Two Crossing Guards OK'd For Baldwin

Birmingham city commissioners are authorized the administration bhire two school crossing guards at to install school caution lights ear Baldwin School.

and to install school caution lights are Baldwin School.

The commissioners made their lecision after listening to representatives of the Baldwin PTA explain why they felt the move was necessary.

Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley said in a report to the commission that traffic surveys as howed no need at the present time for hiring guards.

EACH GUARD is paid about $800 a year by the City instead of by the Birmingham Public School District. Presently, three adult school crossing guards are on the City navroll.
