Council Passes Sidewalk Law

BEVERLY HILLS—It was a night for passing ordinances. Both sidewalks and landfills came up for discussion at Tuesday's council meeting and ordinances for both were passed after discussion of small points.

The sidewalk ordinance, number 57, was up for passage, with an amendment. The amendment came as a result of several taxpayers' requests that a public hearing be held before any new sidewalks are built.

Charles Quick, 19321 Devonshire, objected to a sentence at the end of the section on the public hearing which stated that failure to give or publish notice would not invalidate the public hearing.

"THIS makes the amendment worthless," Quick said. However, the ordinance and the amendment were passed with four votes yes and three no. Councilmen Cline, Shepard and Shurtleff voted no and Councilmen Albertson, Wood, McClanahan and Guilmet voted yes.

The landfill ordinance, regulating types of fill to be used and how, was also passed. The council decided to delete from the ordinance a $4 per hour fee for work done by the village administrative staff. The amount was included in a license fee to be paid to the village clerk.

Eugene A. Magnell, 20220 Laher immediately applied for a license to fill the north ten acres of his 20-acre tract.

SINCE this is Rouge River bottom land, the council requested a Land Commission study and recommendations for flood plains control of the Rouge River, before the license is granted.

Romantic Harvest Moon To Debut on Sept. 13

ANN ARBOR—The romantic Harvest Moon will make its first appearance at 11:12 p.m. on Sept. 13 and it's a good bet that many of its advocates will stay up to welcome it in.

The peculiarity of this full moon, as distinguished from other occasions when the moon is near full phase, is its slight delay in rising for several nights in succession.

DUE TO THIS small retardation, the evenings at harvest time are well supplied with moon light and attract much attention. On the average, the moon rises nearly an hour later each evening, but this delay varies considerably during the year.

due to the angle that the moon's path makes with the eastern horizon.

In the autumn, this retardation is the shortest of the whole year, being around 20 minutes in contrast to more than an hour in the spring, and hence becomes very noticeable.

BESIDES its rising so nearly the same time each evening, the Harvest Moon is likely to appear larger than usual and take on a reddish appearance near the horizon. This is due to the condition of the earth's atmosphere, and not to the moon itself.

The molecules of the air and the dust particles suspended in it scatter the light, the blue considerably more than the red.

WHEN THE MOON is near the horizon, its light rays, passing through more atmosphere than when near the zenith, are stripped of their blue rays more by the red, leaving the red to predominate. It consequently takes on a reddish appearance.

Also at this time of year, a greater dustiness prevails in the air, and the effect may be quite pronounced.

The apparently larger size of the full moon near the horizon is considered an optical illusion, and again has nothing to do with the moon itself, but is due to comparison with nearby terrestrial objects.

Club Strike Continues; Sides Still Bargaining

A hearing continued Wednesday in connection with the strike against 15 private clubs, while a spokesman for the striking Hotel, Restaurant Employees and Bartenders union said that no new clubs had been struck.

Five Birmingham area clubs have been the target of the union's action in their bid for higher wages and other new contract terms. Local clubs struck are Birmingham Country Club, Tam O'Shanter, Orchard Lake Country Club, Oakland Hills, Bloomfield Open Hunt and the Town and Country Club, Birmingham Country Club Manager John Brennan is participating in the hearing in downtown Birmingham before the State Labor Mediation Board. Brennan is a member of the six-man labor committee of the Detroit Club Managers' Association.

Frank E. Kenney, Sr., attorney who is counsel for the labor committee, predicted that it would be several days before Labor Mediator Hyman Parker could hear all testimony from union and management witnesses and issue a report.

HOWEVER, KENNEY said, regardless of Parker's decision on the handling of a recent union election, "We will stand exactly where we are today."

Kenney said the Club Managers are remaining steadfast in their stand for collective bargaining with their association's labor committee, rather than arbitration.

Myra Wolfgram, international vice president of the striking union, seeks arbitration of the dispute with any one of 45 persons considered "acceptable." The list of 45 persons includes top officials of The B's Three, plus prominent professional people.

KENNEY HAS replied to Mrs. Wolfgram's proposal, stating that the labor committee's members are "keenly aware of the problems of clubs under existing business and economic conditions."

Kenney said the issue should be resolved through bargaining with the labor committee, and not by "arbitrators who are not familiar with the problems and issues."

The hearing underway in Detroit is the result of the Club Managers' charge that the union violated an agreement made before a recent election.

He charged the union with "improper campaigning" to influence members to vote "against changes in the contract proposed by the managers."

"Without that campaigning, we think the union members would have voted for the new contract by a big majority and the strike would be settled today," Kenney said.
