Cloak and Gallantry Outdated by Boots

Now that the storm boots season has past, many otherwise fashion-conscious ladies become remiss about protecting their spring shoes (and feet) from April showers.

This may be a carry-over from the days when rubbers used to be something less than glamorous and the chance of cold, wet feet and splatted shoes were preferable to the overshoes themselves.

BUT THOSE days are gone forever thanks to modern latex rubber. Its stretch qualities, the ease with which it is molded and its strength permit it to be fashioned into stylish, lightweight, handy rubbers that offer shoe (and health) protection throughout the year.

Best of all, these rubbers fold into attractive purse-size string, snap or zipper pouches, water-proofed on the inside, and with a bright tartan or figured design on the outside.

Newest ladies footwear styles include simple classic motifs that reveal the shoe itself.

Pin-money priced, they come in smooth, pebble grain or alligator surfaces, some with polka dot trim or crimson linings and all shoe shapes.

Sweater-jackets are important for costume coordinating this spring.
