Brother Rice

On Saturday, Oct. 6, ten Brother Rice students and two members of the school faculty attended the Fourth Annual Detroit Student Press Association Convention. The convention was held on the campus of the University of Detroit. In individual sessions the delegates were instructed in the techniques of newspaper and yearbook writing. Topics such as "Page Layout", "Editorials", and "Yearbook Themes" were handled by journalism experts from the Michigan-Ohio area.

The delegates attended two general sessions. In the first they were welcomed by the Rev. Laurence V. Britt, S.J., president of the University of Detroit. The major address of the day was given by Mr. George Romney, the Republican candidate for Governor of Michigan. During the closing session Mr. Harvey Patton, managing editor of the Detroit News, spoke to the DSPA Convention.

Attending from the Brother Rice Chieftain were its faculty moderators, Brothers P. N. Morris and A. Grimaldi. The student delegates were John McGuckin, editor-in-chief; Bob Hickner, Gary Mellon, Jim Harrington, Joe Hoffman, Bob Ozog, Dennis King, Jim Delaney, Dennis Bidelman, and Larry Wells.

Brother Rice juniors took the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test on Tuesday, Oct. 16. The PSAT consists of two separate tests, each of which is an hour long. The first test deals with verbal English, the second with mathematics. These tests gave Brother Rice students who are planning on college a rough idea of the Scholastic Aptitude Test, which is often required for college entrance.

The PSAT was administered through the newly founded Brother Rice Guidance Department. This important school department is headed by Brother E. D. McKenna. This is Brother McKenna's first year at Brother Rice. He was previously stationed at Bergen Catholic, a New Jersey high school staffed by the Christian Brothers of Ireland.

Is Omar Khayyam the poet the same as Omar Khayyam the Astronomer? They were one and the same. Though the onetime tentmaker is best remembered in our time as a writer of love poems, he was celebrated in his time, around 1100 A.D., as a serious scholar and astronomer. He improved the Persian calender and also did some important work in the field of mathematics.

Marian High

Preparations are now being made for the first annual Marian Model United Nations on Nov. 17 and 18, Saturday and Sunday. This event is being offered to the entire school through the history department for the purpose of stimulating interest in foreign affairs and in the larger-scale Model United Nations to be held at the University of Detroit next spring.

The secretariat, comprised of Eileen Kelly, secretary general; Pat Byrnes, president; Jean Scholl, chairman of the committee on Red China; Linda Gibson, chairman of the political security committee; and Carol Jurica, chairman of the ad hoc committee, has called organizational meetings this month in order to set this project into motion. Approximately 135 Marian students will be representing 45 different nations.

The Student Council and Student Spiritual Council are joining their forces Friday, Oct. 19, to launch their first school-wide project of the year. The showing of a first-run movie has never been done before; however, great enthusiasm was shown at the idea and the results have been most encouraging. The councils will sell refreshments for the show, and these profits, plus the price of admission, will go to the United Fund drive, the Red Cross and other charitable agencies throughout the course of the school year.

A group of seniors are now in the process of rehearsal for the play, "The Summons of Sariel", by Magdalene Kenzie, to be presented to the school during an assembly on Friday, Nov. 16. The play is under the direction of Sister Judine. The play develops the November theme, giving new insights into the meaning of death and the hereafter. Pam Bekolay, Carol Klemz, Lois Jordan, Judy Lamble, Patricia Carell, Kitty Gustafson, Sharron Michael, Ann Fisher and Kathy Osborne have succeeded in securing lead parts, and the production staff has begun work on that phase of this dramatic effort.

Last week we lauded Jenifer Sisson, a Marion senior, on her accomplishments as a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Testing program. Dureing the week we have discovered yet another outstanding senior — Kay Mack, who came within only one point of the semi-finalist division in the NMST. Kay is also a member of the National Honor Society and a home-room representative to the Student Council.

