Fete 'Young' Guest At Club Meeting With Old Song

By GLORIA JESSUP
MA 6-3257

There was a very special guest at the March meeting of the Village Square Dance Club, which met Saturday evening at Northbrook School. She was "Grandma Dunning," the 100-year young grandmother of Mrs. John Kohl. Mrs. Dunning has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Kohl of Rockham for several months. In honor of her delightful presence, the members and guests sang, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" to her. Mr. and Mrs. Elton Heist were also guests of the Kohls and Susan Presswood came as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Doring.

GUESTS OF THE club included Dr. and Mrs. George Ritter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shelby, Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Ragan, the Kenneth Hemmings, the Ray Garrisons and the Del Cadillacs.

Chairman for this month's dance and pot luck supper were Mr. and Mrs. John Rhane. Their committee consisted of the Richard Hoffmanns, the Don Whitsons, the Gene MacCrackens and the Vince Zattels.

CRANBROOK

Mrs. Donald Hunt and her young daughter, Kimberly, returned to their Pleasant Trail home the middle of last week after spending a long week end in Ontario. They visited with Mrs. Hunt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. McNulty of Renfrew, Hunt (Bwana Don) remained in the area for television commitments and to oversee the Hunt's two older sons.

SOUTHFIELD

The next meeting of the Birney PTA will be held on Tuesday, in the school gymnasium. After a short business meeting there will be a panel discussion by Recovery Inc., an organization dealing with nervous and emotional disorders. Also on the program will be musical selections presented by the seventh grade students.

THE OPTIMIST CLUB of Southfield will convene this evening at Howard Johnson's Restaurant, Ten Mile and Northwestern Highway, for their usual dinner meeting beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Certainly, the education of the United States, both in the recent past and in the present, must share much of the cause for the development of a generation of Americans who know little about governmental problems; who pay not much attention to the qualities and the consequences of their public officials; who have failed to teach their students enough of the basic characteristics of citizenship to defend freedom from demagoguery!

LATHRUP-CRANBROOK VILLAGE

Couple Home After Trip To Hawaii, West Coast

GLORIA JESSUP
MA 6-3257

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Neu of LaCrosse, Lathrup Village, returned home recently after a month's vacation. The Neu's were surprised with a bon voyage party before they departed for the Hawaiian Islands. The party was given in their honor by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Neu of Rock Creek, Cranbrook Village. Twenty guests arrived with gay gifts—one of which was twin matching bikini bathing suits. The Neu's had set the scene with travel posters and palm trees for the farewell party.

The senior Neus made Waikiki Beach their home base for the two-and-one-half weeks they spent on the island. From there they toured the island and took a plane trip around the other islands. Upon concluding their jaunt to the Hawaiian Islands, the Neu's made stop overs in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Las Vegas before returning home to wintry Michigan.

LATHRUP
Three couples from Lathrup Village traveled to Jackson, Miss. last week to cheer up an old friend. The Charles Pollards of Rockham Boulevard, the Richard Andersons of San Quentin and the J. L. O'Loughlins of Tamarack Trail spent the evening at Shulers in Marshall and then went on to Jackson to visit with Mr. and Mrs. William Kronauge. The Kronauges were former residents of the village.

A few months ago Mrs. Kronauge hurt her hip and has been confined to a wheel chair. However, she is able to use a cane now and the four couples enjoyed an evening at the Jackson Country Club.

CRANBROOK

A card party for members of the Cranbrook Village north branch WNWGA and their guests was the latest venture of the organization to raise money to beautify the subdivision's entrance. The ladies met recently in the Birmingham Room of Denny's.

Mrs. Robert Swearingen was general chairman and helping her were Mrs. Elton Heist and Mrs. Paul Pelletier.

SURPRISING THE family by arriving three weeks early on February 26, was Trisha Marie Courty. She is the new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Courty of Autumn Lane. Trisha weighed seven pounds and one ounce and was christened March 10 at St. Bede's Church.

Another newcomer in Cranbrook Village is Mark Alan Kent, second son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kent of Bainbridge Drive.

WHILE THEY'RE expecting a traffic jam next Saturday morning, no one was prepared for the traffic jam that resulted at the Victor Brown home on Franklin road last Saturday.

Word got around that Groves student daughter Martha was having an open house and the Browns managed to jam about 125 high school students into their home while again as many waited in the fog outside. The pop and potato chips ran out but a small combo played on into the night.

Mrs. Brown serenely reported Sunday that the horde was very courteous, seeking her out to thank her for her hospitality and meticulously wiping their feet as they entered.

Franklin Village Players will hold a business meeting Friday at the Franklin Community church.

THOSE WHO WANT to dress the part will have their costumes judged on the porch of the Franklin Community church at 9:30.

George Wellington Smith will be as honorary parade marshal with Councilman Robert Winkel as chairman of the reception committee, assisted by village clerk Mrs. Elsie Garwood. Dr. John Burger, Franklin Community association president, and Donald P. Elie.

Brand - new resident, Dick Teague, whose family recently moved into the former Hugh White home on Seanie is helping to corral all the old vintage vehicles in the area and judges will inspect the cars at the cider mill. Franklin Volunteer Fire department's '50 Mack truck will join the parade, even if it only goes as far as the bottom of the hill to the cider mill.

Local youngsters are especially urged to deck their rolling stock out in bright streamers and to wear costumes. The committee promises free balloons and souvenirs for the riders who will accompany the motorcade to the cider mill and give it a short escort as it leaves Franklin Village.

Mark was born Jan. 25 and weighed 8 1/2 pounds. His big brother, Bobby, age eight, is delighted that the new baby is a boy.

BEVERLY HILLS

Dads a 'Mus' For Program At Groves

By LOUISE N. KRAEMER
MI 6-9716

The village council of Beverly Hills has completed arrangements with the Birmingham Board of Education for a weekly "dads-a-mus" night at Groves High School gym. The gym will be available on Thursday nights for basketball, volleyball, wrestling and other gym activities. Dads may bring a neighbor's son or attend alone, but no boy without a dad will be admitted.

Mrs. William Rasse, chairman of ways and means at Greenfield School, planned a movie party to purchase a record player for the school. The party was held in the school gymnasium after school, complete with popcorn and was such a huge success that it was possible to buy two record players for the school.

The school teachers and office personnel of Greenfield School enjoyed an evening of dinner and dancing at the Northwood Inn on March 1.

MR. AND MRS. LEON Lytle of Marlin Court had an enjoyable visit recently with Lytle's two sisters from Ohio. In spite of the heavy snow there, Mrs. James Roger of Cleveland and Mrs. John J. Walman of West Ridgefield drove up to attend the confirmation of their grandson, David Christopher Lytle, at Our Lady of Fatima in Oak Park, followed by a family dinner at the home of Lytle's daughter.

OUR LADY QUEEN of Marys and St. Bede's altar societies are cooperating in planning a party for retarded patients at Laper State Home Training School. Scheduled for mid-March, women are gathering gifts now to bring to patients. Suggested items for men are tobacco, pipes, cigarettes, soap, playing cards, checkers, dominoes, puzzles, toilet articles, candy and stretch socks.

Gifts for women include aprons, jewelry, cosmetics, scarves, soap, tissues, and small gift items. Anyone wishing to donate gifts may call Mrs. Joseph Consolmagno, Mrs. John Murphy or Mrs. Dale Branglin.
