St. Stephen's Dines At 'Cafe St. Etienne'

"Cafe St. Etienne" was the setting for the first annual parish dinner and meeting of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Roaf Bourgeoisonne served with a French flair was a break from the traditional church supper.

Red-checked tablecloths covered the tables for eight and trans-ferred the parish house at 5500 N. Adams Road into a Parisian cafe for the evening of Jan. 22.

Candle stubs set into wax-dripped bottles provided the only light in the large room. Travel posters decorated the walls and French songs added background music.

WHEN THE 65 guests were seated, a procession of waitresses, in chef's caps and long white aprons bore flaming casseroles to each table, where the host ladled the beef burgundy over noodles and passed hot buttered French bread, wrapped in red checked napkins.

Following the dinner, the lights went up for the first annual parish meeting of the congregation which, until Dec. 29, had been a mission of Christ Church Cranbrook.

Three new vestments were elected to its governing body. John R. Ball, 2575 Charnwood Drive; Edwyn H. Cox, 329 Rivenock; and Dayton O. Slater, Jr., 4155 Spur Hill Drive, will fill the vacancies created by the three men who rotated off the vestry.

LUEL P. SIMMONS, Jr., 2651 Squirrel Road, chairman of the meeting and retiring senior warden, was presented with a citation for his service to the congregation.

William L. Martin II, 4472 Brantford, retiring junior warden, and John D. Yoder, 2805 Pine Hill Drive, also retiring, were presented with church emblem pins in appreciation for their terms as vestrymen.

The Rev. Carl R. Sayers, rector of St. Stephen's, was unable to be present and is recuperating at home from a knee operation.

The Rev. Gerald O'Grady, rector of Christ Church Cranbrook, and the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Winter of the Christ Church staff were special guests.

Mrs. William L. Dewey, 6323 Anslow Lane, was in charge of dinner arrangements.

The committee plans to show movies of a bull fight, taken by the church members, with commentary.

Guests are asked to dress in costume as Senoritas and Senors. Tickets may be obtained at the church, or by calling Mrs. James Fleming, chairman.