Why was President Andrew Jackson called "Old Hickory?" He first acquired the nickname during the Creek Indian War, when the soldiers who founght under him proudly declared that their general was "as tough as hickory." The nickname was revived when Jackson served in the War of 1812 and proved himself just as tough with the British as with the Creeks. It was revived again when he campaigned for the presidency, and was associated with him from then on all through his life.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

come back a hero with a new face?

MICHIGAN NEVER needed good leadership more. We need much more than a good leader, however. We need senators and representatives who can forget party differences and work together for the common good.

Governor Swainson was quietly stale-mated, as was Governor Williams before him. Progress has brought to a standstill in this state by die-hard Republicans who would not support or vote for needed legislation, proposed by Democrats.

Governor Swainson did everything but get down on his knees and beg for appropriations for mental health and education. This state did not receive the needed appropriations in those areas. Ask your Republican senators why! Check the records.

"UNITED WE stand, divided we fall." We've fallen a long way in the past six or seven years, haven't we? Republican legislators have made a burnt offering of Michigan. They have done this knowingly and thoughtfully in order to make our Democratic governors look not only bad but terrible.

They did it deliberately, coldly and without consideration for the people of this state who must suffer as a result of inaction.

Thus, they now expect us to elect a Republican legislature and governor, out of sheer desperation. There is another name for this political game and it's called blackmail.

In other words, friends, you won't have a state left to vote in. You can break it up in little pieces and sell it right down the river to the highest bidder.

DURING THIS endearing situation, the only support of any strength for the Democrats in Lansing has been the Union. We Democrats are always criticized for our Union connections. I maintain that we have no choice. The Democrats in Lansing have been held in a vice, suffocated by our supporters on one side and betrayed by elected representatives, of this state on the other.

We have two alternatives. We can give the hooligans to Romney and his clever buddies and say, "okay fellows — you win. Let's see if you can repair the damage. Let's see if you can put Michigan back together again."

Do we want men like that deciding what's best for Michigan? You decide.

The other alternative is to take the handcuffs off Governor Swainson. Give him a Democratic majority, for a change, in the house and senate. Then see what it takes to get Michigan out of the hospital bed.

REGARDING MR. Guy Nunn's program: You are certainly entitled to your own opinion. I can and do agree with you in small part. We all consider his broadcasts to be the UAW-Democrat political slant, or propaganda, if you will.

His program angers you merely because you can't bear a viewpoint or outlook contrary to your own You are so very sure of your judgment and have been so very often wrong. However, we may hope that as you gain maturity, this situation will improve.

Your closing remark was one of the most ill-considered statements you have made to date. I quote, "Michigan and it's social climate would be far better off without the "gentleman from Canada" (Mr. Guy Nunn). Would Michigan be better off without everyone who doesn't share your opinions, Mr. Hogan?

I believe it only fair to present both sides of the coin. I believe a letter like this should be printed, even in The Birmingham Eccentric.

Decries Reason For Rejecting School Bus Law

To the Editor:

I hope you will continue to call attention to the need for Birmingham to enact the State School Bus Law, as you have done in recent editorials.

It is ironic, indeed, that Birmingham, which provided so much of the impetus for the state law (especially through the support given the proposal at that time by the BIRMINGHAM ECCENTRIC) now fails to resognize that it is just as necessary within the city limits.

I WAS particularly distressed to read that our chief of police believes that enactment of the law in Birmingham would result in "confusion, congestion and possibly serious accidents."

Quite to the contrary, I am certain that continued unwarranted resistance to the enactment of this law by our city government will increase the present confusion, and lead inevitably to a tragic accident.

I am writing our city commission to urge them to enact this law and I hope others will do so, too.

EDITOR'S NOTE—The commission has directed the city administration to restudy the school bus situation. The complete text of Chief Moxley's report on the subject was printed on Page 5-A of last week's Eccentric.

Appreciates DPW, Articles in Paper

To the Editor:

The article on the DPW, which was carried in your Oct. 4 issue, was both informative and decidedly in the public interest.

I happened to have occasion to work with Mr. Brien several times, and he and his department cooperated promptly on every occasion.

How about similar articles on the police department, the city clerk's operations, etc, etc?
