Realtors Fete Richard Funk

For his services to the community and the real estate profession, Richard H. Funk, president of Funk Realty Co., Livonia, has been unanimously selected as "Realtor of the Year" by the combined Oakland-Wayne County Board of Realtors.

President of Livonia Rotary Club, Funk devotes a large portion of his time to civic activities, as a member of committees for the Livonia Board of Education, Schoolcraft College and other community organizations. Formerly chairman of the Realtors Advisory Committee to the Livonia Board of Tax Review, he is currently chairman of the board.

In association with his brother Thomas, Richard Funk has been active in the brokerage business and real-estate development in Livonia and the western sections of Detroit and western Wayne and Oakland counties since 1952. One of the county's leading real estate appraisers, Funk lectures on real estate at the University of Michigan.

After serving as chairman of the appraisal committee of the Western Oakland County Board of Realtors for two years, Funk was elected board president last December. He is also president of the Northwestern Realty Association, which operates the combined board's multi-list system, the most extensive in the country.

FRANKLYN R. THOMAS

Senior VP Post At Ad Agency Goes to Thomas

A Bloomfield Township man, Franklyn R. Thomas, assistant manager of the Detroit office of the J. Walter Thompson Co. and management supervisor of the Ford Division account, has been elected a senior vice president of the advertising firm.

Announcement of the election of Thomas to one of the agency's top administrative posts was made by Norman H. Strouse, president of the company and former manager of the Detroit office. Also elected a senior vice president by the Thompson board was Donaldson B. Thorburn, now a management supervisor in the New York office, who was in Thompson's Detroit office from 1954 to 1958.

Thomas, 740 West Greenview, has served in several Thompson offices, originally joining the company's Detroit office in 1947 as a media supervisor of the Ford Dealer Association accounts. This was followed by assignments in the company's New Orleans, Los Angeles and New York offices. He was elected a Thompson vice president in 1958, and returned to the Detroit office in 1959. He was named assistant manager of the office in 1962.
