

Little girl Fashions— Are Light and Gay

Little Girl fashions are soaring to great heights this spring, and sky high clothes designed by Bill Atkinson of Glen of Michigan have turned up at Young Clothes in Birmingham.

They follow the favorite airborne past-times of all small girls. The 3-6x group, called "Penny Balloons" sails away with flying colors of buttercup gold, orange and pink.

The 7-14 set has its very own collection known as "Kites". They will be bobbing about in the same family of colors, full of imagination and fashion fantasy.

CRISP FABRIC has been used, cotton, of course. This is one of the first attempts at successfully combining design and fabric with strikingly simple pattern design.

The tailoring is precise, the lines controlled and clear. Often adaptations of adult classics, they are never-the-less young enough for a little girl with grown-up taste and adult ideas.

THIS IS THE gayest collection of little girl clothes seen in a long time. There is the flying high skirt, the skipping skirt, 'round-about-jackets, and colors called sky blue pink, horizon blue and white cloud.

There are adorable tu dresses with matching bloomers in penny balloon prints, and a little duster coat dress from a page in the past.

Cuffnotes

Red Buttons' favorite cufflinks are—red buttons, natch; Robert Q. Lewis' are shaped like miniature spectacles. George Shearing's are replicas of grand pianos, which play two notes! Dave Garroway's are tiny "tele-prompters," showing a magnified script. Bobby Darin's are miniature gold records of "Mack the Knife." John Wayne, who recently visited Alaska, has links made of gold nuggets which he panned himself.

Dress Tips

To remove dog and cat hair from clothes, moisten a rubber sponge and rub clothes lightly. . . . Gloves that fit the wrists snugly will keep the rest of your body warm. Matter of better circulation.

Tips from Experts

The term 'hand tailored' doesn't mean that every stitch in a suit is hand-sewn. For practical reasons, all seams are machine stitched.

However, to carry a 'hand tailored' label, the coat must be made with at least 21 specified hand operations.

Care of Clothes

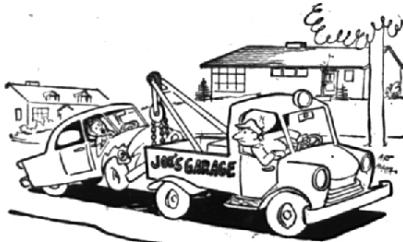

A continually-smoked pipe will become strong and smelly and will impregnate your clothes, if carried in a pocket.

Before putting a shirt into a washing machine, button the cuffs to the shirt front. This will keep the sleeves from becoming entangled and overly mussed.

Just arrived from the East with a cartful of traditionally flavored shirts, shirtwaists, bermudas, and skirts.
