The home of the Vincent Sahli's of East Breckenridge was indeed a busy one over the Thanksgiving week end. Arrivals from all directions began on Wednesday.

Mrs. Sahli's mother, Mrs. Julia A. Shelley, came from Euclid, O., with Miss Mina Jean Voyles, who is a health educator at the Cleveland Health Center. A brother, Mr. Donald Shelley, flew in from Washington, D. C. where he is taking a post graduate course at the Catholic University of America.

HIS FIANCEE, Miss Margaret Gruza, came from Albion with her sister, Chris. The most exciting visitor arrived via the airlines at Metropolitan early Wednesday evening. She was Maria DeLoungas Gonzalez de Saiceda U., a 13-year-old young lady from Mexico City.

Maria, affectionately known as Angela, is an exchange student under the auspices of "Youth for Understanding," teen-age exchange program in cooperation with the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit. Angela will be with the Sahli's until sometime in January at which time she will return to her home to resume classes. The schools in Mexico City are now on vacation.

While with the Sahli's Angela will attend classes at the St. Regis school with Patricia Sahli who is in the eighth grade. Angela has a brother who is also spending the vacation time in another Bloomfield Hills home.

THANKSGIVING dinner was served with many dishes that were strange to Angela, the turkey being the only food with which she was familiar. With so many visitors in the Sahli home for the week end the family feels it will be several weeks before they really become acquainted with their exchange student guest, who at the moment is being shown many of the sights which Detroit and its surrounding countryside has to offer.

Angela will have many tales to relate to her four brothers and sisters when she returns home, but at the present time Patricia and Teresa Sahli are having a wonderful time with Angela.

MR. AND MRS. Philip Vandeveld of Westbourne Drive spent the Thanksgiving week end in the east, driving there with their three daughters, Cindy, Mary Ellen and Ann to visit with Vandeveld's mother in Scotus, New York and also Mrs. Vandeveld's mother, Mrs. Nina Pierleone in Rochester, New York.

The members of St. Agnes Guild will meet on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. James Gouzens, 11, on Ambury. Over dessert and coffee the women will prepare a Christmas box for a family they have adopted in Holy Trinity parish.

HOUSE GUESTS at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Whit Dashiell of S. Cranbrook Cross the weekend of Nov. 22, were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Pentec of Steubenville, O., who brought their son Tommy with them.

Purpose of the trip was to see the Michigan-Ohio football game, which was postponed so the time was spent sightseeing instead. Dinner at the Fox and Hounds highlighted Saturday.

WHEN MR. AND MRS. Frank Arnold of West Lincoln took to the road on Nov. 11 they did a great deal of traveling in two weeks. The trip which combined business with pleasure took them first to Toledo, O., then down to Muncie, Ind., over to Kentucky, swinging around to Cincinnati and Cleveland.

They returned home for a two-day stay before starting off again. First stop was in Ohio then on to New Jersey and New York. The return trip was made through Canada.

Two things which impressed Mrs. Arnold most were that all of their traveling was done via turbine jet except when they went to Waterbury, Conn., and when staying at either Holiday Inn or Howard Johnson motels most of the patrons seemed to be traveling business men. On one instance she was the only woman in the dining room.

EARLY Thanksgiving morning a bus appeared and parked in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bones' home on S. Cranbrook Cross. Shortly thereafter, a number of cars rolled up and children plus parents boarded the bus whose destination was downtown Detroit. These happy people were bent on viewing the J. L. Hudson Thanksgiving parade in person. Seems this is an annual project for the Bones family and a host of their friends. There were approximately 57 in the group this year.

MR. AND MRS. George Struthers, of 3877 Lincoln, left on Friday, Nov. 8, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Nezermann of Southfield to drive down to Pompano, Fla., where they stayed at the Sun Castle for a relaxing vacation.

Mr. Struthers caught his first dolphin while deep sea fishing of which Mrs. Struthers wanted no part. While in the south they visited friends Mr. and Mrs. William G. Murray in Ft. Lauderdale.

The Struthers flew home in time for Thanksgiving and to greet their daughter, Jane, who is a junior at Michigan State, and who is living in the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority house. Jane will be spending the summer term at the University of Mexico.

The Thomas Perkins home on Bassett Place was another scene of activity during the Thanksgiving holiday. Perkins' aunt, Miss Olive Perkins arrived from Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Mrs. Perkins' step-mother Mrs. Ralph Stratton came from Norwalk, O. She was accompanied by a niece of Mrs. Perkins, Miss Nancy Hawley, who is a freshman at Oberlin College. Traveling the shortest distance of the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Creasy and their son Brent who live on Pine Lake.

The social service group of Westchester with Mrs. Tommy Shannon as chairman of the youth activities wish to thank all the youngsters in and around the Westchester area who showed their generosity and willingness to share their good fortune when they brought over 100 pounds of Halloween candy to Westchester School for distribution to the less fortunate.

The goodies were taken to the Baptist Children's Home, the Evangelical Children's Home, the Evangelical Old Peoples' Home,
