

Relates Color In Cage Tilt With Faculty

On March 7, the annual Barnum student-teacher basketball game was played. In this yearly game a squad of teachers stand the Barnum varsity in a game of basketball (5).

This year it was a real squeaker. A very large crowd turned out to cheer for whichever team they wished. (It was, however, inadvisable to cheer for the teachers.) The crowd really got their money's worth. The final score of the game stood 31-30, with the teachers holding the one-point edge.

Because Mr. (Coach) Stoll was acting as playing coach for the teachers, team manager John Gillette took over the game. He related the varsity for the days before the game. The teachers fielded a strong team composed of basketball greats such as Messrs. Bartlett, Blum, Moran, Radloff, Smela, Stoll, and Wasielewski.

AS IS the custom, during the pregame warm-up the teachers wear the most outlandish costumes they can think of. Such dress as girls' tights, wild pajama tops, sombreros, Mexican blankets, ivy-league type hats and even a jauntily-waved American flag were in evidence.

When the teachers came up for the game, however, they were all business. Despite the fact that they had been warming up by trying to make baskets with a football, the teachers had been holding Blum sessions and were indeed formidable opponents.

The game started with the usual jump, and the teachers were behind. During the action-packed game the teachers worked themselves into the lead. The play was highlighted by such actions as Mr. Bartlett's passing of the ball to the stands, and Mr. Wasielewski taking an impromptu swim in the floorboards.

In the last few minutes of play the varsity staged a rally and fought to within one point of the faculty when the buzzer sounding the end of the game buzzed. The high-point man for the varsity was Charlie Foss with 11 and the faculty leader, Mr. Radloff, had 11.

The teachers are at a disadvantage. As Mr. Bartlett pointed out: "Every year the teachers are that much older, while the ninth graders stay the same."

TRYOUTS for the annual ninth grade play have been held, and the cast for the three act, "The Magic Touch," has been chosen. The play is under the direction of Mr. Stoll, and will soon go into rehearsal. Tentative date for the performance is May 9. Interest in the play has gone up considerably since most of the ninth graders saw "A Midsummer Night's Dream" put on by a student vast at Seaholm.

Those chosen to be in this year's play are: Chris Bivens, Bill Bowman, Robin Boyd, Bob Burnett, Anne Conway, Jeff Doane, Amy Edwards, Gayle Howell, Leonard Hook, Marge Howell, Debbie Roth, Linda Stubbs, Claudia Welch, and Sue Wolfley. Also, last and least—yours truly—me.

In the rush of Model T production, Henry Ford completely overlooked an important milestone—completion of his first million automobiles in September, 1915. Company officials discovered they had passed the 1,000,000 mark a month later when they totaled production from outlying assembly plants.

Rice Wins Debate Bout

In its first inter-school debate the Brother Rice High School debate team brought home a victory. The away debate was held on Wednesday, March 6, at De La Salle High School.

The four members of the Brother Rice team discussed the affirmative and negative positions of "Resolved: That the United States should promote a Common Market for the Western Hemisphere."

The affirmative team, composed of Pat Kaufmann and Jack O'Hara, defeated its opponent by one point. Jim Delaney and Conal O'Connell, the negative team, debated their point to a tie.

PERHAPS two of the most active of the many BRHS clubs, committees, and organizations are the Latin and French clubs.

The Latin group, under the moderation of Brother J. A. King, recently published the first issue of the "Rostrum." The "Rostrum," edited by Jim Harrington, is entirely in Latin. The club was addressed several weeks ago by the Rev. Father Geary, Father Geary, chaplain at neighboring Marian High School, spoke to the organization on the topic, "Why Study Latin."

The French Club is moderated by Brother J. A. Grimaldi. It is its last meeting the club had two guest speakers. The first was Brother Paramo, a member of the Brother Rice faculty.

Marian Students Hear Lecture on Human Relations

By CAROL JURICA
Special Writer

Marian students attended the Institute on Democratic Living which was sponsored by the Junior Round Table. The lecture program was held on the afternoon of Saturday, March 16 for high school students from the Detroit area. Members of the human relations club promoted the institute at Marian.

Sister Xavieria, teacher of mathematics, physics and foreign relations at Marian, and author of several books, received news last week of her Fulbright to India. Sister will travel there this summer, a country she says she has always wanted to visit. Sister Xavieria just joined the Marian faculty this school year.

THE SECOND hour drama class, conducted by Miss Nancy Easter began showing the movie, "Good Gracious, Granny," produced by "Twenty-Two Star Productions," within the past few months, on March 18. The show will be run every school day at 3 p.m. until Friday, March 29. A minimal admission will be charged and the student body is urged to attend.

A special workshop, "Careers for Women," was held at Marygrove College on Saturday, March 16 from 1 to 5 p.m. Marian seniors who intend to enter college were urged to take part in the conference.

More than 20 well-known women in the various professional fields lectured that afternoon.

On April 5 Marian will hold its first Student Government. Students will take over the administrative and teaching positions at school while the faculty sits back and observes.

Applications are now being accepted for teaching positions, and the higher positions of principal and vice-president will be occupied by the officers of the student council.

Cranbrook Reorganizes Day Camps

A new format and additional activities are in store for day campers in the reorganized summer camp program of Kingswood School Cranbrook and Cranbrook School.

In previous years the schools had a combined camp program and this year separate camps for youngsters age 6 through 12 will be introduced.

All-day sessions, with transportation provided, new courses of instruction in archery, riflery, music, dance, drama and the fun feature of lunchtime campsite cookouts will be offered.

'Puzzle Factory' To Be Presented At Bloomfield Jr.

The Bloomfield Hills Junior High ninth grade play called "The Puzzle Factory" will be presented today (March 21) for the students and tomorrow to the public.

It is written, directed and produced by William H. Drummond. Steve Moore, Ann Hagaman, Carole Morrison, Bob Brogan, Karer Hinds, Mike Weldon, Betty Nettles, Linda Anderson, Fred Timponer, Pat Dunham and Bob Koch have the main parts.

Mr. Hossie's commercial art class worked on the props and scenery. Mr. Morel is in charge of the lighting and Mrs. Bykalski's art class will do the make-up.

Official Nationwide Consumer Testing Institute Report:

PLYMOUTH TOPS CHEVROLET AND FORD IN ACCELERATION, HANDLING, GAS ECONOMY

You could walk into a Plymouth dealership right now and drive home in the exact model Plymouth—with identical equipment—that beat Chevrolet and Ford in 8 out of 10 tests at the Riverside Track in California. The fact is, the exact model Plymouth that performed so well at Riverside is performing just as well for thousands of satisfied new Plymouth owners across the country.

When you run down the list of tests, you discover that Plymouth had a field day—winning every acceleration test, the handling and maneuverability test, both passing-safety tests, and the gas economy test. Then, following up its Riverside triumph, Plymouth won Class IV in the 1963 Pure Oil Performance Trials, turning in the highest score of any car in any class in the entire competition.

All the signs say Plymouth's on the move. And the signs are acceleration, handling, gas economy. When you add clean new styling, handsome interiors, and a 5-year/50,000-mile warranty*, you begin to see why Plymouth sales are 42% ahead of last year!
