

Birmingham Goes to Grosse Pointe for a Ball

MR. AND MRS. ROGER P. CRATON

Carnations Set Pace

Hundreds of carnations, ranging in shades from ruby red through palest pink, decked the Little Club in Grosse Pointe Saturday night, setting the pace for that most colorful of all spring time parties, the Carnation Ball. As rain-streaked cars drew up under the porte-cochere (the deluge was monumental!), their occupants stepped out into a fairland of jewel-toned elegance. Helping create the illusion were dozens of topiary trees a-bloom with the spicy posies, which were also used profusely in artistic arrangements throughout the club.

MRS. LEONARD MELDMAN

MRS. DAVID WIRTH

MRS. HARRY J. NEDERLANDER (AT MIKE), MR. AND MRS. DICK HINKS

Symphony Will Benefit

Birmingham members of the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony turned out in droves Saturday night in a salute to the end of the season and in tribute to their major purpose—that of raising funds for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Annually, these two incentives are realized at the fabulous Carnation Ball, traditionally held at the Little Club in Grosse Pointe but with so many Birmingham guests present it's like taking a stroll up Maple!

No Partner! Hole-in-One For Naught

By MARTY CAHN
MI 6-2890

Billie Rosenberger of Bradley Blvd. is reminded of the golf story regarding the good minister (witness by the gold bug) who deserted his congregation on a clear-skied Sunday morning for a round of golf. As luck would have it, the reverend got his first, and only, hole-in one! What punishment could be greater than making such an accomplishment and having to keep it a secret?

Here is Billie's hole-in-one story: Returning Wednesday from a few days spent in New York City, Mr. Rosenberger went to his office, while Mrs. R. changed from traveling to golfing clothes and arrived at Forest Lake Country Club about 2:30, only to find her golfing pals had played earlier in the day. Soooooo—undaunted! Billie took four golf clubs and started out, alone, to conquer whatever it is that golfers conquer on the fairways. At the tenth tee (a par 3 hole), Billie waited for a foursome to leave the green before she made a hole-in-one... witnessed by the departing players but unrecognized in the golfing world, because Mrs. R. was playing alone.

So much for this thrilling but sad experience. The following Sunday the Rosenbergers left on a combined business and pleasure trip to Arizona and California. Our lady golfer took with her a full set of clubs, plus high hopes of repeating Wednesday's golf performance. At the Paradise Valley Country Club, Scottsdale, Ariz., Mrs. Kay Flores, former Birmingham resident, was a frequent partner. Mr. and Mrs. Rosenberger returned to Bloomfield Village last week and it is a sure thing that Billie will be playing golf, but always with a partner... next time it's gonna count!

A mother-daughter feud is going on between Mrs. Ida Bornman and Mrs. Harvey W. Ewald (See PARTNER, 4-C)

MRS. ROBERT RAISCH (LEFT), GEORGE McCLELLAN, MR. RAISCH

TWISTER ED DORE WITH PARTNER

Three-Day Fair Ready to Roll At Day School

That traditional weekend of fun and frivolity, the annual Detroit Country Day School Fair and Carnival, is coming up again. It's held on the school grounds, 22305 W. 13 Mile Road, and Dr. W. Rodman Snelling, headmaster of the school, calls it the B I G event of the year for young and old. So chalk up May 24, 25, and 26 as the Fair dates—and count on having the time of your life! Mrs. James M. T. Conroy of Farmington is chairman again this year and promises all of the wonderful attractions of past years which are sure to lure the small fry as well as moms and dads.

FOOD IS always a pleasant thought for everyone, so for this gala occasion Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fullum of Detroit are preparing for an expansive barbecue spread. Mrs. Hugh C. White of Franklin is stocking the food shop with goodies. No one is expected to go hungry. With the flower shop such an overwhelming success last year, all kinds of posies for sale again this season will add fragrance to the air. Mrs. Muri Dayenport of Farmington is chairman.

Detroiters Mrs. Leo Lipton and Mrs. Lee Stern are dreaming about decorations, while Mrs. Henry Sobell is planning a promotion campaign.

Everyone remembers those cuddly puppies and kittens and baby rabbits all looking for loving owners last year. There will be more again this year at the Four Corners, which will also boast such items as sports equipment, books, wearing apparel, and those inevitable little treasures not to be confused with white elephants!

Presiding over the "Corners" as chairman will be Mrs. William Dorman of Walled Lake and assisting her in the several categories will be Mrs. James MacDonald, Mrs. John W. Goruch, Mrs. Roland D. Bengler, Mrs. Barney D. Rannon, all of Birmingham, and Mrs. Richard Jerningham, Franklin. (See FAIR, 2-C)

Birmingham Auxiliary Follows a Tradition

Many Birminghamites are aware of the North End Sewing Group which got its start twenty-eight years ago in Detroit, and is still going strong. Proudly, now, senior members are about to welcome a junior group organized in Birmingham by daughters and friends of the founders. Juniors include Mrs. Herbert Woolson, Mrs. Jay E. White, Mrs. Glen Corbett, Mrs. Clare Scheffer, Mrs. John Weidner, Mrs. Charles Thom, Mrs. Ray Davies, Mrs. Richard Weedon and Mrs. Robert Frantz.

THEY WILL BE honored today at a luncheon at the Detroit Golf Club, with official hostesses to include Mrs. Earl Hoffman, Mrs. William A. Fisher, Mrs. Hal Eagel, Mrs. J. E. Maloney, Mrs. William Cowling and Mrs. Robert Olson.

Purpose of both senior group and auxiliary is sewing for charity, and through the years dozens and dozens of worthwhile outlets have benefited. The Birmingham group will confine itself mostly to clothing—ready to be turned over to the seniors for dispersal.

Sponsor Benefit

Mary Ann and Martin Campbell and their friends are sponsoring a benefit performance by the Ridgedale Players Sunday to assist in financing the construction of Concord House for Christian Scientists.

MR. AND MRS. LARRY HARE (FROM LEFT) AND THE DICK HINKS