Garden Club Has Christmas Party

By ELLI BLAUMAN
MI 7-1465

A Christmas party complete with tree and decorations was given for the members of the Garden Club on Dec. 16, at the Forest Lane Road home of Mrs. Ted Paczas. Luncheon was served on a table decorated in the traditional greens and reds, after which gifts were exchanged among the members.

Mrs. A. W. Klomp of Detroit, a member of the Michigan Horticultural Society, presented Mrs. Paczas with a white orchid and gave the club a donation for its scholarship fund.

The guest speaker was Mrs. W. J. Ullenbruch of Diamondale, Mich., who recently returned from a three-month tour of Europe and gave a first-hand account of her experiences there.

Mrs. Ullenbruch, well known in Garden Club circles, was elected by the WNFGA to spend one month in Holland and to meet with the International Gardeners Association. While in the Netherlands, the Ullenbruchs stayed in private homes, and were able to obtain an authentic Dutch cooking which was on display at the meeting.

Also attending the party as a special guest was Mrs. Parker Rockwell who is the state treasurer of the Michigan Division of the WNFGA.

Assisting Mrs. Paczas as co-hosts were Mrs. Kay Kitchin, Mrs. Leon Mirbach, and Mrs. Lewis Dempsey.

JUST BACK from two weeks in Nassau are Mr. and Mrs. William Wyckoff of Madison Road. Using the Pilot House Club as home base, the Wyckoffs attended the daily sport races during "Speed Week" and were able to view some of the events from the pier.

In order to see the island at their own pace, they rented a car, and spent some of their time shopping for Christmas gifts, as well as some time sunning on the sand.

MR. AND MRS. Marvin B. Cline of Stillman Drive recently celebrated their silver anniversary with dinner and theater tickets for two, and on Sunday, Dec. 15, held a Christmas Open House for the village council and employees of Beverly Hills.

The Cline's dinner guests the following Sunday were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Follin and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Cline, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Dewar, Jr. and Mrs. George Kuzmanovich.

Daughter Laura, a freshman at Western Michigan University, is with the family for the holidays.

The Don Borgeseons of Riverside Drive invited 30 friends in for a pre-luncheon cocktail party last Saturday evening. All are members of the Merry-makers Dance Club, whose Christmas dinner dance was held at the Red Run Country Club.

DARLENE ROTH, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Roth of Buckingham Road, is really enjoying — by jet, that is! — a junior at Michigan State University. Darlene will spend one week at home with her parents, and the remainder of the holiday vacation in Bismark, N.D., as the guest of Wayne Gehring and his parents, before returning to classes.

A cocktail hour and buffet dinner were only part of the evening planned by Mr. and Mrs. Art Koster last Saturday. Even the playing of Christmas games and the exchange of whimsical dollar gifts among the couples doesn't complete the story.

The highlight of the evening was when the host streaked out and re-entered the front door dressed as Santa with a surprise gift for each of the women. (Doesn't that sound like something fun to do ourselves next Christmas?)

The Koster's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Michael Glass, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Warrell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zuccarini, Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kurza.

TIMOTHY JOSEPH Sempowski, born Dec. 5 at Beaumont Hospital, has two grand sets of grandparents in Beverly Hills. They are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lambie of Redmead Road and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Z. Sempowski of Riverside Drive.

Timothy's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Max Sempowski of Union Lake, Mich., and he is their third son. Mr. Sempowski is the former Carol Jean Lambie.

members of the West Beverly Garden Club, and the party took place of the group's regular meeting. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Clarence McGee and Mrs. Robert Mueller.

Christmas dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vince Harcourt were Miss Kathleen Marsh, Mr. James Harcourt, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Richards. Mrs. Richards is the former Patricia Ann Harcourt.

Caroling Party Entertains Friends of James Cooks

By ELIZABETH YATES
MI 6-1682

The James Cooks of Lamplighter Lane invited area friends to join them in an old-fashioned caroling party on Sunday evening. The group of 35 gathered at the Cook residence at 8:30 p.m. dressed in heavy togs, for the caroling through the subdivision of Concord Green.

