Peanuts for Kids

Birmingham's Mayor Pro Tem William H. Burgum, buys the first bag of peanuts from Kiwanis club president Al Thomas, of Southfield. Thomas and other Birmingham Kiwanians will be on hand Saturday morning from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. for their annual peanut sale. The money from the sale will go to help support Kiwanis youth activities. The local sale is part of a nation-wide program.

Local Attorneys Receive Honors At Convention

Nearly 50 veteran Michigan attorneys will be honored with "Fifty-Year Awards" by the State Bar of Michigan at a luncheon in Lansing on Thursday.

Recipients of the awards, which will be issued in the form of certificates, will be those members of the state bar who have been admitted to practice law for a period of fifty consecutive years.

Among those to be honored are John A. Boyer of 699 Baldwin and Rex Humphrey of 1622 S. Woodward, Birmingham.

Battle of Gettysburg Is Speaker's Topic

James K. Flack, 286 Larche, will speak on "Confederate General Robert E. Lee's leadership at the Battle of Gettysburg" at a meeting of the Abraham Lincoln Civil War Roundtable of Michigan Wednesday night.

The meeting is scheduled at 8 p.m. at Clinton Inn, Greenfield Village.

Flack is chairman of the Michigan Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association. A student of the Civil War period and Lincoln for more than 40 years, he was one of the speakers this summer at Gettysburg College at the fifth annual Civil War Study Group meeting.

This & That

Come on, now, Senators, wake up to the demands of individual and corporate freedoms... unless you want the United States to drift into that personal and business security that always accompanies the loss of personal initiative, the loss of personal reward.

Uncle Sam may engage in the expropriation of a half-billion-dollar venture in Nicaragua, where the building of a ship canal, to relieve the over-worked Panama Canal, is being discussed. It's officially stated that the Panama Canal will handle the traffic; also, that its security against atomic bombing, plus Panama's own efforts to wrest control from Uncle Sam, presents international problems. (Truly, mankind's inventiveness seldom fails to bring problems along with technical progress.)

In their evaluation of President Kennedy, millions of American voters are torn between their admiration and affection for his youthful appearance, his winning smile, his tireless efforts to make over so much that he believes needs making over—and his failure to heed the "voice of history" in his pursuit of substituting academic theory for empirical experience. Millions want him to do the impossible... and are disappointed in his effort to join Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association. A student of the Civil War period and Lincoln for more than 40 years, he was one of the speakers this summer at Gettysburg College at the fifth annual Civil War Study Group meeting.

Interceptor Friends of Library Plan Book Sale

WEST BLOOMFIELD—A used book sale, proceeds from which will be used to purchase new books for both West Bloomfield's main library and the West Acres branch, is being sponsored by the Friends of the Library.

An appeal for used books and magazines is being made by the organization. Books may be deposited at either library. Mrs. Joel Warren and Mrs. Laurence Clark may be called to pick up donations. The book sale will be held Oct. 15 at the main library, 5000 Orchard Lake Road.

To Head Dinner For Democrats

A Birmingham attorney was named chairman of the Oakland County Democratic Committee's breakfast-entertainment dinner. He is Thomas G. Kavanagh, 2285 Faircrest, Beverly Hills.

Kavanagh is a former member of the Democratic State Central Committee and has served as chairman of the Birmingham Democratic Club.

President John F. Kennedy has been asked to speak at the dinner which will be held on or about Oct. 20 at the Elms Temple in Pontiac. The date has been left tentative in order to accommodate the President, he said.

Funds raised at the dinner will be used in the campaign to elect George J. Fuquerson, Democratic candidate for Congress, and other county Democratic candidates.

Lathrup Mayor

CLUBS AND PROPERTY associations are plentiful. Through them the men and women of Lathrup find a diversity of spare-time activities and are able to make civic contributions to their home town.

Many of the broadensers are in the executive or professional group and all age groups are liberally represented. On the whole, Lathrup may be considered a family community whose residents belong to a moderately high income class.

This may be easily discerned as one drives through the city, abounding in homes with a minimum lot size of 7,500 square feet. Heights vary from single to split-level and two-story and the average cost of residences is about $27,500.

A MEASURE of the feeling its people have for their city was its dejected last year when a zoning change was sought by the Kellys for some property along 12 Mile Road. The Kellys wanted the land to be used for multiple dwellings.

Nearly residents were overwhelmingly opposed, but also represented at the public hearings on the issue were a few members of an older age group, long-time residents of the city.

They could think of nothing more ideal — in the transition from a large home to smaller quarters — than "an apartment in Lathrup."

THAT'S WHAT Mrs. Willett said in her 7 a.m. call to England. Wonderful — that Mr. Willett would have large home to smaller quarters — said if he had answered the 5:45 a.m. call?
