

Pre-Tax Notes Issued Schools

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley, chairman of the Municipal Finance Commission, announced today that the commission has approved $1,500,000 of tax anticipation notes to be issued by the Birmingham School District. These notes are to be issued in anticipation of the receipt of the Dec. 1, 1962 taxes.

"The money will be used to meet current school obligations," Kelley said. "The notes are to be dated June 1, 1962; are to be dated March 1, 1962; and will carry a maximum interest rate of 4 per cent."

Walled Lake Proposes Hike In '62 Budget

WALLED LAKE — A public hearing on the proposed $127,000 budget has been scheduled for May 21.

Under study by the city council, the proposed budget would require a two-dollar tax increase over the current $15 levy for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

An estimated $8,000 increase for expenditures is included in the 1962-63 proposed budget. The tax raise is necessary, City Manager Harold Millsap said, for a proposed street improvement program and for capital expenditures in police, fire and road departments.

THE HIKE would be the first in several years. A three-dollar reduction two years ago brought the rate down to the present $15 levy.

With a $17 levy, the city would get $70,000 from general property taxes. State sales tax at $25,000 and revenue from fees, penalties and licenses would make up the balance.

Proposed fire and police budgets are increased by $1,500 and $5,000, respectively, under the proposed budget.

'Peace Walk' Is Peaceful

Several Michigan State University Oakland students were among "peace walkers" that marched along Woodward Avenue from Pontiac to Birmingham last Sunday.

Fifteen marchers walked the 10-mile route. All carried signs opposing nuclear weapons testing by either Russia or the United States.

The group met with no opposition—even in Birmingham where it was expected police would ask them to disband because they did not have a permit to march.

THE MARCHERS said they received a "warm" accompaniment from police in Pontiac, Bloomfield Township and Bloomfield Hills. Two Birmingham patrol cars occasionally drove past the marchers, but did not stop them.

Sheila O'Rourke, Pontiac, Mich., and sophomore at MSU said, "peace walk" was a protest by "local residents who oppose nuclear testing."

Miss O'Rourke said Birmingham was chosen as a goal because if a bomb was dropped in downtown Pontiac, the 10-mile destruction radius would carry into Birmingham. Miss O'Rourke said the group would probably march again to Birmingham.

FR. GANNON

Holy Name Series To Feature Author

The Rev. Robert J. Gannon, S.J., president emeritus of Fordham University, will speak at the final session of the Holy Name Cultural Series, May 19, 8:30 p.m., at Marian High School. The title of his speech is "The Public Relations of the Vatican."

Father Gannon is the author of "The Cardinal Spellman Story" recently featured in three parts in LOOK magazine. Two of Father Gannon's most recent books are "After Black Coffee" and "The Poor Old Liberal Arts."

HE SERVED as President of Fordham University from 1939 until 1949. Prior to that he was Dean of St. Peter's College, which he reopened after World War II. He was also rector in several Catholic high schools and taught English and philosophy in Catholic colleges.

Among Father Gannon's public service activities are memberships or trusteeships of such organizations as the Ford Foundation, the Pan American Society, Boy Scouts of America and Notre Dame University.

Local Teacher Plans to Attend MEA Meeting

George Miller, social studies teacher at Seaholm High School and past president of the Birmingham chapter of the Michigan Educational Association, will attend the annual spring meeting of the MEA's board of directors, commissions and committees, to be held at the MEA Camp, near Battle Creek, May 11-12.

MORE THAN 100 teachers and administrators from throughout Michigan are expected to attend the meeting. These representatives make up the board of directors, standing committees and standing commissions that chart the direction of the 600-member MEA.

During the two-day session the board of directors will make appointments, formulate plans for 1962-63 and determine meeting dates for the next school year.

TOPICS DISCUSSED will be legislation, teacher education and professional standards, regional conferences, public relations, publications, finance and membership and professional problems.

Also meeting at the camp at this time will be the annual session of the MEA Special Services Association, a corporation chartered by the MEA.

B'ham Girl Places 3rd In Contest

A Birmingham high school junior has written her way to third prize in an editorial-writing contest in which more than 13,000 students representing virtually every high school in Michigan took part.

