

New Group Gathers Momentum

If you're a former United Airlines stewardess, then membership in Clipped Wings, national alumnae group, is a must. Here in Birmingham the organization has increased its size in a matter of months. Among those attending a luncheon and fashion show given last week at Western Golf and Country Club were Mrs. Richard Read (from left), Mrs. Phillips McGraw, Mrs. Charles Leech, Mrs. John Noonan, Mrs. Joanne Haines, Mrs. Robert Schaffer and Mrs. William Farrell.

Clipped Wings Elects Officers At Luncheon

The Detroit and suburban areas chapter of Clipped Wings, United Air Lines Stewardess Alumnae, Inc., held its installation of new officers Oct. 17 at Western Golf and Country Club at a luncheon meeting.

Newly-elected officers are president, Mrs. Robert Schaffer; vice-president, Mrs. James Taggart; secretary, Mrs. John Noonan; treasurer, Mrs. Edward Mowsoy.

Mrs. Schaffer outlined the schedule of events for the coming year with special emphasis on the "Fashion in Flight" planned for the spring. At that time a luncheon and fashion show will be held aboard a United Air Lines plane over the Detroit area, with proceeds going to the club's philanthropy, the Association for Retarded Children.

YW Workshop Puts Emphasis On Religion

The second annual workshop of the YWCA's religious emphasis committee promises to attract a large, interested group of YWCA members and friends to Central Branch YW Oct. 29, according to Mrs. Maude W. Pino, 1923 N. Woodward, Birmingham, committee chairman.

"In few organizations not church-related do worship services have the important place they hold in the YWCA of Metropolitan Detroit," Mrs. Pino points out. "Board meetings are opened by devotionals, and the majority of the Association's committees begin their meetings with short meditations."

The workshop will begin at 10 a.m. with a worship service led by Mrs. James H. Laird, of Grosse Pointe.

Dr. H. Dale Small, minister of education, Westminster Presbyterian Church, will be the morning speaker and will discuss the topic, "Personal Enrichment."

Following luncheon, the afternoon session will be devoted to discussion in four interest groups.

Couples Vacation

Birmingham couples vacationing at The Homestead at Hot Springs, Virginia, recently were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Lapham, of Tip View Road, and Mrs. R. B. King, of Latham Road.

The Ascension Lutheran Church at 16935 W. 14 Mile at Pierce Street will hold their first Christmas fair this year. On Nov. 3 at 10 a.m., the ladies will display hand made Christmas decorations, and baked goods. They will also have white elephants and a fish pond for the children. The public is invited.

The chairman and her committee are Mrs. Donald Homer 2815 Cumberland, Berkeley; Mrs. Richard Regula, 16934 Georgina; Mrs. Carl Beley, 16206 Beechwood; and Mrs. David Bratton, 3108 Upton Road.

THE WEST BEVERLY Hills Garden Club will meet today at the home of Mrs. Walter J. Zimmerman, 32340 Sylvan Lane. This meeting will be a workshop and members will begin working on Christmas wreaths.

Co-hostesses will be Mrs. H. L. Wyatt and Mrs. Harry Vibbert Jr.

The various Guilds of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs are busily tying together the final details for their annual "Holiday for Things," to be presented on Nov. 8 at the school.

THE MEMBERS of the Valley Woods branch WNGF have been meeting every Monday for the past month at the home of Mrs. Lewis Donnsey on Hampton Road for a workshop. They have been busily making "kissing balls" to sell. The proceeds will add to their scholarship fund. Mrs. Dempsey's co-hostesses are

Lamba Tau Delta To Initiate 6 At Dinner Meet

Six new pledges to Detroit branch of Lamba Tau Delta sorority will receive their first degree at a 6 p.m. dinner party at Rannucci's, Detroit, on Monday, Nov. 5.

President, Mrs. William Scott, will welcome Mrs. Edward Melowski and Mrs. John Roggenbuck of Detroit and Mrs. Robert Beaver, Mrs. Emil Hanson, Mrs. George Cox and Mrs. Michael Bondon of Troy.

Birmingham members attending will include Mrs. Bernard Dodd, Mrs. Gordon McGowan, Mrs. John Lahey, Mrs. Harold Dittrich, and Mrs. John Hern.

50 (Count 'em) Antique Dealers Arriving for Dr. Goodwill Sale

When 50 important dealers in American and imported antiques arrive for the 15th Annual Antiques Market of the Junior Group of Goodwill Industries, committee women from the Birmingham area will be on hand.

The exhibition and sale will occupy two floors of the Goodwill plant at Brush and East Grand Boulevard. It begins Sunday, through Wednesday.

In keeping with the early American flavor in the sale, Junior Goodwill members are creating an old-fashioned dining room where they will prepare and serve lunches and dinners.

AT A GAY Nineties era ice cream parlor and snack bar, waitresses in pink and white striped costumes with plumed headresses will serve guests.

Mrs. George T. Wilde, of Birmingham, is chairman of the committee in charge of the project, proceeds from which will provide personal services and improved facilities for the Goodwill Industries' handicapped workers. Other Birmingham area women working on arrangements are Mrs. William T. LaRue; Mrs. Harry J. Altick, Mrs. James T. Barnard, Mrs. Hugh T. Barber, Mrs. Donald R. Borgeson, Mrs. John E. Cole, Jr., Mrs. James Holmes, Mrs. Philip H. Pretz, Mrs. Horace Prunk and Mrs. E. Hans Scheiwe.
