

The Birmingham Eccentric

Thursday, March 7, 1963

History discloses that there never was a land, and a people, that surpassed America and its early citizens in laying the foundations for achieving not only material security, but equally for the opportunities to develop mentally and spiritually. Less than 200 years ago our land was very primitive, its people too small. The challenges of those early days were met by a self-reliant people, freedom flourishes only in the soil of self-reliance!

Calendar of Events Highlights Gaiety

Immediately preceding Birmingham Country Club's annual shutdown for refurbishing and employee vacations, members (see today's pictures) turned out in droves for a South of the Border party.

Now that the club is about to reopen, with Rendezvous Night scheduled for this evening, more plans are underway to maintain a social pace.

Tonight's gathering (children welcome, dining for them and their families in the Fireside Lounge) will include early dinner in the mixed grill, with music for dancing and singing.

Next on the calendar will be the Mad Hatters buffet luncheon and card party scheduled for Friday, March 15, at noon.

Ladies at the helm include Mrs. Charles M. Bauervic, chairman; Mrs. Cline V. Larch and Mrs. W. F. Saefkow.

The following evening, Saturday, March 16, the Shamrock Storm (cocktails, dinner and dancing) will get under way, with Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy the official hosts.

Filling out the month, the sixth annual invitational mixed doubles bowling tournament will take place Saturday, March 23.
