

Attend Tea for St. Joseph

Mrs. Russell Richardson (left) and Mrs. John DeLorean were among Birmingham-Bloomfield residents who attended an annual membership tea given last week by the Auxiliary of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. The drive for new members is motivated by the need for volunteers to help staff the gift shop and gift cart and to assist in the pediatrics department under the guidance of Sister Mary Reginald. The tea took place in the home of Joseph A. Braun of Bloomfield Hills, whose wife was a former president of the auxiliary.

munity, yet never neglecting her home and family to do so."

"Her home reflects an atmosphere of cheerful cooperation between parents and children yet each child receives individual attention and love."

"My mother has a part-time job which is helping toward our future education and to take us on vacations so we will learn more about our country and its history. Her job, however, does not prevent her from making our home warm and happy where we three children are proud to bring our friends."

Boating Freeways

Boating access to Michigan from seven other states is provided by the Great Lakes and their connecting waters, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Lakes Erie, St. Clair, Huron, Michigan and Superior, in addition to the Detroit, St. Clair and St. Mary's rivers—all bordering Michigan—constitute the world's greatest inland waterway.

Simply spin your dial to Midwest 1-1100 and a professionally-trained advisor will help you prepare your message.

SO THE LETTERS read, from New York to California, simple friendly letters about women who deserved the tribute of Suburban Homemaker of the Year. A new award has been added this year. To the writer of the letter nominating the woman who is selected as National Suburban Homemaker of the Year will go a check for $500 from the Suburban Press Foundation.

Isn't right now a good time for you to sit down and write that letter about the woman who gets your vote as our community's outstanding homemaker?
