By ELEANOR NELSEN
MI 7-0056

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! The Youth's Activities Group of Westchester Village, under the leadership of Tommy Shannon of 2726 Heathfield, is asking for the cooperation and generosity of the youngsters in their area.

After the annual Halloween Trick or Treat night has taken place, the children are being asked to bring their surplus of candies and apples, to the Westchester Elementary School between the dates of Friday, Nov. 1 and Friday, Nov. 8 in order to share their "goodies" with the less privileged "olders." These donations will be distributed to Pontiac State Hospital, the Oakland County Infirmary and to the Oakland County Children's Center.

WHEN The Bloomfield Farms branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Club meets on Monday, they will hold their annual meeting with the Brookfield Highlands Garden Club.

The joint meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Omar Bowls of Turner Road and will begin at 12:30 p.m. The program will feature Mrs. Alice Lawson who will demonstrate table flower arrangements. The Bloomfield Farms branch is responsible for the four new flowering crab trees that now appear in the courtyard of Meadowlake School.

ATTENDING The Navy League Luncheon held on Thursday, Oct. 17 at the Sheraton-Cadillac was the past president of the league, Mrs. John LaVukas of S. Williamsbury and Mrs. James Hannon of Yarmouth Road. A fashion show presented by Irene's featuring knit dresses was a part of the program. Comdr. James Hannon of the U. S. Naval Reserve gave a talk on the "Sea Cadets."

MR. AND MRS. James McClune of S. Williamsbury returned home Oct. 13 after a leisurely trip through the New England States. They formed their vacation "The Call of the East" inasmuch as this was their fifth trip through the territory which they feel the need for about every third year.

Starting out through Canada, they visited the new Locks of the St. Lawrence River and then traveled through the Green Mountains of Vermont and the White Mountains of New Hampshire. Several years ago they were the first guests to register at a newly opened motel in Gloucester, Me., and now when they travel east they always make it a point to stop at the same motel where they are royally welcomed.

The two sisters who began it claim the McClunes were their "first good luck" visitors. Staying there for a four-day period they found time to swim and golf.

THE ENTIRE cast of the Village Players' "Fellow Talk," their spouses and friends, celebrated at a private midnight buffet supper which was held at Hunters Whip on Franklin Road Oct. 19.

The Francis Matouseks' of Middlebury Lane had his house guests the week end of Oct. 19, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Adams from Lakewood, O.

The Adams will be celebrating their first wedding anniversary here and will be guests at the Hunters Whip party at the Village Players.

MR. AND MRS. Elmer Bush of S. Glengarry Road returned home Oct. 10 after spending several days at the Caberfae Lodge in Caberfae, Mich. where Mr. Bush was attending the convention of the Pioneers of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

He is president of the Cass Council of the Michigan Pioneers. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Agar of S. Cranbrook Cross were also at the convention. Agar is an officer of the Wolverine Chapter.

NO SOONER had Mrs. Bush returned from the convention when she planned a "joint" birthday party for her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Morgan, formerly of St. Louis, Mo., who became residents of Birmingham a short time ago. Not stopping at this point, the Bushes are now traveling through the Smoky Mountains for a week. While in the area they will visit relatives in Knoxville, Tenn.

Visitor from Germany Impressed by Autumn

NITA HARD

A singularly lovely fall in Franklin will enhance the memories Mrs. Eugene Kelly carried back to Germany by her last week.

Here for several weeks, the former Franklinite made the most of solo journey to see friends. Although she divided her time between trips to Evanston, Ill., to see her parents and Houghton in the Upper Peninsula to see mining student son Kirk, Mrs. Kelly made her headquarters at the D. P. Dozier, Jr., home on Willowgreen. Small informal luncheons and dinner parties enabled her to pick up the strong thread of affection characteristic of the Kellys' residency here for many years.

JUST BACK from a holiday in Germany are Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Webb of River Road. Among the treasured anecdotes from this trip is the harrowing incident of getting off the subway at the wrong stop and finding themselves confronted by grim-faced East German guards in Friedericksburg.

"We probably could have bluffed our way with visas and papers, but club (or was it 30'ers) when a surprise birthday party was held in his honor on Oct. 12 by a group of "square dancers" of which the Busches are members.

The party was held in the Busch home and of course the evening was spent square dancing. Busch received many gifts.

Couples who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Busch Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Edward Busch, Mr. and Mrs. John Carbonare, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schwartz and Mr. Mr. and Mrs. David Swartz.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bohr, Mr. and Mrs. Larry O'Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. Max Zernac, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Busch, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stottlemeyer.

ONE OF The "kick-off" coffeees for volunteers for the Turb Drive was held at the home of Mrs. Elmer Bush of S. Glengarry on Oct. 4. Women invited to attend were Mrs. Jack Hurd, Mrs. Joseph Praher, Mrs. James Dowdell, Mrs. Wilfred Bauknight, Mrs. Peter Bohatuk, Mrs. Everett Farnsworth and Mrs. Ernest Harrison.

Another kick-off date will be Nov. 11, which falls on a Monday. That is the day the Girl Scouts of America will be canvassing the area with their calendar. Troop 666 of Westchester will be among those authorized to approach their friends and neighbors.

these soldiers were pretty formidable and not much help," says Webb.

FIRST-TIME grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Roe of 13 Mile are entitled to equal space to announce the arrival of their newest issue, Christopher Roe, born Oct. 4 at Norfolk where the junior Marshall Roes are stationed. STONEOAKS residents, at least 28 of the 32 families in the neighborhood, start another season of congenial sociability with a card party Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barnes on N. Greenbriar.

The association, formed in the early days of the subdivision to maintain deed standards, now serves as a nucleus for gay times

AFTER A summer of entertaining visitors in their new home on Seenic, the Hugh Ingalls are taking advantage of nice weekends to make short trips. They recently spent several days in Columbus, O., with former friends and neighbors.

A nocturnal romp was short but satisfying for Moon-Glow, a pony mare, owned by the Calver Thomases of Franklin Road. While waiting for her young rider, Doug Thomas, Moon-Glow was permitted to graze, unbridled on the Robert Hampson lawn.

But a evidently farther lawns looked greener. In Doug's brief absence, Moon-Glow wandered happily from the spot and simply disappeared.

DISTRAUGHT, young Thomas tearfully returned home to report his loss and in the gloomy twilight a search proved fruitless. Calling the village police, the hunt was really on until a phone call from Arthur Kregger solved the problem.

Moon-Glow had simply wandered over several lots and was contentedly chomping apples when Kregger unexpectedly encountered her. It took a few more apples to detain her until her owners arrived. "You know, I think she really enjoyed all the attention she was getting," Thomas said. "She seemed very pleased with the whole experience."
