FRANKLIN VILLAGE

Clio Mayor and Wife Guests For Mayor Exchange Day Visit

By NITA HARD
MI 1-1600

FRANKLIN
Hizzoner, Mayor Ira D. Bare and Mrs. Bare of Clio were official guests of Franklin Monday as Mayor's Exchange Day visitors.

Accompanying them from the small city outside of Flint were city superintendent, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hattendorf.

Met by as much fan-fare as Franklin can muster up on a Monday morning, the visitors were escorted into town shortly before noon by Village marshal John Donaldson in the police ambulance.

Mrs. Elsie Garwood, village clerk and official hostess, Councilmen J. Robert Mitchell, Edmund Webb, Richard Oberschulte and their wives were on hand to greet the party at the village offices.

A BRIEF TOUR of Franklin school with principal Marjorie Tate was followed by a visit to the Franklin Community church where the Rev. Hugh C. White and Mrs. White joined the party.

Next, they were shown the Franklin Volunteer Department's fire hall where Lt. Charles Foote acted as host and joined the group for lunch at Rosemond Hills Inn.

Following a leisurely drive through the village, in the afternoon, the visitors were taken to see Cranbrook and Kirk-in-the-Hills, departing for Clio around four o'clock.

Councilman George M. Howard planned the day but was unable to join the entourage.

Meanwhile, Franklin Village President Calvert Thomas was having red-carpet treatment at Clio.

A CABARET style dinner party at Franklin school this Friday night will conclude Franklin Village Players ninth season and Clio Hard's third term as president of the group.

The annual meeting starts at 7:30 p.m. and members will elect two new Directors for the Board to serve for the next three years.

Paul Bergeron, Dick Ford, Earl Ramsey and Harold Rowe will run for the positions vacated by Hard and Phil Price.

Movies and impromptu entertainment round out the evening.

THE SOUNDS of music were produced for parents as piano music of Mrs. Franklin Wilson of Stenc held their spring recital Friday evening.

Parting is such sweet sorrow . . . especially when the continent divides you, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Winchell of Bloomington find.

The departure of their son, Larry and his wife for Seattle this week, following an all-too-brief visit, made them especially glad school will be over in Ann Arbor soon, and daughter Judy will be due home for the summer.

The holiday was highlighted by a visit to Gettysburg and other historic sites which their youngest children have never seen.

FRANKLIN
Recent departees, the Frank Youngs now of New Orleans, were acclaimed a Gold Badge family by the Franklin Volunteer fire department.

Not only did they serve (father Frank as commissary, mother, Phyllis as dispatcher and son Allen, as auxiliaryman) but now, a thousand miles away, they send greetings and a twenty dollar check to contribute to the department's annual membership drive.

Which brings to mind that with 30 active volunteers on the roster all trained and ready for instant action in the event of fire or emergency, individual residents of the fire district pay only 50 cents per year when they kick in their annual contribution of fifteen dollars a year. It's a bargain no one can afford to miss.
