Grapplers

WHAT APPROACH do you use in teaching the sport to the youngsters?
 "First of all, conditioning and the basic fundamentals of wrestling are stressed. The next thing I teach is chain wrestling; that is, each move is like a link in a chain. You try one move—if that doesn't work—try another. This is all very confusing to your opponent and eventually you will catch him off-balance."
 How do you think wrestling will be received as a spectator sport in Birmingham?
 "Very well. Wrestling is normally a very popular sport in our higher income areas. The interest is enhanced by the fact that boys all shapes and all sizes participate."

JOHNSON is a 1959 graduate of Purdue where he participated in Big Ten competition. He also wrestled with the AAU and the YMCA in Chicago.
 His coaching experience includes neighborhood parks in Chicago, a junior high and high school in Indiana and as coach at Royal Oak Kimball last year.
 Johnson's pupils have already participated in practice matches with Country Day and Cranbrook junior varsity grapplers. The coach expects to have at least nine entries in the regionals at Hazel Park, March 1-2.
 Judging by an hour of watching the boys go through their paces and talking with their tutor, I'd say that Groves will have a pretty fair wrestling squad come next fall.

Instist on "ORCHID" BRAND GRAPEFRUIT
 "You can taste the difference."

Florida "Indian River" GRAPEFRUIT

"Orchid" is the brand name of the finest grapefruit grown in the Indian River section of Florida and is possibly the finest grown anywhere in the country. It owes its success to three characteristics - its appearance and weight (creamy yellow, fine texture, thin skin, heavy with juice), its distinctive mild flavor (not too tart, not too sweet), and its dependable consistency. This exceptional quality "Orchid" brand grapefruit is featured at the SFIRE'S MARKET.

We are happy to announce that the December Freeze in Florida did not touch Orchard Island, where the world's finest grapefruit grows. We are receiving fresh arrivals daily... both pink and white seedless... large and medium sizes.

We are sure you agree with us that "Orchid" has never been sweeter or juicier!
