor, always defuze before a bath or shower. Use a made-for-girls shaving lotion on legs and underarms to help whisk away ever hair, then pull razor against hair growth. Use firm sweeping strokes—and a new blade each time you shave. If you own an electric razor, use firm back-and-forth strokes; press slightly on razor when shaving legs. A pre-dusting with talcum helps dry hair.

DEPILATORIES, which contain chemicals that soften or dissolve hair at the skin line, last about as long as a shave but regrowth is softer, less stubbly.

Some are mild enough to be used on facial hairs, but chemical strength varies. Be sure label states "facial quality" before using it on your upper lip; take a patch test if suggested.

Depilatories are fine for legs but are not recommended for use under arms, where skin is sensitive.

WAX FOR LEGS, forearms or upper lip gives long-lasting results and, with constant use, discourages regrowth to a certain extent. You can buy cosmetic wax for use at home or have a professional waxing at a beauty salon.

The wax is melted, applied warm to the skin. When it hardens, it is zipped off, removing hairs with it. Best results occur on longer hair that's not unusually thick.

ABRASIVES, like sandpaper mitts, are among the most ancient methods still used. If fuzz on forearms is dark you might try this method.

It leaves skin satin smooth. Never sandpaper your upper lip.

A BLEACH may be all you need for your upper lip. Make a paste of soap flakes, a teaspoon of ammonia and three teaspoons of hydrogen peroxide. Apply with cotton, leave on a few minutes, then wash off. If necessary, repeat the next day.
