South Berkshire Women Plan Halloween Treat

By ELLI BLAUMAN,
MI 7-1465

Knowing that everyone loves a parade, the South Berkshire Women's Association has planned another Halloween treat on Saturday, Oct. 26. About 60 costumed youngsters will march behind the Detroit Edison calliope which will lead them back to the Southhome Drive home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richards. The children, whose mothers are Association members, will be treated to cookies and cocoa and their mothers to coffee by Mr. and Mrs. Richards.

MRS. MARTIN Radju is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Nead of Leomere Drive, and plans to be here six months before returning to her Warsaw, Poland home. She was the guest of honor at a luncheon given recently by Mrs. Leonard Pischke of Woodhaven Lane. Mrs. Radju left this country as a child and is enjoying her first visit here in 42 years.

Also visiting from out of town last week was Mrs. Charles Shaw of Tucson, Arizona, who was the guest of his parents Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Shaw of Southview Drive.

A TUESDAY afternoon bridge luncheon was held at the Nottingham Drive home of Mrs. Donald Malloure. The neighborhood group which meets once a month includes Mrs. Dick Rex, Mrs. Robert Near, Mrs. Frank Klotz, Mrs. Robert Wieland, Mrs. Jack Stoffen, Mrs. Tom Phillips, and Mrs. John Ferentz as regular members.

The Michigan chapter of the College of New Rochelle Alumni has many members in this area. Among those who will hear Mrs. Frank Swartzout of Arlington Drive speak on Saturday, Nov. 9 are Mrs. William Dempsey, Mrs. John Savin, Mrs. Edward Barney, Mrs. John Fitzgerald, Mrs. William Riley, Mrs. William Edwards, Mrs. Paul Shine and Mrs. James Courtney.

The meeting will be held at the Harper Woods home of Miss Elinor Devaney, and Mrs. Swartzout's topic will be "The Social and Moral Aspects of Interracial Relations."

THE VALLEY Woods branch of the WNFCA had an October luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. Emil Schanlec of Bellevue Trail, who was assisted by Mrs. Richard Huff, Mrs. Robert Gibson, and Mrs. Fred Westbury. Mrs. Robert Foley created the flower arrangement for the day.

Mrs. Darrell Middlewood, Superintendent of the Birmingham Park & Forestry Dept., spoke to the group on landscaping improvements, and plans were made for future workshops. Members are looking forward to the Nov. 11 business meeting and luncheon, which will include a workshop on creative artistry in wreath making.

NEIGHBORS ARE saying goodbye to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Elks Club this Saturday, and they will be leaving Beverly Hills in the near future. The Pearsons, originally from England plan to travel to California and back to England before relocating.

Members of the Nottingham Forest Association have been busy planning their second dinner in four months. This one will be held at the Pontiac Elks Club this Saturday, and since Halloween is so soon, some of the 25 couples expected to attend will come in costume.

Mrs. Wilson Is Honored

A tea honoring Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, who celebrated her eightieth birthday Saturday, was given by the Village Women's Club for its membership Friday. Over 1200 invitations were mailed by general chairman Mrs. C. Theron Van Dusen and her three chairmen of hostesses: Mrs. Frank R. Chapman, Mrs. G. J. Graham and Mrs. W. Ogden Vogt.

The party was held in the dining room of the club where tables covered with pale green cloths were arranged in a T-shape. At the juncture of the T there was a gay floral arrangement in autumn hues done by Mrs. Lewis C. Dibble and Mrs. Seth B. Slawson. Tiny tea sandwiches and petit fours adorned the table, some holding the initials of the honoree, M or W, others decorated with an 80 or small flower buds.

Mrs. W. Sydney Gilbreath, Jr., and Mrs. Frederick W. Sanders were tea chairmen with Mrs. Harold F. Klein and Mrs. Alfred J. LaBelle in charge of the invitations. Among those pouring were Mrs. Frederick E. Booth, Mrs. Warren Booth, Mrs. Harvey Kreage, Jr., Mrs. Roger M. Kyes, Mrs. Brooks Marshall, Mrs. H. Gray Muzzy and Mrs. Angley E. Smart.

IN MID-AFTERNOON, Mrs. Harvey Kreage, Jr., presented a gift from the membership to Mrs. Wilson, following which the first slice was cut from the birthday cake and all present sang happy birthday, accompanied by Mrs. Teruko Yamasaki on the piano.

The present was a little gold book charm inscribed with a W in scroll on its cover, a tintype of the doorway to the clubhouse on the page of the book, and finally the date of this eightieth birthday monogrammed on the back. The charm is a tribute to Mrs. Wilson for the great contribution she has made as member and now president of the Village Women's Association.

Hostesses greeting the guests included Mrs. John K. Bagby, Mrs. W. Kent Barclay, Mrs. Morgan D. Douglas, Jr., Mrs. Robert A. Green, Mrs. Dale O. Miller, Jr., Mrs. Richard C. Smith, Mrs. Robert H. Taylor, Mrs. Ramon A. Von Dreible and Mrs. David Williams.

Birmingham-Bloomfield donned its fanciest Saturday night (full-length gowns stole the show sartorially) to attend the fabulous Cinderella Ball traditionally given in the Grand Ballroom of the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel. Cocktails, dinner and dancing, to the strains of Lester Lanin's music, were the order of the evening, which netted the TB and Health Society $20,000.

Local Women Gardeners Put Show on the Road

Mrs. Claude A. Welles, Jr., general chairman of this year's Christmas show of the Birmingham Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association, entertained her committee in her home Tuesday morning.

