

Mrs. Saarinen Accepts Son's AIA Honor

Mrs. SAARINEN was cited in a letter from AIA which stated, "as the only woman in history to have been the wife of one Gold Medal holder and the mother of a second, your position is indeed unique."

Ellei Saarinen is world famed for his architectural designs, including the Cranbrook Institutions. Together, father and son designed the beautiful complex of buildings at General Motors Technical Center.

Final word of Eero was the new Dulles Airport soon to be dedicated in Washington D.C.

Franklin Summer Camp Group Select 1962 Director Staff

By NITA HARD
MI 4-1600

There is scarcely time to savor Spring, when plans for the summer must be surmounted.

Nearly ready to relax and sniff the fleeting flowering of apple blossoms are the Franklin summer camp committee. Following an extensive period of interviews and planning, camp directors have been selected for the six week project. Such news is happily anticipated annually by over a hundred local siblings.

Mr. Robert Anderson, chairman for the camp sponsored by the Franklin Community association, announces that Miss Carol Lapham and Bob Hunter will head the 1962 staff.

AS DIRECTOR, Miss Lapham will bring the benefit of her experience as a teacher of physical education at Birmingham Seaholm High School. A graduate of Albion, she was a counselor at Camp Huntington on Walloon lake for three years. Last year she was in charge of all land sports and assistant of program for the camp.

Bob Hunter, a graduate of Carlton college in Minnesota, currently working on a master's degree in history at Wayne State university, will serve as athletic director. Hunter lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hunter of Colony Hill in Franklin, and has an impressive high school and college athletic background.

Following his graduation from Carlton in 1954, he toured the United States as a staff lecturer for General Motors Corp. public relations staff.

CAMP ACTIVITIES, with Indians as a theme for developing an interest in primitive crafts and lore, will be held at the Franklin Community Church this year, June 25-Aug. 3. Registration forms will be mailed to area families, and will be available at village merchants. A slight reduction of fees can be enjoyed by registrants who file on or before June 10. June 9 is set as Registration Day, with committee members on hand at the church throughout the day to handle details.

Children ready to start kindergarten next fall through the sixth grade are eligible to join the fun, either for three weeks or a full six weeks. And ... there'll even be special Franklin summer camp T-shirts. This is the livin' end!

BINGHAM FARMS

The Beverly Hill - Franklin-Bingham Farms Republican Women will hold a membership tea, May 21, from 2-3 p.m., at the Bingham Road home of Mrs. John Longley.

Mrs. George Romney will be guest of honor at this event.

FRANKLIN

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Webb have returned from an extensive trip out west. The wanderlust out of their systems. The luggage is stowed away, for a while at least, and with things around the Franklin Hills drive home all caught - up - on after over a month's absence, Webb is ready to assume his duties on the Village Council.

He got long-distance word of his election in March, and properly took the oath of office while in California.

FEELING AND looking younger-than-Springtime, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Fay of Franklin road, took a lot of good-natured kidding from friends as guests of honor at a Grandparents-to-be shower, Saturday.

Hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roberts of Cheviot Hills Drive, provided an appropriate setting for merriment.

THE FRANKLIN Couples Club will hold a treasure hunt, May 11. Mr. and Mrs. John McLean assume the roles of "chief sneaky - hidlers - of impossible clues."

Helping them plan a rollicking evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Barringer, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kozel.

They'll probably meet at the Franklin Community church at 8:00 p.m.—but other facts are carefully hidden too.

BINGHAM FARMS

The J. C. Nunneley's of Bingham Lane are home after two glorious weeks at Ocean ranch near Pompano Beach, Fla.

With Debbie and Jimmy (Vickie) in California and Sandy hard at studies in Ann Arbor, the Nunneleys shared fun-in-the sun with the Stephan Ternanes, stopping in to see neighbors, the Carson Bingham of Bingham Road, basking at Crystal River.

WSCS Elects New Officers

FRANKLIN

Ending a two year cycle, with circles changing memberships, the Women's Society for Christian Service WSCS of the Franklin Community Church will hold an annual meeting, May 22. A dedication service will follow the election of officers.

Luncheon arrangements are being made by the Rebecca circle for the noon affair. Meanwhile, the five circles are winding up the year's programs.

THE MARY-MARTHA circle will discuss "A Peek into the Future of Our WSCS" and plans for a Korean orphan's birthday at the home of Mrs. Carl Morse, 6645 Glenway drive.

The Ruth circle will join in a program "Over Our Shoulder," under the direction of Mrs. Robert Swift, at the home of Mrs. Donald Webster, 32700 Ramsey drive.

A "Just for Fun" evening is planned for the Esther circle at arrived from Denver that very day.

—Add Franklin overest May 3—

FRANKLIN'S branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association will hold an annual meeting and election of officers with luncheon at Fox and Hounds, May 14, at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Alice Weasels Burlingame, guest speaker, will discuss the topic "Horticultural Therapy."

B'ham Women Aid International Event

Mrs. Simon Knudsen and Mrs. Martha Hurd, both of the Birmingham area, are prominent on the committee in charge of the International Institute's Spring Festival.

The annual program which runs for three days at the Institute, 111 E. Kirby in Detroit, is scheduled for May 11, 12 and 13.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Stanley Pratt of Bloomfield Hills are co-chairmen of the Festival and Mrs. William H. McLaughlin, also of Bloomfield, is active on Mrs. Knudsen's committee.
