

Weather Fails to 'Dampen' Michigan Week Celebration

MICHIGAN CONSERVATION Officer Warren Kendall measures the carp young Bob Stuechell hauled in at the Recreation Department's carnival Saturday at Quanton Lake. Bob's catch measured 20 inches long and weighed in at four pounds. This year's "Carp Carnival" was the biggest in Birmingham history.

WILD INDIANS again roamed the streets of Birmingham Saturday. These Indians were not so wild, however. They were really members of a Boy Scout troop taking part in the Youth Day parade that was part of Birmingham's Michigan Week observance.

Groves, Seaholm Finish Two-Three in Regionals

Birmingham's two high schools — Groves and Seaholm — claimed second and third places respectively last Friday in the Class A tennis regionals at Cranbrook School.

Groves finished runner-up to champion Plymouth with 11 points. Seaholm totaled eight and one-half points.

GROVES' Dick Kline, top singles for coach Tom Carson, won 12 sets and five matches to win the singles title.

Kline downed Pontiac Central's Steve Wyman, 6-8, 6-1, 6-1; James Merenda of Farmington, 6-0, 6-1; Plymouth's Larry Hall, 6-1, 6-2; Seaholm's John Slater, 6-1, 6-0; and he bested teammate Ken Kimbel in the finals, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

Barons Cop Second in Golf Meet

Bloomfield Hill's golf team, owner of a 40 straight meet victory string, finished runner-up in the Michigan Class A meet Saturday at the Saginaw Country Club.

The Barons, who topped second in the regionals at Brighton finished second in the state tournament with an 18-hole total of 321, four strokes behind champion Flint Southwestern of the Saginaw Valley Conference.

TOM PRY riled 76 to lead the Hills' efforts, followed by Chuck West with 79. Fred Ewald 81 and Carl Becker 85.

The four-stroke difference between Southwestern and the Barons occurred on the 17th hole where Ewald hit two tee shots out of bounds.

PRY and Ann Arbor's Bill Newton shared the runner-up medal honors with a 76.

has speedy John Schweppe and Seaholm can counter with Jim Daniels and Bob Drotzler. Groves will have senior Art Schuler in the blocks. Joe Schur will represent Brother Rice.

The Barons' Noyes and Seaholm's Ray Johnson should provide a splendid duel in the 440 yard run, with Noyes holding a definite edge.

SEAHOLM WILL have Daniels, Drotzler, Bruce Bates and Johnson set to go in the 880 relay and John Derrick, Kim Ratanen, John Strong and Mike Geer in the mile relay.

The mile could develop into a duel between Seaholm's Jack Bachelor, who owns a 4:34.4 time as his best, and Brother Rice's Norm Koltys and Bob Smith of Bloomfield Hills.

Bob Richards of Bloomfield Hills and Seaholm's Geer and John Collins will supply a race in the 880. The field events — high jump, broad jump and pole vault — appear to be the weak events of the local clubs.

GROVES' Schuler is only broad jumper to eclipse the 20-foot measure this year.

Seaholm's Ken Heft and Bloomfield Hills' Bruce Bish look like the lone performers in the pole vault. Seaholm's Roger Mason, holder of the pole vault mark at 17'11 1/2", fractured his collarbone early in the campaign and has been sidelined since.

TRENGZA will be entered in the high and broad jumps.

Detroit Country Day School will send miler John Swain, a freshman who qualified for the state Class D finals, and Neil Satovsky, top half-miler.

Winners Announced In Putt-Putt Event

Late afternoon showers failed to keep Birmingham's observance of Michigan Week from coming to a dramatic and successful conclusion Saturday.

General Michigan Week chairman for Birmingham, F. Ward Ouradnik, termed the week "very successful."

Ouradnik singled out Livelihood Day on Wednesday, with the joint service club lunch, and Saturday's Youth Day and giant parade for special laurels.

MORE THAN 250 men representing 12 service clubs in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area feasted on a chicken dinner on the Community House lawn Wednesday and were later told by Herbert (Ted) Doan, executive vice president of the Dow Chemical Co., that we must "change the opinions of the intellectuals who regard Michigan as part of a cultural desert."

Doan pointed out that culture will thrive only in the academic atmosphere or where the intellectual is "respected and emulated." Michigan is not barren in higher education and culture but must keep stepping forward.

SATURDAY PROVED to be an even greater success. "Even though it rained, more than 300 attended the CONAC band concert in Shain Park," Ouradnik said. The merchants outdoor style show Saturday morning also drew a large crowd.

As the ninth annual celebration closed, leaders of the annual promotion started moving forward with plans for another year.

Appeals have been issued to "all citizens and organizations to start planning now for 1963 in order to assure even greater success in giving the people of Michigan and other states and nations greater knowledge about the state."

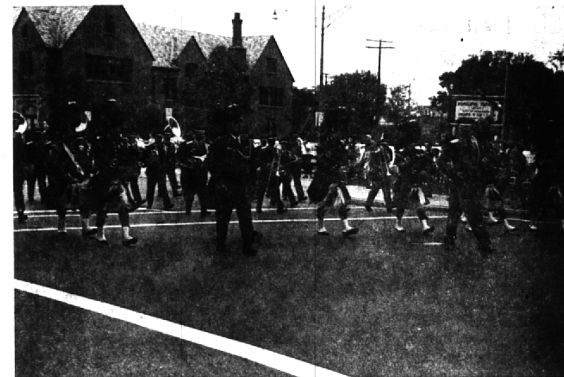

USING THE Municipal Building as a background, a pretty model shows off the latest in bathing suits at the outdoor fashion show in Shain Park Saturday morning. Sixteen local merchants took part in the show, making it the biggest display of fashion in town.

HERITAGE DAY was observed in Birmingham by the setting up of window displays by the city's merchants. This colorful and meaningful display in the window of the Prep Shop caught the eye of Ecentric photographer Al Mitchell as he covered the Michigan Week activities.

MEMBERS OF 12 Birmingham-Bloomfield service clubs are shown lining up to be served a chicken dinner on the lawn of the Community House. More than 250 attended the lunch in observance of Livelihood Day during Birmingham's Michigan Week celebration.

MEMBERS OF the United States Air Force Continental Air Command Band swing out through the streets of downtown Birmingham. The 18-piece band led the parade that climaxed Michigan Week celebration in the city. The band received a standing ovation at the close of the concert.
