

Variety Show Scheduled at Seaholm High

By TRISH VARGA
Special Writer

Enthusiastic rehearsals have insured the presentation of Seaholm's 1963 all-school variety show, "Fanta's-Poppin'", on Nov. 21 and 22. Under the direction of Mr. Richard Bagz, the members of 28 acts are preparing for the coming show.

This year's production promises such things as folk singing, a boys' ballet, original songs, modern dancing and various singing groups. Tickets are available from SIS seniors. Assisting Mr. Bagz in the organization and directing are Bert Jackman, Greg Akin, Kathy Burqum, Cary Morton, Sue Wegner and Ann Russell.

A Youth for Understanding information night was held Nov. 4 for interested Seaholmites and their parents. Each summer the YFU program sends high school students to spend a two-month summer with a family in Ireland, Placements are made in Ireland, England, Germany, France, Spain, Holland, Denmark, Finland, Austria and Switzerland.

LAST SUMMER Seaholm sent sixteen students abroad and now is host to three foreign students on YFU. During the meeting the foreign students spoke of their impressions of America. The returnees gave their opinions on their summer experiences and showed slides of their European homes.

Seaholm recognized Education Week, Nov. 11 to 15, by holding its annual parent-teacher open house Nov. 12.

After a short meeting in the gym, parents went to their son's or daughter's classroom. From there they followed their child's schedule, remaining in each class for about fifteen minutes.

ALSO during Education Week, a tour of Seaholm will be conducted today between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. The tour is to acquaint parents of high school students and other Birmingham residents with the building.

Joel Mason, head basketball coach at Wayne State University, played professional football for the Chicago Cardinals in 1939 and 1940 and the Green Bay Packers from 1940 to 1945.

Marian Human Relations Club Announces Future Activities

By KATHLEEN DARGA
Special Writer

The Human Relations Club, a student organization affiliated with the Junior Round Table of the National Council of Christians and Jews, has announced plans for future activities.

A November visit to the Shaare-Zedek synagogue, a panel given by members of the Archbishop's Committee on Human Relations and a number of workshops and field trips are now in the planning stage. The club will again sponsor the Brotherhood speech, poster and press contests connected with the Junior Round Table, and under the direction of Mrs. Sarah Colvin.

Past activities of the Marian group have included a program given by Marian students who traveled or studied abroad this summer.

SPEAKERS were Ellen Cantrell, an exchange student who studied in Mexico; Margaret Conklin, who visited Japan and Maureen Conlan, who traveled in Europe.

Officers of the Marian Human Relations club are Catherine Anbrosiano, president; Donna Sabo, vice president; and Anne Heller, secretary-treasurer. Faculty moderators are Sister M. Chrysta, and Sister Marsha Marie.

THE FRESHMAN Global History course, under Sister Jerome Marie, has prepared a bulletin board display of visual aids on the subject of the early areas of civilization. Contributors included Aimee Hess, Constantine Lari, Nerette Pavia, Maureen Phillips and Mary Beth Snyder.

Service Club officers have been elected for the current year. They include Karen Tagley, president; Patricia Kiel, vice president; Diane Lepo, secretary; and Cathy Monge, treasurer.

Club members serve in the cafeteria and snack bar, as well as in the positions of hall moderators and "recipients." The faculty moderator is Sister Mary Ambrose, the assistant principal.

The University of Michigan has announced that Jennifer Jane Sison, a Marian graduate of 1963 was admitted to the highly selective Honors Council. Jennifer is one of the 388 freshmen, which make up 17% of the class in the college of Literature, Science and the Arts chosen for this honor.

SELECTIONS were based on high school records, scholastic aptitude, achievement scores and academic promise. Jennifer will have the opportunity to participate in several unique academic opportunities offered by the U. of M. to its honors group.

EXAMINE STANDARDS

Brother Rice Faculty Begins Accreditation

By JOHN MCGUCKIN
Special Writer

Brother Rice High School now has within its walls for the first time a full enrollment. The development and improvement of the high school over the last three years has culminated in the 1963-64 school term. This year has all-ready brought Brother Rice its first senior class and printed newspaper. In the future are the first commencement in the school's history and the "Quest," the BRHS yearbook.

All this year's activity is not, however, confined to the Brother Rice student body. The faculty of the school has undertaken research work which is the first step towards Brother Rice's accreditation. This is by far the most important academic event of the year.

Basically, accreditation is the process by which the teaching standards of a high school are examined by college officials. The purpose of this examination is to see if the school measures up to set academic standards.

IN ALL, the accreditation of Brother Rice will take approximately five months. The greater part of this period will be taken up by the formation and work of various faculty committees. These committees are composed of three or four teachers and will deal with each of the major academic departments of the high school. Special reports will be prepared by each committee. Each report will contain the various teaching methods and text books used in the course and a self-evaluation of the teachers.

Following the completion of the faculty reports, accreditation officials will pay a visit to Brother Rice to see how individual courses are run. Heading the committee working on the English department is Brother J. B. Nash. Brother J. F. McGowan and Brother E. N. Morris are chairing the language and sciences committees. Other faculty chairmen include Brother F. C. Power, mathematics, and Brother J. F. Taaffe, history.

