

Nancy Jean Beier Speaks Nuptial Vows

Wearing a gown of pearl lustered satin, Nancy Jean Beier walked up the aisle of the First Presbyterian Church Saturday to become the bride of Robert Wendell Cook. She is the daughter of Mrs. Carl Beier of Bloomfield Village, and her husband's parents are the Wendell J. Cooks of Flint.

The contoured bodice of the bridal gown, styled with a crescent decollete and tapered mid-length sleeves, was frosted with embroidered Alençon lace etching its rose-patterned motif over the shoulder line and defining the slender midriff.

The Alençon continued in a vertical garland to the hem of the Watteau pleated skirt, which belled from a back waistline bow-tied into an Empire train. A court cap of blending satin and lace medallions insured a bouffant veil of silk illusion, and the bridal bouquet combined stephanotis and gardenias.

DR. W. GLEN Harris officiated at the 8 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a reception at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Barbara Jane Beier was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids included Mrs. Stanley Farrington of Detroit; Mrs. Elliott Trumbull of Royal Oak; Mrs. Dale Neuhaus of Burlington, Ia., sister of the bridegroom, and Peggy Beier, another sister of the bride.

They were all dressed in gold faille, wore pillboxes of autumn-brown and gold mums in their hair and carried the same flowers interwoven with ivory.

Dale Neuhaus was the best man, and seating the guests were William Haney and Kent Utter of Flint; Gerald Anthony of Wayne and R. J. Pardo of Windsor.

Following a motor trip through the East, the couple will be at home in Royal Oak.