This meeting was to finalize plans for the twenty-sixth Christmas show titled "Christmas in Remembering," which will be held in the Community House Dec. 4 and 5. It is traditionally held two consecutive days to accommodate the many who attend.

Mrs. J. P. McConkie and Mrs. P. N. Askounes, schedule chairmen along with Mrs. Welles, reviewed the schedule and program with various members of the committees. Mrs. Clifford Ross is in charge of the staging of the show.

ONE OF THE focal points of the event is the stage in the auditorium, which will be decorated by Mrs. Julian L. Galley. Others invited to decorate the Community House are Mrs. William Beatty, who will do the front doors; Mrs. William McCullum, the front window; Mrs. George Dixon and Mrs. John Lowry, mantels in the Ruth Shain room and the auditorium. Mrs. Nickel will make the centerpiece for the punch table.

Alums Gather To Celebrate

Mrs. Anthony Menkel, area chairman of the Newtown Emma Willard Day celebration, greeted guests Wednesday at a luncheon at the BAC while, simultaneously, 50 similar celebrations were being observed across the United States.

Emma Willard Day is a new concept among secondary independent schools—a day set apart for alumnae and parents all over the country to meet and honor the founder of the school. It is also a time for renewing contacts among alumnae groups and to reacquaint them with the school's current program.

AMONG THOSE attending the Birmingham luncheon were Mrs. Webster Buell, Mrs. W. Thompson Tamba, Mrs. Payton Cramer, Mrs. Robert Larsen, Mrs. Thomas C. Yarnall and Mrs. Marcus Cunningham.

Others were Mrs. Joel Bremer, Mrs. Stanley Tucker, Mrs. George Schenn, Mrs. William Farquhar, Mrs. Frank E. Fitzsimons and Mrs. William Evans.

Highlanders Plan First Fall Dance

Bloomfield Open Hunt Club will be the setting Saturday night of the first dance of the season of the Highlanders Dance Club. Johnny Titus and his orchestra will provide the music.

Members are getting together for cocktail parties before going on to the dance. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Capps of Worcester Road (she's chairman of the group) are giving one party. Other hosts are the Dwan Ziegler of Stoddard Road, the John Gouldens of Covington Road and the William Pauls of Thorncrest Drive.

THE HIGHLANDERS, formed in 1960, has a membership of 75 couples many from Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills, with a sprinkling of couples from Detroit.

It is a purely social club whose members enjoy three or four gala dances a year held at various local country clubs.

Co-chairman with Mrs. Capps is Mrs. Ziegler. Mrs. Goulden is secretary and Mrs. Robert Winter of Pine Tree Trail, Bloomfield Hills, is treasurer. Mrs. George Popovich of Crabtree Road is in charge of decorations for Saturday's dance.

It's All Legal

At a cocktail party Saturday in their home on Bingham Road, Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laszlo Bodor announced the engagement of their daughter, Lisa, to Nicholas Goodenough Spicer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William John Spicer of Farmington Road.

Lisa received her B.A. in education from the University of Chicago last June and is now teaching at the Riverside School in Monroe. At the university she was a member of Eosteric Club, and for three years did volunteer nursing at Bobs Roberts Children's Clinic at Billings Hospital.

Nick received his B.A. from Bowdoin College and took his law degree from the University of Michigan last June. He is a member of Alpha Delta Phi and served for a year as its president. He is now associated with the law firm of Emery, Parsons, Bahr, Tennent and Hogan of Birmingham and Detroit. He is also a member of Phi Delta Phi.

Lisa is the granddaughter of Mrs. Monica Weadock Porter. Her paternal grandparents were the late Baron and Baroness Eugén Bodor of Sebés, Transylvania, a province of old Austria-Hungary. Two of her aunts, Mrs. Artur Mai and Miss Matilde Bodor are still living in Budapest.

Nick is the grandson of Mrs. Lumen Webster Goodenough of Farmington and the late Mr. Goodenough. He is also the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Spicer. This engagement links four Detroit legal families, as Lisa is the great-granddaughter of Thomas A. E. Weadock, a United States Congressman in the Cleveland area and later a justice of the Michigan Supreme Court, and the great-granddaughter of George Flagg Porter, one of the founders of the law firm Joy and Porter, which was well-known in Detroit in the 1830's, 40's and 50's. Nick is the grandson of Lumen Webster Goodenough who was an outstanding Detroit attorney for many years, and Charles P. Spicer, founder and one time vice president of the Detroit Trust Co.

The couple plans a June wedding.

Comes Home for Debut

If there's one place a performer doesn't need a professional publicity agent, it's when he returns to his own hometown. He—or she, as it turns out to be in this case—is heralded by family, friends and well-wishers in a manner that would set the late Steve Hannigan smack on his promotional ear!

Birmingham-Bloomfield is thrilled with the arrival here in another 10 days of pianist Carol Rosenberger, daughter of the M. S. Rosenbergers of Bloomfield Village, who will make her debut Friday, Nov. 1, at 8:30 p.m. in the Lecture Hall of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Against All Odds

For those close to Carol, who watched her grow up from a little girl, through graduation from Kingswood and Carnegie Institute and then on to study in Europe, her current performance holds a great deal of poignancy. For here is a child who not only battled the ardors of achieving a dedicated goal, but who (and she never mentions this herself) also battled, and subdura, a bout with polio.

Expected Home

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fenske of Brown St., Birmingham, will return Sunday after an 11-country tour of the Continent. They flew to Europe Oct. 7.
