Association Gives Annual Skate Fete At Local Rink

By ELEANOR NELSEN MI 7-0056

Ston Park was the scene of the annual skating party of the Franklin Skating Association. It is an event that the entire community looks forward to attending in full body, some 200 strong, and is a family-planned party. This year it was held Feb. 25. Refreshments were enjoyed in the "warming house". While on the ice those attending played games, danced the "hokey pokey," followed the leader and took plenty of spills.

The social chairman of the association is Chuck Copeland. He does such a marvelous job as the social chairman that the people keep electing him to office year after year. The association members are now looking forward to their annual dinner dance which will probably be held in April.

THE FRANKLIN Woods Women's bowling league held a party on Feb. 16 at the Strike and Spare Bowling Lanes to which they invited their husbands. Bowling began at 7 p.m. First prize of the evening was won by Mr. and Mrs. William Weber. All other prizes were of the "gag" variety and awarded on a "pull a number out of the hat" basis. After the bowling was over the entire party returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. August Gentry, Fredrick Chapman, Edward Nightingale spent much of his time at the piano entertaining while Mrs. Arnold Frazier succeeded in getting all the guests in the dancing mood. Mrs. Walter Barton is president of the league this year.

OAKLAND HILLS Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lindsay of Orchard Hills Drive hosted a small dinner party on Feb. 20 for friends, the J. A. McPhearsons, who were leaving for California within a short time. After a visit on the west coast, the McPhearsons were then planning a trip to Nassau. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Pavolic were also guests for the evening.

The weekend of Feb. 22 saw the Lindsay family on the ski slopes at Caberfae, Blake and Lynn Lindsay accompanied their parents as did Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hart and their three children. The previous weekend the Lindsay family had been skiing at the Otsego Ski Club.

CRANBROOK-MAPLE Unable to attend the Mardi Gras in New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moreau of S. W. Williamsburg did the next best thing and invited their neighbors to a Mardi Gras party held in their home.

All guests were asked to wear costumes. Entrance to the recreation room was marked as the French quarter and the decorations were in keeping with the theme. Costumes worn by the guests were colorful, amusing and original. Those attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mooney, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jaeger, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knudsen, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Praher, Mr. and Mrs. James McClure, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Eino Pinesneschi of Fair Haven.

BEKINSHIRE Before attending the fashion show and dinner dance at Oakland Hills Country Club on Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew McDonald of Parkhurst Drive invited their friends to join them for cocktails. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Moons, Mr. and Mrs. John Halpel Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James Barbour and Mr. and Mrs. James R. McDonald.

MR. AND MRS. John Gormley of Jackson Park Drive are very proud of their son, Edward, who is a second lieutenant in the US Army. Lt. Gormley has been stationed in Frankfurt, Germany, since last October and although only 22 years old is in charge of the signal corp post in that area. He is also a counselor in the court martial office. John Gormley, eldest son of the Gormleys, spent his armed service duty in Korea. Because of his radio background in college, John was a disc jockey while in the service.

WESTCHESTER Mr. and Mrs. Richard Manguse of Middlebury Lane celebrated their 26th wedding anniversary on Feb. 19 by having dinner with their daughter, Hollis, a Seabrook student, at the Sheraton. Their son, Peter, a student at Ferris, was unable to accompany them.

A more festive weekend was planned when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schmitt were due to arrive from Coldwater. Mrs. Schmitt had been a bridesmaid at the wedding 25 years ago. Missing from the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. James Kinder of Melbourne, Fla., the daughter and son-in-law of the Manguses.

A SURPRISE birthday party was in store for Francis McDoussie of Middlebury Lane on his 50th birthday on Tuesday. Mrs. McDoussie invited neighbors in for a buffet supper and to celebrate. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Michael Finn, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Sumner, Mr. and Mrs. David Manley, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Manguse, Mr. and Mrs. George Gigger, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barnes and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Quimette. The guests all brought "gag" gifts.

