

Tintype Technique Resists Change

Joseph E. Risdon and Joey, with Mrs. Risdon holding Robbi (from left); Toni, Karen and Lynne

Dr. Thomas S. Torgerson with Grandmother (Mrs. M. M.) Burgess; Richard, Tommy and Mrs. Torgerson.

Village Residents Fly to W. Indies

By MARTY CAHN
MI 6-2890

Mr. and Mrs. Colin Campbell, 2955 Broadway Blvd., along with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Henchel, left Metro airport Friday for a three-week vacation. During their 12 days at Barbados, British West Indies, they will stay at the Sandy Lane Hotel where a prominent Grosse Pointer recently introduced ladies' evening pants.

Rosmary Campbell, former model, did not include the new fashion in her vacation wardrobe. The traveling foursome will stay 10 days at the Buccanier, Saint Croix, and plan on doing some deep-sea fishing, snorkeling and island-hopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Staphchinskas, Westwood Drive, left Friday to motor to Pinehurst, N. C. for a few days of golf. The couple will stay at Holly Inn and use the occasion to visit their property at Whispering Pines, which they describe in golfers' terms as "a nine iron shot from the golf course."

MRS. MAXWELL Fead has returned to her Birmingham home following a two-week stay at the La Concha Hotel, Puerto Rico. Vacationing with Mrs. Fead were daughter Beverly, Kingswood School senior; son Edward, Brookside School student; Carol Charles, Michigan Council of Churches exchange student from Bangor, North Ireland, who is living with the Fead family during her school year at Kingswood. Others at the La Concha were Sue Fead—she came from New York where she attends the Katherine Gibbs School—and Sally Fead, who arrived from Duke University.

Easter weekend houseguests of Mrs. Fead were daughter Sue and her fiancé, Wallace Coffin—he is with the Air Division of the Navy at Newfoundland. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Charles will arrive on April 29 from Ireland for a 10-day visit with their daughter and on Saturday, May 4, will be honored at a reception and dinner party hosted by Mrs. Fead.

MR. AND MRS. Frank W. Lynch, Covington Road, Birmingham, are vacationing at the Gold-Falcon in Pompano Beach, with daughter Sally, who is a Kingswood School graduate now attending the University of Michigan. She recently pledged Collegiate Sorority Sorority.

Birmingham women were well represented at the recent ladies' guest golf day and luncheon at the exclusive Royal Palm Yacht and Country Club of Boca Raton, Fla. Mrs. Dorothy Thompson, house-guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. H. Moynahan at the Moynahan's Boca Raton home, attended the day's events and won second low gross 'golf prize with a score of eighty.

Other winners were Mrs. Moynahan and Mrs. George W. Splane, formerly of Bloomfield Village. Easter holiday house-guests of the Splane's were Mrs. Lambert H. Splane and daughter Sally, of Maple Road, Birmingham.

MRS. WILLIAM Bond's fondness for the color pink prompted her husband, Bill, to say at one point he might be in the "red," but Helen Bond will always be "in-the-pink."

Mrs. Bond returned to her Bloomfield home from a Caribbean cruise and immediately whipped up one of her lovely luncheons. It was a "pink" party, with pink flowers used throughout the pink living and dining rooms; pink or gandy place-mats and chocolate Easter bunnies wrapped in pink foil serving as place-cards. The luncheon dessert was a pink daisy made of ice cream.

Guests included Norma (See RESIDENTS, 4-C)

Front row (from left) Chrys, Janet and Mark with mother, Mrs. Ernest Jones; back row (from left) Biff, Stephen and Mr. Jones.

Fads may come, fads may go; styles change, ways of life differ. But family reunions, with their contingent pictorial proof, remain as eternally traditional as blueberry pie. And through the years, whether it's been a Camera Obscura or Rolleiflex in action—or switching from "watch the birdie" to mouth-ing "cheese"—group pictures have remained as stereotyped as the first tintype ever snapped. In Birmingham and Bloomfield over the week-end, hundreds of families gathered in churches, homes and country clubs to celebrate Easter together. Photographer Bill Thom did his streamlined best to help fill family scrap books the modern way. We think the results look just like grandpa's efforts!