Not all the debating and speech-making at this weekend's Model United Nations will be by the students of Marian High School. Twenty-one Brother Rice seniors have accepted Marian's invitation to take part in the U. N. Although outnumbered by more than six to one, the members of the BRHS "bloc" are prepared to participate in the caucuses, committee meetings and general assemblies to be held this Saturday and Sunday.

Brother Rice delegates have either submitted or assigned proposals on each of the three questions under discussion: the admission of Red China, racial segregation in the Union of South Africa and the Palestine refugee problem.

Jim Vannier, chairman, Mark Tangay and Mike Whiting compose the delegation of the Dominican Republic at the Model U.N. Other delegations are those of Guinea and Saudi Arabia. Bob Stark, chairman, George O'Brien and Dick Morris represent the Arab nation; Doug Heiler, chairman, Kevin Wolcott and Terry Carroll, the African country of Guinea.

Village Woman's Club Gives $500

The Village Woman's Club of Bloomfield Hills made a contribution to the Scholarship Fund for Gifted Children of the City and Country School of Bloomfield Hills. Mrs. Howard J. Liverance, contributions chairman of the Village Woman's Club, presented George A. Roeper, Headmaster, with a check for $500.00.

Roeper has expressed his appreciation for the recognition the Village Woman's Club has given to the importance of helping a young girl who has most unusual talents and abilities and for whom the contribution is earmarked.

Dave Emery was named most valuable player of the Lancers' 1963 undefeated football team at the Bloomfield Hills fall Sports Banquet, Wednesday.

Bloomfield Hills High School, East Hills Junior High and Bloomfield Hills Junior High joined together at the dinner to honor their football and soccer teams and cheerleaders along with their parents. Detroit Lions star Yale Lary was the featured speaker.

Jeff Nebel received the most improved player award for the Lancer football team. Bob Calhoun was team captain. John Mersky was captain of the soccer team which had a 6-1-1 record for the season. Flags were awarded to Football Coach Stewart Dell and Soccer Coach Robert Hoxie.

EIGHTH and ninth graders turned out Friday night for the first meeting of the Teen Club, a new activity sponsored by the Bloomfield Hills Recreation department.

The Club will meet at the school every other Friday night for 10 weeks and will offer dancing and a sports program for Junior High students.

Diane Lamb and Tom Kurma are co-presidents and Miss Janice Howarth and Mr. Hoxie are faculty sponsors.

Barnum Art Teaches Design and Technique

By JEAN GIBNEY
Special Writer

This year the Barnum art department is teaching basic design and technique. During American Education Week, the students will have an opportunity to put these skills into practice by making posters to direct everyone's attention to the importance of education.

All two-dimensional work is done in room 5 and all three-dimensional work is done in room nine, with the students splitting their time equally between the two rooms. A visit to the two rooms reveals that students are working on two-dimensional styrofoam constructions, paper-mache dishes, linoleum block prints, clay sculpture and toothpick sculpture.

Chris Tassio and Jim O'Neill are arranging the display case near the administrative offices on the first floor. They will display samples of students' ceramic work.

BARNUM finished its 1963 football season with a 26-6 victory over Groves. Touchdowns came on runs by Sparky Renault and Sam Henry, and on a pass to Keith Kraetzer.

The first touchdown was the pass which went for 40 yards in the second quarter. The next two were scored by Henry on 35- and 40-yard runs. Quarterback Renault scored the final TD. The closing of the football season marked the beginning of the '63-'64 basketball season. Workouts began on Nov. 11.

Barnum Presidents Club reports that it collected $125 through the roomers for the United Foundation Drive. The club plans a dance and a bake sale in the near future.

Barnum Ski Club launched its season's activities by holding a fashion show after school Nov. 8. They featured practical ski fashions and equipment. Faculty members, Mr. Staron and Mr. Colbrook, moderated the event. The student models were Barb Hall, Claudia Horn, Judy Tower, Al Waters, Janet Mulholland, Jay McAuliffe, Sparky Renault and Jamie Pingle.

THE BARNUM Student Council, directed by Miss Ward, is making plans for the Thanksgiving assembly. Because of the changes in the marking of citizenship grades, the group is now revising their constitution. They plan to sponsor a Christmas dance in December. The money from this activity will be added to that which comes from their main source of

Cub Scouts To Pow-Wow In Southfield

The Detroit Area Council, largest single Boy Scout Council in the nation with nearly 87,000 registered Scouts and leaders, held three Cub Scout Pow-Wow training sessions Saturday for the men and women giving leadership to its Cub Scout program.

The course at Southfield High School, 24675 Lahser Road, Southfield, accommodated leaders in the northwestern area and was under the chairmanship of George Biesel of Detroit.

Annual affairs, the Pow-Wow courses are perhaps the most popular training events conducted by the Scout Council in its "University of Scouting" training course program schedule.

revenue, the bookstore. This money will be used for such projects as landscaping the area around the new wing and improving the building by making the halls more attractive.

Barnum Intra-mural football ended Wednesday with a post-season game against the DeWitt All Stars. During the regular season each of the four teams played four games, with Team A coming out ahead with a perfect record. The 33 boys who participated feel rewarded with valuable experience. Twenty boys were selected for the All Star game against DeWitt.
