PLANS TO REDECORATE ROOM

Homemaking Classes Draw Barnum Students' Attention

By JEAN GIBNEY
Special Writer

Two new teachers in the Homemaking Department are proving the exciting possibilities of their subject. These two teachers, Mrs. Crew and Mrs. Maynard, have planned many lively and new activities for girls in their classes.

The first thing the teachers did was to order new books for the library and classroom. These books cover such topics as flower arranging, nursing and the planning of meals.

Next they made plans to redecorate the homemaking room. As part of their unit the ninth grade girls are going to reupholster classroom chairs in a bright, modern turquoise shade to match the tile sinks.

In the food department the seventh graders are learning how to plan, prepare and serve nourishing and attractive meals. The eighth and ninth grades are learning how to prepare complete dinners and how to entertain in a gracious manner.

Stimulating plans for the future include visits to a fashion show, dining out, a tour of nursery schools and guest speakers to talk to the girls on current study topics.

JIM RICHARDSON interviewed Mr. Bird, teacher in charge of the President's Club, on the subject of the Torch Drive. He reports this busy group is holding a ticket sale for four prizes. The tickets are selling well in homes, and students like the idea.

Several record albums and movie passes will be given away. Students who do not believe in luck may increase their chances by buying more than one ticket.

A variety show directed by Mr. Staron and Mr. Ish will be presented in the school gym Oct. 29. The all school assembly will be held at 8:10 a.m. and all parents are welcome.

The acts will include folk singing, rock and roll, ballet, instrument playing, dancing and a pantomime. Mr. Staron would like to emphasize that the show will be a polished production. Students hope this assembly will become an annual tradition.

THE NINTH Grade Junior Players will present a three act comedy, "The Curious Savage," written by John Patrick. Mr. Staron will direct the performance to be held at the end of November.

The cast includes J. Ott, B. White, P. Schwimmer, N. Talburt, M. Boyd, P. Riley, A. Burleigh, C. Fratt, C. Dickinson, E. Bishop and S. Weller.

Today the Barnum Press Club toured The Birmingham Eccentric. Arrangements had been made beforehand with Mr. Weaver of The Eccentric staff.

The members of the club attending with their sponsor Mrs. Freiwald, were B. Borthwick, L. Buch anan, A. Burleigh, J. Chamberlain, R. Collins, J. Dize, J. Gibney, P. Howes, J. Richardson and M. Stanton.

THE BARNUM Ski Club will hold its first meeting on Nov. 19 for the eighth graders. There will be a fashion show Nov. 8 featuring ski fashions and equipment.

The club plans trips to Caberface in Cadillac, Mich., for each of the three grades later in the year. Plans also include a Ski Club Dance which will be announced at a later date.

IT'S SAFEST

You never need to worry about family security when you choose modern oil heat. There are no dangerous leaks to be wary of—since fuel oil is non-explosive. It burns only when properly atomized and mixed with air inside your furnace. It is so safe, you can put out a lighted match by dipping it in oil. There's never any concern either about distant pipe line accidents cutting off your fuel supply in cold weather. Your own oil . . . in your tank . . . when you need it . . . guarantees comfort and security of all.

SAFE—CLEAN—DEPENDABLE