Suburban Scene

by Mary Ellen Mead, Society Editor

Florida Rites

From Palm Beach, Fla., comes news of the marriage there on Tuesday of Mrs. Rocco Di Marco of Bloomfield Hills and Kenneth Youel, also of Bloomfield Hills and Charlottesville, Va.

The couple repeated their vows at an informal ceremony in St. Edwards Church, following which a small luncheon was given. Among guests were Mrs. Di Marco's son-in-law and daughter, the Walter Robinsons of Grosse Pointe.

Although Birmingham claims the delightful and vivacious Jan (Mrs. Di Marco) as its own, she is a nationally known artist and interior designer and many a localite has sought her help in these capacities.

Mr. Youel has been a public relations consultant since his retirement in 1961 as a General Motors public relations executive. Currently, he is serving in Washington as special consultant to Edward R. Murrow, director of the United States Information Agency. He was 1960 president of the Public Relations Society of America and has served on the Council of the International Public Relations Association.

Ten-Shun!

Those men in uniform are headed this way again, teenagers, so keep that sparkle in your eyes and dancing shoes shined; for Culver Military Academy is about to descend, with annual festivities scheduled for Saturday night at Bloomfield Open House.

The evening will offer a variety of events including close-order drill, Rough Riders (bareback), a jumping competition and polo match, followed by a sock-hop. A bevy of BOH daughters and their friends will act as dancing partners for the visiting cadets.

The event is jointly sponsored by the Culver Club of Greater Detroit and Bloomfield Open Hunt. Members of the Academy's famous Lancer Platoon of the Black Horse Troop will bring their mounts from Indiana, riders including a number of local area men.

Following a presentation of colors by the mounted color guard, the group will hold a close-order drill climaxed by the exciting jumps through a hoop of fire. This will be followed by the Rough Riders team going through a series of fast-riding acrobatics.

Top Brass

Birmingham - Bloomfield parents participating in arrangements for the evening include the Dick Olsens—son Rick attends Culver and his dad is president of the Culver Club—Mr. and Mrs. William B. Bachman, whose son Tom is a cadet; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. Gardner, Dr. and Mrs. Luther Sauer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sauer, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Maedell, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Beck, the William McNaughtons, the Maynard Andreases and Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Christiansen.

Others on the committee who'll be watching their sons ride include the William Hartmans, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Tytle, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Zerafa and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moon. Dr. and Mrs. Lytle will host a cocktail party Saturday in their home on Pine-wood Ct. preceding dinner at the club, and the Olsens will entertain Sunday at a brunch prior to the Culver bus taking leave of Bloomfield Hills.

day in their home on Pine-wood Ct. preceding dinner at the club, and the Olsens will entertain Sunday at a brunch prior to the Culver bus taking leave of Bloomfield Hills.

Have You Heard ...

That Birmingham's pride and joy, the beautiful Miriam Jacobs, winner of our local Homemaker of the Year award for '62, is about to be "transferred" to Chicago?... She, Ray and the children, Nancy and Tom, will leave (tearfully!) immediately after school recesses in June after living "in our favorite town" for the past five years. Silver lining is that Ray has been made division manager for his company, the Arbit Corp. ...

That fishing in the Metropolitan Miami Fishing Tournament on a recent vacation in Florida, Bunky Knudsen won angling recognition for landing an 11 lb., 5 oz. bone fish in the general division. ...

That the Art E. Greenwalds will be back from Zurich, Switzerland, Milan, Rome, Cannes and Paris in time to celebrate their first wedding anniversary tomorrow with the Dick Gawnes, the William DeVaults and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Laidlaw. ...

That Louise and Herbert Carr were among first visitors to Iraq following the revolution... they were entertained by the Minister of Guidance during their stay... feel "this country is beginning to make real progress" ...

That Holy Name's Telephone Bridge (gremlins not withstanding) is May 14, NOT, as previously reported, May 4 ...