LATHRUP-CRANBROOK VILLAGE

Beyers Return from Tour of Hawaii

GLORIA JESSUP
MA 6-3257

Lathrup Village residents Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Beyer of Lathrup Boulevard returned home recently from a one-month tour of our 50th state. The Beyers went by boat to Hawaii, and following their month tour of the four main islands, they flew back.

One of the memorable things that the Beyers will not soon forget were the two tidal wave scares which caused them to spend two nights in the mountains during their stay off the mainland.

Upon returning, Mrs. Beyer prepared for the Thanksgiving holiday with their children, Dorothy and Peter, who was on a vacation from his studies at Ferris State College.

IT MAY HAVE been postponed but all the old Ohio State rooters are very happy that the game was played.

Among those Michiganders with their hearts still in Ohio were several residents of Cranbrook Village.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ortega and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bilkie were cheering Ohio State on to victory as the group of six couples from the village huddled in the cold and snow to watch the Michigan-Ohio State tussle.

Staunch Michigan rooters Mr. and Mrs. John Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hennessey, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Morey and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Goatley kept cheering to the last.

When the game became part of the records the couples returned to the area for dinner and then adjourned to the Ortega home on Chelmsford Road for an after game party.

MR. AND MRS. A. J. Yambour are new residents at 29954 Chelmsford Road in Cranbrook Village. They moved into their new home Oct. 1 from Pleasant Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Yambour are former Detroiters, having both attended the University of Detroit. They spent several years in Cleveland before locating (permanently) in Cranbrook Village.

Mr. Yambour is sales manager for Indian Trail Foods. Jodiann, 8; Deibre, 5; and John, 2, round out the Yambour family. As a family, they enjoy swimming and skiing and even little John will put on his first skis this winter.

THE OPTIMIST Club of Southfield will meet tonight at 6:30 at Howard Johnson's Restaurant, 10 Mile and Northwestern. Following dinner there will be a general discussion concerning stocks and the stock market. Mr. George Lebiar of Goodbody & Co. will conduct the discussion and the question and answer period.

Plans are under way for the Christmas get-together of the Optimists and their wives. It will take place Saturday, Dec. 14 at the Kingsley Inn. Cocktails will be served beginning at 6:30, followed by dinner at 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Donley F. Campbell of Chapin Ave., Birmingham, announce the engagement of their daughter, Patsy Nell, to Frank Gerald Hardaway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hardaway of Balewood Drive, Southfield. Date of the wedding will be announced later.
