& Coll. Board of Directors, Schreck added:

"We want to publicly express our thanks to the community of Birmingham for its enthusiastic support of our program. Regulations prohibit use of more than eight of 15 players on a team of the older age in that bracket.

FOR EXAMPLE, in Pony League, a team may have no more than eight 14-year-old players, thus assuring that a significant number of 13-year-old players will actually play in the league each year.

Other facts about Pony & Colt:

- All sanctioned teams play seven-inning games.
- All leagues are required to carry accident insurance on the players and league personnel.
- Approved protective helmets must be worn by all batters and baserunners in each program.

According to Craig Gagetetter, Pony president:

"WE THINK that eventually we will develop a program that will provide baseball for every youngster in Birmingham who wants to play."
