Police Seek 'Black Car' in Hunt for Boy

Bloomfield Township Police were still checking tips Wednesday morning that 12-year-old Bobby Griman was seen riding in a car with a man, the day he disappeared. Bobby, who is mentally retarded, left his home at 5515 Pheasant Hill on the morning of March 22 and has not been seen since. Police have feared the boy might have met with foul play.

Detective Lt. James Keller said the department has received about 20 reports from persons thinking they saw the boy riding in a "black compact" car.

A WOMAN, who lives near the Griman home, told police last Thursday she saw the boy riding in the car with a man who had approached her several days before Bobby disappeared.

Keller said the woman had not contacted the authorities before because her husband said the police "had enough tips." The detective said the husband did not think they should "get involved" in the case. The woman's name was withheld by police because of the danger of crank calls.

THE MAN was described as white, 25 to 30 years old, neatly dressed and with bulging blue eyes and a full reddish color mustache. The woman said he had red hair with long sideburns and was wearing a Russian-type fur hat when he asked her the directions to Spoutman's Lane. There is no such street in the township.

A report last Wednesday that a four-year-old mentally retarded Oak Park boy was missing turned out to be a hoax, Keller said.

BOBBY, who cannot speak but does respond to his name, was the subject of an exhaustive search of the township by more than 200

Need for Sidewalks Pondered at Hearing

BEVERLY HILLS — Sidewalks for the students of Groves High to use on 13 Mile Road were discussed at a public hearing Tuesday at the village hall.

While parents have expressed concern about children walking in the street to Groves, other residents asked questions about the cost of the project.

Councilman Claude A. Shepard explained that the sidewalk was needed from the western edge of the village property on west to Evergreen, a total of 2,374 linear feet.

VILLAGE ENGINEERS Johnson and Anderson estimated that to provide a base, establish a grade and pour concrete for a five-foot-wide sidewalk would run a maximum of $3.85 a running foot, for a cost of $9,200. This figure, however, does not include the cost of acquisition of the right-of-way, easements, the construction of a bridge over the Evans drain, or pipe for the drain.

Councilman John Magee asked the $10,000-dollar question: "Who would bear that cost?" Shepard replied that the council would have to decide that. At present, assessment of abutting property owners has been discussed.

COUNCILMAN EDWARD F. Dolan asked Philip Hampton, office manager for Johnson and Anderson, why the figure $3.85 a foot was stated when this was about twice the normal cost for a four to six-inch deep concrete sidewalk. Hampton replied that the cost was only an estimate and had to be high to incorporate unknowns.

Marcel Dunn, 31123 Pickwick Lane, president of the Hunley Improvement Association, said he and other police and volunteers on March 22, the boy is 4 feet 11 inches tall, has blond hair and blue eyes, and was wearing a maroon jacket, gray pants and a black hat the morning he disappeared.

provement Association, spoke for the association in requesting that the sidewalk be built.

Hunley contractor David Robinson, and property owners on 13 Mile Road, Edgar Stratton, Donald Duzinski and Mrs. J. E. Harcke, asked questions concerning cost and method of assessing.

PRESIDENT PRO TEM Hugh G. Allerton, Jr., explained that the hearing was not on the necessity for the sidewalk, but was a hearing stipulated by the sidewalk ordinance for discussing any sidewalks before other proceedings start.

The council moved that Village Manager Robert E. Murphy be directed to prepare a report on the installation of this sidewalk. They also asked Village Attorney Thomas J. Dillon to make a report on the legality of assessing on other than just abutting properties and of assessing sidewalks on a village-at-large basis.
