

Archaeologists Meet On MSUO Campus

The first meeting of a new chapter of the Michigan Archaeological Society, open to any amateur interested in archaeology, will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in South Foundation Hall on the Michigan State University Oakland campus, Rochester.

The new chapter will be known as the Clinton Valley chapter and serve the southeastern Michigan area. Its formation is the direct outcome of a class, "American Archaeology for the Amateur," offered through the Division of Continuing Education of MSUO last spring. This class brought together a group of dedicated amateur archaeologists from Birmingham, Clarkston, Pontiac, Rochester, and Royal Oak.

Members of this class have applied to the Michigan Archaeological Society for membership and will welcome to their group others interested in New World archaeology and the American Indian.

Comedian Newhart To Appear Thursday

Comedian Bob Newhart will open the 1962-63 season for Michigan State University Oakland-Community Arts Council.

His appearance is scheduled for a week from today in the auditorium of Pontiac Northern High School, 1051 Ariene Street. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

Newhart, who became a comedy sensation almost overnight, entered show business early in 1960. On April 4 of that year he opened in a Chicago night club and two weeks later his album, "The Button-Down Mind of Bob Newhart," was released. In seven weeks it became the number one selling album in the United States. A former comedy writer, he became successful by using material he had failed to sell to others.

OTHER FEATURES on the Arts Council's dual series are Gyorgy Sandor, pianist, Oct. 26; William Warfield, baritone, March 25; and the Chicago Little Symphony with Ther Johnson, April 6. These programs will be held in Pontiac Northern High School auditorium.

The on-campus series will include the Wayne University Glee Club; Louis Potter, cellist; St. Paul's Hamlin University Choir; physicist Linus Pauling; other speakers, pianists, a chamber music group and possibly a baroque trio, according to Dr. Walter Collins, university representative and co-chairman of the Council.

MRS. THOMAS T. Hart, 4829 N. Adams Road, heads the Birmingham campaign committee. Working with her are Mrs. Robert Clark, Mrs. Dominic Saportis, Mrs. Richard James, Mrs. James Van Deusen, Mrs. Charles Himehoch, Mrs. Albert Miller and Mrs. Dolbert Tate.

Tickets may be obtained at the Grinnell's Music Store, 209 West Maple, in Birmingham.

Agencies

ter children's homes needed," others ask, "what would the metropolitan area be like without family guidance where needed?"

INTERPRETING THE WORK of the agencies isn't a simple matter. How can they report their wide range of work on marital problems, personality adjustments, mental health, parent-child-court relationships, unmarried parenthood, education, employment, disturbed adolescents, the ill, handicapped and the aged?

Thousands upon thousands of interviews are held and family problems solved every year by the agencies.

What about the effectiveness of their operations?

In dealing with people's thoughts and actions, many yardsticks are needed to measure. How can a doctor, lawyer, statesman, or clergyman measure the effectiveness of his counseling? As the public demand for Family Service continues to grow, it becomes evident that agency counseling has gained popular acceptance.

For the future, time will prove the effectiveness of "The 41's Underground."

tional Cultural Center, which could be a mecca for millions.

There are too few such cultural individuals around. Ask anyone who has ever tried to raise money for an artistic project—or a cultural center.

IN FACT, if you do a little rubbing on the silver lining of our cultural image, you'll find some dark clouds underneath.

Like advertisers who refuse to sponsor good music, opera and other cultural television programs because they don't rate large enough audiences.

Or the fact that theatre in the USA must honey nearly every production with cute or sentimental songs, dances and fancy costumes to attract audiences.

1 thing we need more culture, Mr. Manning. We need to expose its pleasures to more young people. We need a cultural center.

And if we get these things, maybe someday Leonard Bernstein will have 180 million American fans instead of me and the 50 million others he has now.

THAT one-man show of five films by artist Clifford B. West looks exciting. It's at 8:30 p.m. Friday at the Birmingham Art Center.

New paintings by Jean Lamoureux and Joseph DeFrancisco are still on view this week at the Little Gallery, 915 East Maple.

Lakes

MACKINAC ISLAND, whose Grand Hotel boasts the longest porch in the world, guards the Straits. It is a remnant of an earlier Indian civilization complete with an ancient fort built by the English in 1786.

Taking the place of motor transportation is the "surrey with the fringed top". The island was the favorite meeting place for the Regent and it held a strategic position in the opening up of the northwest.

It also boasts the most powerful lighthouse in inland waters: 3,000,000 candle power.

Lake Michigan is the gateway to minerals, forest products, cattle and grain and the highway for marketing the manufacturing entailed by such rich natural resources.

THREE centuries have passed since Jean Nicolet first saw Lake Michigan. If he could return today his disappointment at not finding a northwest passage to China would be swallowed up in victory.

mate in a tulip display is shown each Spring. It is a display garden for the bulb industry. During 1962, it was noted that the following bulbs were the favorites of the visitors.

There are tulips which flower over a six-week period and it is up to the home gardener to select his favorites from the type preferred. The following are listed starting with the earliest and ending with those which pull down the curtain on the bulb show.

Triumph, Aareola; Darwin Golden Age; Darwin Hybrid, Oxford; Cottage Artist; Double late, Mount Tacoma; Lily Flowered Red Shine; Parov; Karel Doorman; Fosteriana, Purissima.

The champion hyacinth is Carwegia, which is white and good for forcing.

A final word, don't plant your bulbs too early.

Your family's silent partner

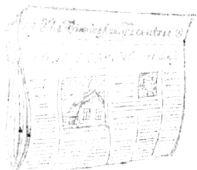

Lying there on the doorstep, it can't speak, or move, or hear. But open it in your hands and it becomes a living, powerful partner in daily living; in the decisions you make, the opinions you form.

Besides reporting the local news, The Birmingham Eccentric strives to give freely of time and space, and enthusiastically of its editorial support, to every group, every project, every activity that is aimed at community progress and improvement.

People depend on it for needs beyond the need to know. It's where families turn when something's to be bought or sold. It's where information on health, cooking, religion, amusements, dress-making, etiquette, marriage are found.

It's where charities first turn for help, and a place where a letter to the editor is published. It's where campaigns are fought and lost dogs are found.

It's your newspaper, silent partner of the family, yet one that says so much, does so much for so many people—every week without fail.