She is Patricia Byrnes, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Byrnes of 821 Westwood Drive, and attends Marian High School.

Patricia found out dramatically that she was a winner when the names of the three prize winners and ten honorable-mention winners were read out at the annual Award Dinner of the Women's Advertising Club of Detroit in Hotel Sheraton-Cadillac.

Patricia attended the dinner with her teacher, Sister M. Raphael, through whom she entered her editorial in the 1962 Michigan High School Editorial Contest sponsored by the Women's Advertising Club and a Detroit newspaper.

Six, too, did Sheila K. Hopkins, 17, of 1027 Quantan Road, Bloomfield Hills, a student at Bloomfield Hills High School, find out that she was one of the ten honorable-mention winners. She attended the dinner with her teacher, Sister Marie Chantal, I.M.H.

The dinner was held to announce the winners and to salute Detroit's Advertising Woman of the Year, Mary Ball, senior publicist for the City of Detroit.

THE GUEST SPEAKER was Paul Foley of 1211 Willow Lane, Birmingham, executive vice president of McCann-Erickson, Inc., the major advertising agency. He spoke on "Advertising and the Free World," the very subject assigned to the students who wrote for the contest.

Paul L. Penfield, of 752 Lakeside Avenue, Birmingham, director of advertising for Detroit Edison Co., and Thomas J. King of 503 Shirley Avenue, Birmingham, senior vice president of McCann-Erickson and Detroit manager, were two of the five judges.

To Hear Barrett James H. Barrett of 3664 Middlebury, Birmingham, will address the Southern Oakland County First Friday Club tomorrow, 7:45 a.m.

His topic will be, "How's Your Constitution?"

Barrett is a former executive of the Murray Corp. He has devoted the major part of his time as a lecturer on economic and social conditions of the United States.

Serves with Fleet Cmdr. Glen G. Macon, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Macon of 1856 San Diego Boulevard, is serving with the staff of Amphibious Group Two, a unit which took part in the first Atlantic Fleet Amphibious Force exercise of the year, climaxed with an assault landing on the island of Vieques, Puerto Rico. The joint Navy-Marine Corps maneuver ran from April 9 to 30.

Foster Child Week The week of May 6 to 12 has been proclaimed Foster Child Week in Oakland County.

During the Week several religious and social welfare agencies coordinate their efforts to educate the public about the foster home program. This is not a fund-raising campaign.

Area Fund Drive Slated by Culver

Eighty-four alumni and parents of Culver Military Academy will meet Tuesday at the Detroit Athletic Club to kick-off the new fund-raising project of the Northern Indiana college prep school.

The chairman of the local drive is Grosse Pointe Robert Vlasic and among the Birmingham area men working with him are William T. McNaughton, Bethel B. Kelley, Edgar A. Guest, Dr. Ralph M. Fox, James A. Corwin, W. G. Os-

Wacker. The fund goal is $4,995,000 and is aimed at boosting teachers' salaries and expanding scholarships.

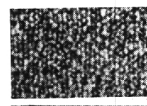

Building experts say, "Insulate adequately." The additional original cost will be recovered in five to eight years by reduction in the cost of operation for heating and cooling equipment.

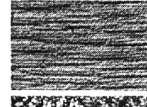

"Cleopatra knew the value of the right setting. And your right setting is a beautifully planned interior as your home as you like it, with the help of our expert decorators! No charge, of course."

NEW TIMES AHEAD FOR GRAND TRUNK

Grand Trunk Railways are now in the first stage of long-range extensive modernization in all phases of operation. Several new schedule revisions are basic to giving you improved service at minimum cost. They signal the start of a series of changes for us.

For example, in freight, you'll see more and more Grand Trunk trains with piggyback cars, tri-level auto carriers and other innovations.

Changes are also in the making for passenger service to match the modern traveler's demands. To fit these overall plans, rescheduling of trains became effective this week.

So, be on the safe side, call your GT ticket agent for train times in advance. Thank you for your cooperation and understanding.
