

Hills Senior Named Good Citizen Winner

By KAREN TRIMMER
Special Writer

Marguerite Hyde has been awarded the Good Citizen award from Bloomfield Hills High School by the Piety Hill Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

This award is based on dependability, service to the school and community, leadership and patriotism. The entire senior class nominated girls who demonstrated these qualities, then the faculty chose the girl who they felt most deserved the award from this group.

Marguerite has served as a class officer, an officer for two years in the Pep Club and a senior member of the 1963 Homecoming Club. She is presently valedictorian of her class.

featured. Carolyn Dameron and Jaqueline Harned also performed piano and organ duets.

The first section of the concert centered around light, gay music. More serious Christmas music and a selection composed by the late Dr. Maurice Garbath, organist and composer at Christ Church Cranbrook, were played in the second section.

Guest conductor, Dr. Walter Collins, of Oakland University, led the choir in selections from the "Messiah." Student chairman Mary Hunt and Polly Tompkins assisted Mr. Clarence Luchman, music teacher at BHHS, in organizing the concert.

Tuesday night was the BHHS band concert, directed by Mr. Wayne Titton. The band played "Gesu Bambino" and "The Mimes from the Nutcracker Suite" among others.

SPONSORS MRS. Helene Koenig and Miss Susan Boomer will lead the celebration tonight of "La Navidad" by the Spanish Club. Members will break a pinata or paper mache figure filled with candy, as the Spanish and Mexicans do. Skits written by the students will be presented after the potluck dinner.

The French Club of BHHS held its Christmas banquet on last Thursday. Over 100 adults and students attended the turkey and potluck dinner.

A potluck dinner was held Wednesday at Debby Rutzen's house by German students at BHHS. Don Cowles, personal friend of Gerard Teachman, who sponsors the German Club, and a folksinger who once entertained students at BHHS, led the entertainment program.

Air Force Gets New Area Officer

Douglas H. Booth of Birmingham, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the United States Air Force upon completion of the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC) program at Michigan State University here.

LT. Booth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Booth of 1101 Hillside, Birmingham, also received his B.A. degree at ceremonies marking the occasion. Upon completion of the supply officer course at Amarillo AFB, Tex., the lieutenant will be reassigned to Grand Forks AFB, N.D., for duty.

His wife, Judith, formerly resident of 32460 Evergreen, Birmingham.

B'field Country Day Has Vesper Service

By ANGELA KOUNTOUPES
Special Writer

Bloomfield Country Day School held its traditional Christmas vesper service on Sunday, at 4:30 p.m. A "musical play" was presented. This type of play originated in France and was introduced to England by the Normans in the early 12th century.

There are four cycles of miracle plays that are used today — the York, Chester, Coventry and Towneley or Woodcock. The girls decided to perform three plays from the Chester cycle because they appeal most to the modern taste, both in religious theme and language.

Mrs. Celia Turner directed the play and the cast included first shepherd, Dale Hower; second shepherd, Nora Koskinec; third shepherd, Jocelyn Woods; Trowle, Wendy Mitchell; Mary, Angela Kountoupes; Joseph, Bonnie Martin; first king, Margie Foy; second king, Alan Crum; third king, Ilene Saperston; speaking angel, Sherri Lightstone; other angels; Jill Floyd, Marilyn Finn, Therese Wiedebaum, Cindy Boughner, Heather Wild and Laurie Johnson; page, Maty Ellen Bergmoe.

THE RED CHOIR sang such songs as "O Holy Night," "Lo How A Rose Is Blooming," "Cradle Song," "Of the Blessed Virgin" and a Latin arrangement entitled "O Bone Jhu." Robin Turner sang "O Holy Night" with the choir joining in on the chorus.

Sandra MacPherson and Brooke Raymond sang a soprano duet; Karen Carlson and Dottie Wilson sang a second-soprano duet and Sue Judd and Pat Palmer sang an alto duet.

Bible passages were read by Marsha Kallah—Isaiah 11:1-10 and by Kathi LeMessurier—Luke 2:1-19. Donna Richardson read the prayer.

THE BLESSED joy of giving was shared by all at Bloomfield Country Day School when the girls sent out their third annual collection of gifts for the young patients.

Cranbrook, Kingswood Produce Play

By BOB LAKIN
Special Writer

Cranbrook's Ergasterion group, directed by Mr. Temple Licklider, in conjunction with Kingswood School, put on Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" on the nights of December 13 and 14. Approximately 800 attended the performances.

The male roles were played by Steve Senter, Bill Wood, Ted Baldwin, J. T. Kuhlman and Jim McQuaid, while Connie Greene, Carol Cole, Pat Pagan and Anne Clark played the female roles.

JIM LEWIS, a Cranbrook boarding senior, was recently appointed a Registrar Prefect in Page Hall. The vacancy was created when the Senior Prefect in Page, Larry Willey, announced that he would become a day boy after Christmas so that he could live with his parents who recently moved to Birmingham from Argentina.

Elmo Parsons was promoted to the Senior Prefect position and an interim election was held. None of the candidates received a majority vote so a re-election was necessary. Jim, who has been at Cranbrook since the seventh grade, is active in Cranbrook's newspaper, The Crane, is manager of the varsity basketball team and won his letter in soccer last fall.

at Hawthorn Center in Northville. The traditional Christmas party for the Bloomfield Country Day School faculty, students and friends will be held today—the last day of school before wintering. The program included a special holiday dinner, an exchange of gifts, singing of carols and a visit from Santa.

The traditional Holly Ball will be held at Bloomfield Country Day School on Friday. Music will be provided by the Marauders.

East Hills Celebrates Yule Season

By LINDA CLARK
Special Writer

The Library and Audio-Visual staff of East Hills have already entered into the festivities of the holiday season. When the study carrel area, visitors will immediately notice that the door leading into the library does not resemble a door any longer. Instead, it is "done up" in gay Christmas wrapping, and now looks like a huge package, tied up in red ribbon and a huge red bow.

Inside the library, visitors are met by silvery icicles, tall candles, and two very large candy canes (the supporting pillars of the library). In the glass show-case is a miniature English village, complete with evergreens and snow! Contained in the same show-case is a sign reading, "Why give her Arpege," when Paperbacks are cheaper," which is surrounded by gaily wrapped paperbacks now on sale.

THE ART CLASSES have also been busily preparing for the coming holiday season. The eighth grade have created Christmas murals for the school hallway. This is achieved by taping cellophane or foil, inside the cut-out sections of heavy black paper.

Other art classes have also been preparing for the gift-giving season, by finishing projects that soon will be gifts.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL principals from several Michigan communities paid a one day visit to East Hills to evaluate the school, the courses offered and the classes. They talked to the teachers and students, and sat in on class sessions.

On Dec. 11, students saw a movie on cancer. The speaker was Dr. Henderson. The movie showed an operation on a man who had developed lung cancer from smoking. He had to have the left lung removed. The film stressed that nearly 20,000 people die each year from lung cancer. There were many more important facts stressed also.

Dear Santa:
My brother, sister and I moved to Worthington, Ohio on Nov. 1, and we want to make sure that you know.

We have been very good to each other this year, and hope you know that, too.

Please say hello to all of our friends in Birmingham and at Baldwin School. Timmy would like a holster and gun, cowboy hat, a red table for cowboy hats, flashlight and an airplane.

Mary Martha would like a baby doll and a new dress.

I would like a tea set, a doll, and a new dress.

Thank you.
Betty, Tim and Mary
