

Young People Are Honored

ior; Alex Hanway, Brookside School sixth grader at the annual Founders Day tea given Sunday at Cranbrook House. The affair honored students and graduates of Cranbrook's four schools.

Spun Sugar and Pony Rides Will Be Featured at Party

By chartered bus and by car, Birmingham Girl Scouts will be streaming out to Ivory Farms Saturday, May 26 to attend the Southern Oakland Council Gold-on-Birthday party. About 5,000 of the 17,000 Girl Scouts in Southern Oakland are expected at the giant party which will last from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Mrs. Thos. M. Covell Royal Oak general chairman, says that everyone should get there early to take advantage of the free pony rides, fire engine rides and horse-drawn wagon rides. It's a party and it's for fun. There will be balloons, hot dogs, ice cream, pop, milk, coffee, spun sugar candy and popcorn for sale.

Senior Scouts, acting as guides, will direct girls to the demonstrations of Girl Scout skills, graphic exhibits and a round-up camp site.

John Ivory will present his famous Horse Show.

Climaxing the event will be a Pied Piper parade followed by a rally at 4 p.m. A Re-dedication Service will be the highlight of the rally. During the ceremony Girl Guides from four different nations will repeat the Girl Scout promise and laws, each in her own language.

BALDWIN - HOLY NAME neighborhood Girl Scouts will hold their annual Dads and Dolls banquet at First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, May 20.

A Court of Awards will be the main event of the evening. Also on the program will be songs and a movie, "Mile High-World Wide." Senior Scouts will lead the singing.

Co-chairmen of the banquet are Mrs. Foster C. Raymond and Mrs. John M. Wakevaine.

Girl Scouts in Midvale neighborhood held their Court of Awards in Midvale School May 21. Mrs. Lorin J. Volmer's third grade troop had charge of decorations and refreshments. The flag ceremony was performed by fifth grade girls whose leader is Mrs. Carl Neppach, Jr. Mrs. Arnold E. Hook and her sixth grade scouts were the clean-up committee.

Attending were parents of the Scouts and special guests Mrs. Milton E. Skutt, district chairman, Birmingham Girl Scouts, and Miss Mary Anderson, district adviser.

MIDVALE AND BALDWIN - HOLY NAME neighborhoods won't be having Courts of Awards as separate units any more. As part of the plans launched by Southern Oakland Girl Scouts to streamline their administrative structure, merging of neighborhoods and troops in Birmingham continues.

Latest to merge were Baldwin, Holy Name, Midvale, Westchester and St. Regis who officially become Westwin neighborhood at a meeting in the Community House May 15. Election of officers was held at the same time, and Mrs. John M. Wakevaine was elected neighborhood chairman.

New secretary is Mrs. Chester C. Sharp.

On the nominating committee are Mrs. Herbert J. Fleening, Mrs. Edwin W. Walters, Mrs. Wm. V. Walker, Mrs. Warren J. Zeis, and Mrs. Daniel Carroll.

Delegates from Westwin to the annual Southern Oakland Council meeting will be Mrs. Charles Lundy, Mrs. Eric W. Weinman, Mrs. R. L. Livingston and Mrs. Bruno J. Ujda.

Chosen to serve as Troop Consultants are Mrs. Carl E. Bled.

Mrs. Jack W. Angerman and Mrs. Elmer E. Bush.

Serving as Troop Organizers will be Mrs. Foster C. Raymond, Mrs. John J. Riccardi, Mrs. Francis M. Stein and Mrs. Wm. D. McGeagh.

IN THE MIDDLE of a heat wave, with temperatures soaring in the 90's, lucky girls in troop 165, Bloomfield Village, had a splash party immediately following their Fly-up Ceremony at the home of Mrs. George S. Evesell the afternoon of May 17.

In the Fly-up Ceremony, sixteen Brownies in troop 165 became Intermediate Girl Scouts. Their leaders are Mrs. Ralph B. Grierson and Mrs. Frazer F. Hilder.
