

Wing Lake Party-goers

Wing Lake Shores Branch, WNFGA, held a party celebrating its 10th anniversary Oct. 7 in the home of Mrs. Fred Keller of Wing Lake Road. All charter members were in-

NORTH ADAMS

Cards, Letters Requested For Bed-Ridden Girl, 12

By ELIZABETH YATES MI 6-1682

There's a young miss out North Adams way that could use a morale booster—in the way of cards and letters from area residents. This young miss is 12-year-old Bonnie McClary, daughter of the David McClarys of Masfield drive, who has spent the last two months in William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak. She has had a series of operations since her fall from a tree in August and still has a long way to go before she can join her classmates at East Hills Junior High. The hours are long and seem to be getting longer for this little gal who had hoped to go home soon after her last operation three weeks ago. Cards and letters just might put that twinkle back in her eyes.

THE ANNUAL Harlan Book Fair will take place Oct. 21-25. Books will be on display in the school library during school hours and before and after the October PTA meeting.

This will give parents an opportunity to buy or order for delivery books for children on their Christmas and birthday lists. This annual fund-raising event will benefit the school library. Chairman of the event is Mrs. Howard Spokes.

THE RANSOM Leeches of Juniper Court and a group of nine Birmingham - Bloomfield couples formed a motor caravan for the trip to the Michigan-Michigan State Game on Saturday.

After the game they returned to the Cranbrook home of the Richard Forbushes for a buffet dinner. In the group were the Murray Smiths, the Lewis Wrennas, the Dorne Dibbles, the Milton Kitchens, the Fred Harries, the John Whitakers, the Maurice Brackeburgs and the Edward Sniders of Cleveland, O.

Prior to the game the Leeches spent four days at a lumber convention in Chicago. During their stay they visited relatives, the Amasa Kennicotts.

THE JAMES Glasgows of Eastway Drive and the Robert Deoyes of N. Valley Chase were among those in an Adcraft Club group at the Michigan-Michigan State Game on Saturday. They were served lunch just outside the stadium before game time followed with a group dinner back in Detroit.

Another football enthusiast in the Glasgow household is daughter Bonnie. She held a pre-football supper at her home for friends before the Bloomfield Hills High School game in Clarendonville on Friday evening.

The same group of friends gave Bonnie a surprise 15th birthday party last week using her favorite colors — yellow and orange for decorations. The girls included Molly Hall, Sandra Crossette, Carol Colley, Sue Hubbard, Barbara Smith, Sheryl Smith, Chris Smith, Gale Grant and Karen Gunn.

THE WARREN Simons of Romney Road entertained at dinner parties the last two Saturday evenings.

The first was their fifth annual dinner of a suckling pig served complete with apple in mouth. The group invited this year were the Leland Moyans of Chestnut Hill Drive, the Ray Foxes of Oakhill Drive, the Vern Andrews of Theford Road, the Donald Hansens of Utica and the John Marshalls of Mount Clemens. An evening of bridge followed the dinner.

Mrs. Simons chose an Italian motif for her second dinner party. Red and white table cloths with candles in unique wine bottles adorned the tables. Their guests were Royal Oak residents, the Paul Smiths, the William Langs and the Marvin Mauldins.

THE DONALD Meads of Squirrel Road and their 11-year-old grandson, Donald Horne of Clawson, traveled to Burlington, Ont., to join in the celebration of the Canadian Thanksgiving Monday. During their three-day stay they were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carter, former Bloomfield Township residents, who moved to Canada in July. Carter was former district manager of Firestone and is now with Firestone of Canada.

AFTER ATTENDING the first performance in the Birmingham Town Hall series on Thursday, Mrs. Gilbert Hague of Westway Drive entertained a group of 12 area residents at luncheon and bridge.

Mrs. Robert Foster of N. Reading Road has invited the same group to her home for luncheon and bridge after the next Birmingham Town Hall lecture.

Leo LaFlour, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kirpluk, Mrs. Rudolph Viktoryn, Mrs. Jack Smith, Mrs. Gus Ofenstein and Mrs. Fred Greenleaf.

MRS. DAHL was guest of honor again Oct. 9 at a luncheon given by Mrs. Mackel for members of the bi-weekly pinocle club. Present were Mesdames Murray, Ball, Eder, Kirpluk, Viktoryn, Smith, Greenleaf, Ofenstein, Lester Johns, and Bernardine Phillips.

The group will get together again Wednesday at Mrs. Dahl's new home in Huntington Woods.

THE ADVENTUROUS Kooz-

kas of Westmor Road are off again Saturday on another treasure hunt, this time accompanied by their next-door neighbors, the Adam Boraakis.

On the annual week-end hunt held Sept. 28-29, the Koozaks and their friends, the Robert Thomases of Franklin, and the E. E. McGuires of Farmington, traveling together in one car, won second prize. Twenty-eight couples participated.

That hunt, starting at 7:30 in the morning from Royal Oak, led the party through Lake Orion, Bay City, Standish, Hingra Lake, Gaylord before Boyne Mountain was finally reached at 6:30 p.m.

OFF TO Ann Arbor Saturday are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Karpick of Kingmill Drive with Ann and Don to see the Michigan-Purdue game.

Mr. and Mrs. John Walters of Walnut Lake Road were in Exeter, N. H., Oct. 5 for the wedding of his nephew, Donald Wright Patterson, to Jane Eleanor Grisold. The Walters left Michigan Sept. 28 to tour Canada and Maine before attending the wedding. They visited Montreal, Ottawa, Quebec and Boothbay Harbor, Me., returning Oct. 8 by way of Niagara Falls.

PAMELA MAHLER of Woodwind Drive was one of the 400 conferees attending the second annual writers' conference at Oakland University Oct. 5. Pamela, daughter of the Robert Mahlers, is a senior at Marian High School.

Alexander Riker of Raven Road is teaching an evening class in investment principles at Oakland University.

Mrs. Dale Nof of Quarton Road has been elected treasurer of the women golfers league of Pine Lake Country Club for the 1964 season.

FAMILIES FROM Clawson and Southfield are new residents of the township.

The Louis Vogts moved from Clawson to 4667 Quarton Road on Sept. 6. They have five children, Katherine, 11, Beth Ann, 9, John, 8, Michael, 3, and Chris, 1 1/2. Mr. and Mrs. John Ackerman are in the former McLoughlin residence at 6145 Idlewyle Road. They moved from Southfield last week and have three children, Janet, 7, David, 3, and Lisa, 1.
