3 Area Men Appointed To Torch Drive Posts

The campaigns to raise funds for the Torch Drive in the food industry, the communications business and services industry in the Detroit tri-county area will be directed by three Birmingham-Bloomfield men during the 1963 drive.

J. L. Hudson Jr., president of the J. L. Hudson Co. and Torch Drive chairman of the major commerce unit, has named Howard A. Gifford, Bloomfield Township; Robert S. Marker, 745 Hawthorne Drive, Birmingham; and Donald F. Kigar, 32786 Bingham Lane, Birmingham, as group chairmen in his unit.

GIFFORD, vice president of the Kroger Co.'s Detroit division, will head the campaign within the food industry, which includes supermarkets and food brokers. Marker, vice president, McMann-Erickson, will head a team that will solicit advertising agencies, graphic arts, media, and advertising services, such as film companies and art studios.

Kigar, executive vice president, Detroit Edison, is chairman of the group that will solicit restaurants, hotels, clubs, dry cleaning establishments, and laundries.

Gifford will head the major food industry group for the third successive year. He joined Kroger 35 years ago as a meat cutter in Cincinnati. Before coming to Detroit, he was active in the Greater Cincinnati United Appeal campaign.

MARKER HAS been associated with automobile advertising for the past 12 years. Currently he is responsible for the Buick account. He was educated at Emory and Vanderbilt universities and served in the Army Air Corps in World War II.

Kigar has been with Detroit Edison since 1926, coming to Detroit after receiving an electrical engineering degree at Ohio Northern University. He is a member of numerous professional and naval groups and is a director of the Detroit YMCA.

The 15th annual "Give Once for All" drive will run from Oct. 15 through Nov. 7. It's goal is $19,750,000 for operating funds for 195 health and community service agencies.

Falling Plaster To Be Replaced At Public Library

For the next few days, nonfiction stacks of the Baldwin Public Library will be off limits for patrons as workmen complete the job of installing accoustical tile on the stack area ceiling.

Ever since the remodeling of the building, the plaster ceiling has had a tendency to loosen and fall.

THE STAFF has assembled a representative sampling of nonfiction books on rented tables to help meet the needs of patrons temporarily.

When the project, which was started this week, is completed by Oct. 15 at the latest, the ceiling will be securely and permanently in place. Furthermore, patrons may look forward to a quieter atmosphere in that section, thanks to the acoustical tile.
