

Bridal Pair Leaves On Trip to England

Jane Ellen Wert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Wert of Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills, and Richard Elser Oman, son of Mrs. Marguerite H. Andrews of Columbus, O., repeated their marriage vows Saturday afternoon in Christ Church Cranbrook.

A reception at Kingsley Inn followed the service, after which the couple left on a wedding trip to England.

The bride wore a floor-length gown designed with a chapel train and sunburst silhouette of Ottoman sash. The Empire waistline and elbow-length sleeves were outlined in silk braid. Her lace mantilla had been brought from Venice by her mother. The bridal bouquet consisted of white roses and stephanotis.

MRS. JOHN H. WERT of Birmingham was her sister-in-law's matron of honor, and bridesmaids included Mrs. Henry L. Howell of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. William B. Yort of LaGrange Park, Ill., and Constance M. Aldrich of Columbus, O. They all wore gold satin and carried bouquets of pom pom mums in the fall shades.

Park H. Pixley of Columbus, O., was best man, and seating the guests were John H. Wert, brother of the bride; Robert M. Shamsky and Harry Wright III, both of Columbus.

Following their wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Columbus.

DAC Holds Seven Nights Of Festivity

Birmingham - Bloomfield - area members are attending the Detroit Athletic Club's seven-night dinner dance, floor show, gala, which began Friday and has continued nightly beginning at 7 p.m. through Saturday, excluding Oct. 6 and 7.

The entertainment committee headed by Chairman Frederick A. Kaiser has suggested black tie for Fridays and Saturdays to give an especially festive flavor.

Headline entertainer is operatic tenor Enzo Stuarti, who has performed in top night clubs in Europe and the United States. Added attraction is the dance duo Heller and Helene.

Club Reception Follows Rites At Holy Name

At a ceremony solemnized in Holy Name Church Saturday morning, Linda Kathleen Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Wheeler of Ravine Road, Birmingham, became the bride of John David Phillips, of Harper Woods, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd A. Phillips of Kansas City, Mo. The double ring service was followed by a reception and luncheon at the Village Woman's Club.

White organza over taffeta fashioned the bridal robes which were accented by a lace bodice encrusted with seed pearls, traditional sleeves and a chapel train. A pill box of seed pearls and lace secured the shoulder-length veil, and the bride carried white roses.

GAIL S. DRAKE of Pontiac was the maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Karen Radom of Birmingham; Shirley Wheeler of Midland and Sandra Phillips of Detroit. They all wore floor-length peau de soie gowns of lavender with deep purple velvet jackets. They carried matching fugi mums.

Ronald L. Phillips of Detroit was best man, and ushers included Donald F. McGowan of Kansas City; James Judge of Harper Woods and William Johnson of Champaign, Ill.

Following a two weeks' honeymoon in Nassau, the couple will make their home in Royal Oak.
