Incognito Countess Sneaks a Preview

An incognito countess was in Bloomfield Hills this week looking over our most fashionable clothes. She was so impressed, she wired friends back in lower Slobbovia that this was the year to "Buy American!"

Especially at the Christ Church Cranbrook Rummage Sale Nov. 1. It was in the stock rooms of the church where our fascinating foreigner discovered the ultra fashionable discards.

The countess in question was Mrs. Dean Coffin, moderator of the annual pre-sale fashion show for members of the Episcopal Church Women. Her models included Mrs. C. R. Weir, Mrs. William Paddison, Mrs. Elliot Higgins, Mrs. Gerald O'Grady, Mrs. Jack U. Klarr, Mrs. Richard Teel, Mrs. Robert Patterson, Mrs. George Tischer, Mrs. Morris Purdy, Mrs. John Albrecht and Mrs. Calvert Thomas.

The sale, reputed to be the largest in the United States, will again offer almost anything and everything in the way of household furnishings, in addition to the designer gowns and accessories which have been contributed to the rummage "French Room." Mrs. Russell Robins is in charge of this department, which is collecting furs, hats and name ensembles (some barely worn) daily.

This year's sale is co-chaired by Mrs. Mary Hershey and Mrs. Davey Gerhardt.

Others involved in rummage sorting going on at the church these busy days are Mrs. Richard Darrath, Mrs. E. M. Estes, Mrs. Dale Douglass, Mrs. Ferd Prucher, Mrs. Edward Klotzburger, Mrs. Sidney Harriman, Mrs. David Burton, Mrs. John DeLorean, Mrs. Percy Parker and Mrs. John McCormick.

The Greenlee Drive home of Mrs. Franklin Mills was the scene of a benefit coffee last Wednesday morning. More than 40 guests gathered, donating coffee money to help in the buying of equipment for the "Terrific Twenties Follies" benefit musical.

Mrs. Mills, auxiliary social chairman of the Pontiac General Hospital, is one of several hostesses entertaining at coffee this month.

The musical, a benefit for the hospital, will be held at Pontiac Northern High School auditorium on the evenings of November 2 and 3. Mrs. Mills is handling ticket sales in the North Adams area.

THE DOORS of the Ward Stoddard home on Westview Court were opened to members of the Korn Lake Garden Club and their friends for the club's October membership tea last Monday afternoon.
