Sorority Members Feted at Luncheon By Local Hostess

By GLORIA JESSUP
MA 6-3257

Mrs. Lynn A. Townsend of Orchard Bend entertained a few members of Alpha Gamma Delta at a luncheon last Thursday afternoon. Following the luncheon, at Mrs. Townsend's Gilbert Lake home, Mrs. Fritz Fieselmann of Larches, showed films taken on a recent trip to Washington and Williamsburg and Mrs. Townsend showed slides taken in Hawaii.

LONG PINE

The members of the Lone Pine Garden Club have invited their husbands to join them at their next meeting to be held on Wednesday at the John Willingham home on Malibu Drive. Acting as co-hostesses for Mrs. Willingham will be Mrs. Russell Fitzgerald, Mrs. Ned Whitcroft and Mrs. Robert Magnuson.

Alfred Goldner of Golden-Walsh Landscape will report on his recent tour of Russia with a committee sponsored by the "People to People" program. The title of his speech will be "Agriculture and Landscape Design Behind the Iron Curtain."

culture and Landscape Design Behind the Iron Curtain."

LOCILLA

In keeping with the Lenten season, Mrs. Harold MacDonald of 1281 Club Drive and her friends make sure the Bible study group continues even though Mrs. MacDonald is out of the city.

Mrs. MacDonald started opening her home four years ago on Thursday mornings for those ladies in the area who were interested in studying the Bible. Dr. Lehman Strauss, pastor of Highland Park Baptist Church and the Southfield branch at 12 and Lahser Roads, conducted the first series of lectures which continue now during Lent but from the beginning of school until it closes in the spring. Dr. Strauss is the author of several books on Bible study.

GUEST LECTURER this season has been Rev. Olan Hendrix, executive director of the Far Eastern Gospel Crusade Mission. During Rev. Hendrix's absence, due to his travels in the Far East, Dr. Bartlett Hess, of Ward Memorial Presbyterian Church of Detroit conducts the study.

The lectures are open to anyone, regardless of their church affiliation in the Birmingham area. Mrs. Fred England of 508 Linden Road, Birmingham, opens her home on Monday evenings for both ladies and gentlemen.

ABOUT 50 LADIES gather at the MacDonald home each week at 9:30 for coffee and begin their studies at 10 and finish at 11. Mrs. David Miller, Mrs. in the living room and the downstairs recreation room is turned into a nursery for those mothers who wish to bring their children.

GILBERT LAKE

On Monday evening the Glencoe Garden Club will meet at the Blanford Road home of Mrs. David Miller. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Ron Horwarth and Mrs. Frank Taylor.

A representative from Bernard's Shop will demonstrate how to comb hair. The models will be members of the garden club. Mrs. Donald Miller, Mrs. Hal Smurthwaite, Mrs. David Miller, Mrs. Gordon Appleby, Mrs. Fred Peterson and Mrs. Hugh Briddell. The ladies will have their hair set in the afternoon and have it combed out at the meeting.

Airman Second Class Mark Stanford made a quick trip home last week end from the SAC base in Omaha, Neb., where he is stationed for a short visit with his family, the Brooke Stanfords of Wing Lake Road.

For the Young at Heart

It isn't grown-ups who put accent on fashion. In connection with winning their good grooming badges, Bloomfield Village Girl Scouts put on a fashion show over the week end at the Community House in which sixth graders did their own modeling in clothes from B. Siegel-Kay Cooley. Donna Reid waits her turn to walk through the audience.