Patricia Nolan Is Married At Gesu

Patricia Maura Nolan walked up the aisle of Gesu Church, Detroit, on the arm of her brother, John Hamilton Nolan, to be wed Saturday to James Day Kuras of Cincinnati, O., son of the Joseph B. Kurasas of Touthmor Road, Bloomfield Hills.

The daughter of Mrs. Francis A. Nolan of Sheffield Road, Detroit, and the late Mr. Nolan, chose a gown of white tulle taffeta designed with a bell skirt and fitted bodice given an Empire effect by a fold embroidered with crystal beads from which her crystal train extended.

Three white roses held her bouffant veil of imported illusion in place and she carried a single white rose with her father's prayer book which was covered with white lace.

MRS. JOHN H. NOLAN of West Bloomfield was Patricia's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Donna Waddell of Detroit and Kathleen Kavanagh of Birmingham. They wore Schiaparelli pink chiffon gowns and tiny matching hats and carried nosegays of purple anemones.

Robert Kuras was his brother's best man. Assisting as ushers were Thomas Conway of Cincinnati and L. Anderson Burd of Chicago.

For her daughter's wedding and the breakfast reception at the Detroit Press Club, Mrs. Nolan chose a gown of rose and leaf green print with a rose silk coat and carried violets. Mrs. Kuras chose a beige silk sheath with a white lace top and boxy jacket with matching accessories. She pinned a cymbidium orchid to her purse.

For traveling on a skiing honeymoon, the new Mrs. Kuras chose a costume of pale yellow midly wool. The newbrides will make their home in a carriage house in Cincinnati.

Society Dept. deadline for all organizational news, weddings and engagements announcement is 5 p.m. on the Friday preceding Thursday publication.

Devon Gables Is Scene Of Reception

Following a reception at Devon Gables Saturday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Matthews left on a wedding trip to Pompano Beach, Fla., after which they will make their home on Thirteen Mile Road in Royal Oak.

Formerly Julie Ann Pond, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Pond of Tewksbury Lane and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Victor P. Matthews of N. Cranbrook Road.

The couple repeated their vows in the First Presbyterian Church of Royal Oak, the bride wearing her sister's bridal gown of Italian peau de soie. The bodice and dome-shaped skirt were adorned with garlands of peau d'ange lace, and her veil of illusion fell from a Swedish crown of pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade bouquet of ivory tulips and lemon leaves.

MRS. DONALD McCrory of Royal Oak, the bride's sister, was matron of honor, and bridesmaids included Sherry Edmiston of Western Springs, Ill.; Mrs. Kenneth Hartung of Battle Creek; Mrs. W. Hewitt Hornbeck of Dearborn and Sharon Maraden of Grand Rapids. They were identical gowns of ivory brocade and matching hats, and carried scarlet tulips with lemon leaves. Cheryl

MRS. C. H. MATTHEWS

Lynne McCrory was flower girl for her aunt. David McKercher of Royal Oak was best man, and ushers included Richard Small of Union Lake; Erik Serr of Erie, Pa.; and Paul Mitchell of Largo, Fla.

Pass-Naylor Rites Read In Church

Virginia Rose Naylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Naylor of Sheridan Drive, Beverly Hills, walked up the aisle of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Church Saturday morning to become the bride of Robert James Pass of Seattle, Wash., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Pass of Fairview Crescent, Southfield.

The Rev. Father Lucien Herbott officiated at the 11 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a champagne luncheon at Kinross Inn.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with a Sabrina neckline trimmed with pearls, long sleeves, and a dome skirt which swept into a full chapel train. A matching lace crown held her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion, and she carried a crescent-shaped arrangement of white daisies and yellow roses fastened to a prayer book.

CAROLINE NAYLON was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Sandra Shukait of Beverly Hills and Marilyn Pass, sister of the bridegroom. They wore royal blue tulle, matching headpieces with circle veils and carried white daisies tied with yellow ribbons.

John F. Naylor of Southfield, brother of the bride, was best man, and seating the guests were Carlos Araujo of Detroit and James Pass of Royal Oak, brother of the bridegroom.

Following a trip through California, the couple will be at home on Mercer Island, near Seattle, Wash.
