Marriage Vows Spoken At St. Regis Church

St. Regis Catholic Church in Bloomfield Township was the scene for the morning marriage of Laura Ann Fitzpatrick to Stephen F. Gantner.

The double-ring ceremony took place Sept. 28, with the Rev. Father Thomas Shields officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Fitzpatrick of Shellmarr Lane, Bloomfield Hills. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gantner of Indianapolis, Ind., are the parents of the bridegroom.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of light ivory silk faille, tulle-trimmed with embroidered alençon lace. The bodice was fashioned with a high neckline and long sleeves.

The skirt was bell-shaped and fell into a brush train with a bow at the back waist. Her silk illusion veil cascaded from an open crown.

TRADITIONALLY wearing something "old," the bride wore her mother's wedding day full-length satin slip. The bride's flowers were a cascade of white fugli mums and jack straw mums.

Nora Fitzpatrick was maid of honor for her sister, while another sister, Joan Fitzpatrick, and Maureen McDunn of Bellwood, Ill., were bridesmaids.

The attendants wore gowns of willow green portrait satin, floor-length sheaths with a curved set in band at the waistline. Two panels fell from the back to the floor. Matching Dior bows with short bouffant veils were worn. They carried flowers of cascading rust and butterscotch mums.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fitzpatrick wore a champagne-colored pure silk sheath with matching shoes, hat and gloves. Her accent colors were in gold and purple jewelry and flowers of purple mums.

On the equine side, the bridegroom had as his best man Jerome Gantner of Indianapolis, Ind. The ushers were Robert Henn and William Boyers, also from Indianapolis.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a blue pure silk sheath with matching accessories. Her flowers were white mums.

After the ceremony the new Mr. and Mrs. Gantner greeted guests at a reception at the Rotunda Inn. They will make their home in Indianapolis.

Two Businesswomen Attend Lansing Fete

By ELLI BLAUMAN MI 7-1465

If you happened to see a police-escorted caravan of new Chrysler automobiles heading toward Lansing last Monday evening, did you also happen to spot two of your neighbors in the group?

Mrs. Allen S. Wisely of Eastlady Drive and Mrs. Alecy Lawson of Kirkshire were among the 95 members of the Business and Professional Women's Club in this area who attended a dinner at the Civic Center honoring women in government.

One thousand business and professional women from all over the state met for a 7 p.m. dinner in the state capital, and heard Kathryn Pedin, the past national president, speak.

MRS. LAWSON, who is a past charter president of the Birmingham club, returned to Lansing the following morning to attend the regular monthly meeting of the Michigan Citizens Highway Safety Committee.

She represents not only the Business and Professional Women's Club, but also the Southeastern Michigan Regional Traffic and Safety Committee.

The Citizens Committee works hand in hand with the State Safety Commission, headed by James Hare. Studying and working with traffic problems enable Mrs. Lawson's group to make recommendations to the state legislature, which are designed to cut traffic accidents, deaths, and injuries.

JOAN SONNEFELD, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Sonnefeld of Buckingham Road, was the maid of honor at the Oct. 5 wedding of Jennifer Roy and Hayes Smith, as well as hostess of a shower for the bride a week before the wedding.

Jennifer and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Roy lived on Buckingham for some time before moving to Bloomfield Hills last year.

Another Beverly resident had a part in the ceremony which took place at St. Hugo of the Hills. Heather Campbell, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Campbell, was the flower girl.

After an evening reception at Northwood Inn, the newlyweds' friends left for the traditional Niagara Falls honeymoon before returning to their new apartment near Pontiac.

A TALENTED young pianist from Beverly Hills appeared on television's Starlight Stairway last Sunday morning. Lou Ann Gauthier, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Gauthier, chose as her solo number "Four Elise," by Beethoven.

Lou Ann, a fifth grade student at Our Lady Queen of Martyrs School and the eldest of four children, has taken piano lessons since she was four years old.

The rehearsal and taping of the show took place the previous week and the entire Gauthier family went to the studio to cheer Lou Ann.

CONGRATULATIONS are in order when you see Mr. and Mrs. Walter McGuffin of Auburn Drive, their fourth child, Carolyn June, arrived Sept. 11, weighing in at six pounds, nine ounces.

Baby Carolyn is the recipient of much attention from Susan, 7, Roger, 5, and Lisa, 21 months.

The Harry D. Kirk family is expecting company from Weirtown, W. Va., this weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Kirk will be accompanied by another son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kirk, on the drive. A trip to Cranbrook and a good visit are planned for them when they arrive.

BEVERLY SCHOOL mothers and teachers will be getting acquainted at a series of grade level teas this month. They will be meeting, among others, Mrs. Kay Sherman, Miss Ann West, Miss Shirley Gentes, Miss Sue Curry, Mrs. Sue Mack, Mrs. Virginia Smith, Miss Shannon Salisbury, Miss Jane Cashin, Miss Eleanor Patrick, and Mrs. Martha Wetzel, who are new to the school this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sacotte have been seeing the West Coast 4-1100 for better results.

this week and last. When Mrs. Sacotte joined her husband at Los Angeles, it turned his business trip into a pleasure trip as well.

Driving along the Pacific Ocean, they stopped at Carmel on their way to San Francisco, and before flying home, gave Las Vegas a whirl.

NOVEMBER bride-to-be, Barbara Elizabeth Kittle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Kittle of Westlady Drive, was honored at a personal shower given by Mrs. Charles Deneel and Mrs. John Teasmer. Twenty guests attended the Wednesday afternoon luncheon.

Mrs. Deneel's Eastlady Drive home was decorated in yellow and blue, Barbie's favorite colors, for the occasion and she opened her gifts on an especially decorated bride's table. As favors, guests received demitasse cups filled with baby mums.

On Friday, Oct. 11, Barbara will attend another luncheon shower, this one given by Mrs. John Ballantyne and Mrs. Albert Thompson.

Her maid of honor, Miss Karen Paulin of Arlington Drive has planned a shower at Michigan State University, which Barbie's sorority sisters in Alpha Omicron Pi will attend.
