

YOU NEVER HAD THIS DRINK!

THE VERMOUTH THAT'S DRIER THAN GIN ITSELF!

Every drop of Gancia Extra Dry makes your cocktail drier. It's a fact—Gancia's drier than gin itself. Made in Italy for the American taste, it's the perfect silent partner for your favorite gin or vodka. Say "Ghan-cha." Do say it soon.

SCHOOL NEWS

Marian High

By CAROL JURICA
Special Writer

The senior class officers are organizing, with the help of the faculty, senior class and parents of the seniors, a school-wide career day to be held in March. The career day will be held in workshop form. Eight general fields will be covered through round-table discussions, followed by question periods. The experience of the senior parents in their various professions will be engaged by enlisting volunteer round-table moderators from among them. A wide variety of careers will be covered in this way, and the day will be profitable to both student and parent. The first organizational meeting of this project will be held Monday evening, Dec. 3, and will be devoted to further explanation of the planning and a coordination of the various phases of the event.

Three Latin students have brought another touch of fame to Marian's halls: Mary, Elizabeth Taylor, Loraine Chorkey and Marcia Polomski won special medals for their accomplishments in Latin from the association for the promotion of Study in Latin. They all scored highly on the annual examination offered by this association to high school students, thereby qualifying Marian for the special Latin trophy which is awarded a school after it has won three such pins.

On Nov. 23, the famed Notre Dame Glee Club presented a concert at Marian. The club, often rated as one of the finest glee clubs in the nation, was engaged by the mothers of the sophomore class. Proceeds from the program will be donated to the school library.

One of the freshmen participating in Marian's bowling program, set an all-season high score of 186 at last week's games. She claims it's the best game she's ever bowled, so it looks like the bowling lessons the girls have been getting at Strike 'n Spare Lanes are really improving their games.

The new officers of the freshman class have been elected within the past few weeks. Class officers are: Kathy Whiting, president; Cathy Heiman, vice-president; Kfisten Kohl, secretary; and Chris Savage, treasurer.

Decisions have been made regarding the students who will attend the Model United Nations sessions at the University of Detroit in April. This year we have decided that each official delegate will have an alternate. The alternates will work with the delegates and will be fully prepared to substitute in the event that a delegate is unable to go to U. of D. If substitutions are not needed, the alternates will attend as official observers.

Alternates are: Mary Elizabeth Taylor, Susan Cosmolmano, Frances Thurber, Judy McKinnon, Christine White, Carol Bolz, Nancy Brosius, Kathleen Sullivan, Marilyn Wilkinson, Maureen McGowan, Linda Hallett, Louise Brownell, Doris Flaherty, Kathy Kalls and Anne Nemetz.

The University of Michigan Herbarium is among the largest in the Western Hemisphere.

'The Mousetrap' To Be Presented At Cranbrook

"The Mousetrap," an Archa Christie whodunit, will be presented by the Cranbrook School Extension Dramatic Club, Friday, Dec. 7 and Saturday, Dec. 8 at 8:15 p.m. in the Cranbrook School Auditorium.

Both performances are open to the public and tickets may be purchased at the door.

The play builds suspense until at the end the "mouse" is trapped. Included in the cast are three Kingswood School Cranbrook students: Sandra Eakins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Eakins, 576 Half Moon; Ann Livingstone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Livingstone, 71 Beekstone; and Marcia Reinitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Reinitz of Detroit.

APPEARING FROM Cranbrook School are: Ted Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Baldwin, 1750 Hillwood Dr.; Charles Bigelow, son of Mrs. Walter Bigelow, 31226 Pierce; Steve Senter, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Senter of Highland Park; William Stroud, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Stroud, 11501 W. of Mount Clemens and Grace Willingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Willingham of Detroit.

The student director is James McQuaid, son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. McQuaid, 6791 Spruce, and the publicity manager is Dave Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Craig, 1135 Glenhurst.

The entire production is under the direction of Temple Eickendorfer, Cranbrook School faculty member.

East Hills Junior High

By BETSY BLOSSER
Special Writer

During the week of Nov. 18 through 24, East Hills Junior High School prepared for Thanksgiving and a special assembly. The school recessed at 3 p.m., the regular time on Wednesday, the day before Thanksgiving. Pews for little or no homework were heard from the students in every class throughout the day.

An assembly between first and second hours was also held on Wednesday. Under the direction of Mr. Lively, the East Hills choir and band played. There was a special feature from the band, a clarinet quartet. Mike Kelso, Dick Piatale, Shirley Lekich, and Roger Piatale, all accomplished clarinetists, played "Minute Waltz." This program was given in the cafeteria.

Miss Conroy is the sponsor elect of the Teen Club, now being organized and anticipated by all of the eighth and ninth graders at East Hills. On the first and third Friday evenings of each month, beginning Dec. 7, the Teen Club will occupy the gym and locker rooms from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Organization of this club is mainly for social purposes since the classes are for academic work. Students will run and organize the club so the success of it will dwell on the students. At these meetings the gym will be set up for dancing and other activities.

This week Mr. McGuire, principal, is attending the Michigan Education Association's state convention in Lansing. His meeting will last Nov. 28th through the 30th.

BONING UP on the script for the Cranbrook School Extension Dramatic Club's presentation of Agatha Christie's murder-mystery "The Mousetrap" are cast members (from left) Charles Bigelow, Sandis Eakins and Ted Baldwin. Both performances, on Friday, Dec. 7 and Saturday, Dec. 8, are open to the public and tickets may be purchased at the door. The play will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the Cranbrook School Auditorium.
