New Students Get Together At Cranbrook

By BOB LAKIN
Special Writer

By Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 17, 382 boys, including 118 new students, had registered at Cranbrook for the opening of school. In addition, four new teachers joined the school faculty.

They are Mr. George Stewart, Spanish instructor; Mr. Harry Schneider, French master; the Reverend David Sox, religion teacher and Mr. Delvin Walden, English master. The school, which is filled to capacity, started classes on Wednesday, Sept. 18.

The week end brought two social functions, each designed to get students from Kingswood and Cranbrook acquainted. The first of these was the exchange dinner on Saturday, Sept. 21, when the freshmen and sophomores of Cranbrook went to Kingswood while Cranbrook was host to the Kingswood juniors and seniors. After dinner the group met for a short "hootenanny" and then proceeded to a movie shown in the Cranbrook auditorium.

The following day both schools again gathered together in the afternoon for the all-school picnic held on the Cranbrook Lower Fields. Until the dinner was served, students kept busy by getting acquainted and organizing games including an interesting exhibition of co-ed soccer. By 7:30 that evening the fun had disappeared and boys were busily writing their week-end themes.

Two new courses have made their way into the Cranbrook curriculum this fall. Advanced biology is being taught by Mr. James Garlick while Afro-Asian history is being instructed by two men. Mr. Robert Uesella is handling the Asian division while Mr. Lawrence Harris is teaching the African segment. Both courses are available as electives for juniors and seniors.

Midvale PTA Has Annual Open House

The Midvale School PTA held its annual Open House at the school Wednesday evening, complete with room visitations and refreshments served afterwards.

The Open House gave parents the opportunity to become acquainted with the school program for the year ahead, as well as assist the school's staff and visit their children's rooms.

Keeping An Eye On Our Schools

Birmingham's Westchester Elementary School was closely observed Sept. 24 by these three ladies, who were guests of the school. They are (from left) Miss Annellee Lindner of Hamburg, Germany; Miss Sheila Speedy of South Africa and Miss Hadia Djajani of Jordan. The three women are studying at the University of Michigan. Miss Djajani is a language arts coordinator for the country of Jordan and is here under the auspices of UNESCO.

Kingswood Has Hockey Team Ready

By BETTY KRAUSE
Special Writer

There are two exchange students from foreign countries at Kingswood this year. Marguerita Espanol, from Montevideo, Uruguay, is here on the American Field Service plan, and Gunnel Troell came here through the Michigan Council of Churches. She is from Lulea, Sweden. They are both in the twelfth grade.

Marguerita is staying with Penny Hauser's family. She came in late August and is leaving this area in late June to tour the United States with other A.F.S. students before returning to Uruguay for her senior year. Gunnel is staying at the home of Connie Green. When she returns to Sweden, she begins college.

THE PLAYERS for this year's varsity field hockey team have been chosen. These girls are Liza Barnard, Ann Clark, Carol Cole, Jane Cooper, Martha Cross, Chris Dodrill, Jackie Doser, Sue Duryea, Fran Fredericks, Connie Green, Penny Hauser, Crys Jones, Terry Lerchen and Jean McGibbon.

Other players include Dani Miskina, Peggy France, Kathy Shore, Debbie Shore, Paulette Stocky, Mary Todd, Mary Weir, Judy Wells, Sue Wetherby and Julie Williams. Their first game was held on Friday, after school. It was played at Kingswood against Bloomfield.

Miss Goodale announced that there are four National Merit Scholarship semi-finalists from Kingswood this year. These students are Kathy Shore, Fran Fredericks, Jeanne Edmond and Leslie Land. They will go on to fill out forms and take another test. After these are compared, the finalists are chosen.

On Wednesday, the first dancing class for seventh and eighth graders of Kingswood and Cranbrook was held. Thursday is the visiting day for the mothers of Seniors.

The only record of international sports competition in the Middle Ages is that of wrestling matches between France and England. These were held in the presence of royalty. Francis I of France, it is said, once challenged Henry VIII to a personal bout after several of his Frenchmen had suffered humiliating defeats.

A pep assembly will be held Oct. 8th to honor the football team. The cheerleaders, Denise Falvey, captain; Claudia Carrick, Nancy Dearborn, Diane Jones, Sandy Lungren and Betsy Wolfe will lead the school in cheers. Kent Wilbraham is the chairman of the assembly committee.

The girls chosen to be assembly at the assemblies this year are Karin

Batson, Janice Bird, Kathy Mauch, Marcia Moyer, Kathy Vogt, Martha Urruh and Sue Weston.

The first football game was on Oct. 2 against Walled Lake. Ken Black, Bob Calhoun, David Emery, John Glass, Jeff Goodover, Dick Grier, Mike Janz, Dick Kraatz, Brent McLesse, Craig Richards and Jim Thomas played in the game. Iowa Tests of Basic Skills were given to all students. Testing replaced classes on Sept. 23rd and 24th.

"Contact lenses" are being tested on chickens by Michigan State University poultry scientists. The aim of these rose-colored lenses is to modify the chickens' vision. Research shows that poultry cannibalism can be reduced when chickens can't see the result of peck marks on their comrades.