The Cooks have made this an annual affair with hot buttered rum and hot roast beef sandwiches waiting for the carolers at the trail's end.

On Monday evening, eight-year-old daughter, Glee invited the younger set to join her in a caroling party. As the group of 20 youngsters toured the area in song they were served hot beverages along the way by neighbors. Back at the Cook home, Charlie served sandwiches and cocoa.

GATHERING AT the Carl Wheeler home on Lamplighter Lane on Christmas Eve were Dr. and Mrs. James Shae of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. E. Johnson of Elyria, O. The Wheelers are planning to entertain area friends at an open house on New Years Day.

Christmas house guests of the John Healy's of N. Reading road are Mrs. Healy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cooper of Asheville, N. C. It will be a time of getting acquainted with grand-son, Billy, who is nine months old.

Bonald Chute of San Francisco flew in on Sunday to spend the holiday season with his parents, the David Chutes of Robinson Road, Nancy, a freshman at Central Michigan, also arrived home to join Beverly and Jim, completing the family circle.

Before Ronald returns to San Francisco he plans on a few days in New York City.

ARRIVING HOME on the week end for the holidays was Tim Hite, a student at Eastern Nazarene Quincy in Cardwell, Mass. Tim joined his parents, the Donald Hites of Lamplighter Lane, in decorating their colonial home with an old-fashioned Christmas theme. Strings and strings of cranberries and popcorn balls were used throughout.

On Saturday evening the Hites entertained at cocktails for a group of no friends and neighbors.

Guests on Christmas Day were parents of the Hites, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cardwell of Grosse Ile and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hite of Birmingham.

of W. Rutland entertained Mrs. Mann's family at a buffet dinner on Sunday, Dec. 22. There enjoying the day were Mrs. A. Borchadas, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Noraki, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bohmer and their children.

On Christmas day, Mr. Mann's family were the guests of honor and consisted of his mother Mrs. W. Forsman, and two sisters and brothers-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Milord, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kall.

Happy New Year, Everyone!

To Be Wed

Des Neiges Francoelle Marquis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Joel Marquis of Lathrup Village, has set Feb. 8 as the date of her marriage to John Joseph McCann, son of Frank B. McCann of Livonia and the late Mrs. McCann. The bride-elect received her BA in Speech and Drama at Mercy College and is a member of Sigma Phi Sigma national honor society. She is substitute teaching in Detroit and Southfield. The bridegroom-elect is a graduate of the University of Toronto and received his law degree from the Detroit College of Law.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Komarik of Leabury Road entertained with cocktails for a group of 30 members and their wives of the engineering and scientific department of the Research and Development Centre of Rockwell Standard Corp. in Birmingham on Saturday evening. The party preceded a dinner.

ON CHRISTMAS Day the Tony Spina family of Squirrel Road gathered with the "Spina Clan" at the Allen Park home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Costan Spina. Joining them were Detroit area relatives, the Sam Spinas, the Joseph Gianettes, the James Younge, the Frank Spinas, the Sam Danna, and the Philip Danna and the Frank Kostlers.

The Charles Barbyses and the William Rummings, both of N. Reading Road, co-hosted a holiday cocktail and buffet supper party at the Barbys home on Saturday evening. Their invitations went out to 25 friends and neighbors of Eastover Estates. Introduced at the party were newcomers from Cleveland, O. Dr. and Mrs. Richard Hall of N. Reading Road.

A GROUP of Concord Green subdivision neighbors will be gathering for their annual progressive New Year's Eve party at the home of the Walter McWhirters of Lamppost Lane.

Cocktails will be served at the McWhirters before going on to a pot luck dinner at the Lamppost Lane home of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Olson. The scene will then change to the home of the Richard Garrisons until the wee hours of the morning.

Attending will be the hosts of last year, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Bergstrom of Lamplighter Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Maunders, both of Lamppost Lane.

Some stars are not much larger than the smaller of earth's planets and others are big enough to take in the orbit of the earth with a great deal of space left over. One of the components of the double star, Epsilon Aurigae, is believed to have a diameter of about 1,800,000 miles.
