Wreath of Sorrow

Residents of Westchester Subdivision in Bloomfield Township chose this way to express grief over the loss of their leader. Wreaths, complemented by black bows, placed on both sides of the entrance, served as a poignant reminder of the sorrow felt after the death of President John F. Kennedy.

"Show Must Go On" For Some Showmen

By ETHEL SIMMONS
Arts Editor

Many week-end entertainments were canceled in Birmingham with the tragic news of the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, but in a few instances the show went on.

Herb Cohen of The Raven Gallery, 136 Brownell, said the Campus Singers, who had been appearing Friday through Sunday nights, performed last weekend.

"Many people had made reservations," said Cohen, "and there was no way of contacting them. But the Campus Singers came in the afternoon and put together a special program of folk music.

"The show was dedicated to President Kennedy, and they sang his favorites. They also sang 'The New Frontier,' which had been written by a famous folk singer especially for the President."

ACCORDING to Cohen, the Campus Singers only gave one performance Friday night instead of their usual four shows. A moment of silence to the President's memory also was observed.

There were only two shows Saturday and one Sunday due to a disheartened public.

Another show that was performed last week end was the Village Players' production of "Inherit the Wind," a dramatization of the famous Scopes' monkey trial and a defense for freedom of speech by criminal lawyer Clarence Darrow.

According to Mrs. Edwin S. Deer of Bonic Brier, Birmingham: "We went on with the show for Birmingham residents over the years have had six students graduate from Leader Dog.

Michigan has had over 500 students graduate with Leader Dog.

There were organizations called unions as far back as 1648. It was not until 1827, however, when the Mechanics' Union of Trade Associations was established, that a continuous association of unions for improving working conditions came into being.

two reasons. One, it was not profiting. Two, if it had been gay and funny, we would have called it off, but it is quite a serious play and in keeping."
