Ingraham

PERHAPS THIS problem could be solved through the zoning board of appeals, Ingraham agreed. Commissioners replied that this could be subject for discussion at a joint meeting between themselves and the plan board. They also requested a written opinion from the city attorney regarding Ingraham's proposal. A meeting date will be set later.

Burgums

He was briefed on the city's plan to expand the city hall facilities and to build a new DPW garage. Voters recently approved a bond issue to remodel the city hall and police station.

EAST LANSING, which celebrates its 60th birthday this month, has grown along with Michigan State University.

When school is in session, the population stands at around 30,000. During the summer months it drops to about 16,000.

The town traces its history back over 100 years when the unincorporated village of Agriculturians College, Mich., was founded at the site of the proposed agricultural college.

EAST LANSING was first incorporated in 1907 and has grown almost continually through the years. At the present time the city covers more than nine square miles. While the mayor was being shown various city installations, Mrs. Burgum was taken on a tour of the high school shopping area and councilmen's homes.

Mrs. Burgum was introduced to a gathering of 300 women at the 20th anniversary of the women's club. The celebration was held at Walnut Hills Country Club.

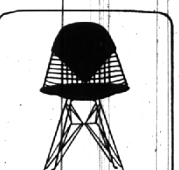

The Burgums were feted at an informal dinner with East Lansing officials before returning to Birmingham.

Warren Girl Dies In Troy Accident

Winnie L. Petty, 17, of Warren, was killed Friday night when she was pinned under a car in an auto accident in Troy.

The girl was riding with Russell Harrington, 16, also of Warren, who told police he lost control of the car when applying the brakes. Both were thrown into a ditch and Harrington received only minor injuries.

The accident occurred at 10:30 p.m. on John R., a quarter mile south of Maple. Miss Petty was taken to William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, where she died on arrival.

3 Families Started B'ham

This brief report on the early history of Birmingham was written by Mrs. Donald Hinesman, president of the Birmingham Historical Society. It was published in the Birmingham Post-Herald in 1911.

In the spring of 1819 the first settlers on "the hill" were the families of John Hunter, Elijah Willets and John Hamilton. They immediately built log houses and planted corn, potatoes and apples; thus the village of Birmingham was started.

In a short time there were three taverns indicating there must have been quite a bit of travel between Detroit and Saginaw and this was about a day's journey, bringing them here at nightfall.

These taverns, located near the four corners of what is now Woodward Avenue and Maple Road, were only shelters for the weary passerby.

In 1821, the first church services were held in Willets' log tavern by an itinerant Methodist minister resting on the River Road.

By the next year Deacon Fish and Dr. Parke were conducting occasional services and in 1827 a Methodist Church was built and the Presbyterians organized in 1831.

The early settlers were earnest, thoughtful of others, hospitable and religious; presumably, for this reason the name "B'ham" was applied and was universally known.

THE FIRST industrial enterprise was a tannery built by Elijah Willets in 1837; the next year John Hunter built and operated a foundry which was run by horsepower. Business increased until stove castings, agricultural implements and threshing machines were made.

In the year 1832 a young lad of 18 from Birmingham, England, Hugh Irving, selected a suitable name for the town and placed a large sign "Birmingham" on the Hunter Foundry.

"All of the original settlers lived to see the spot of their selection invested with village dignity."

Car Strikes Tree; Driver Injured

SOUTHFIELD — A 36-year-old Royal Oak man was admitted to William Beaumont Hospital Monday morning after his car ran off the road and into a tree. The accident occurred on 12 Mile Road, east of Northwestern Highway.

In satisfactory condition in Francisco Castillo) who suffered multiple cuts of the face and scalp.

Police believe Castillo, who was alone in the car, fell asleep at the wheel. The accident is reported by a passing motorist who saw Castillo wandering around near the scene of the accident.

YOUR GARDEN CENTER IT IS NOW ON YOU

Assuming that you have fertilized properly and adequately and have raised your mower blades for a 2-inch high cut and are not clobbering it with frequent shallow watering we can perhaps talk with you about other important subjects.

- 1. BROADLEAF WEEDS: Spray the entire area, with McClellan-Ball WEED-KILLER, WEED-B-GON, DUPONT WEEDKILLER, DOW FORMULA 40 or WEEDON. Speedier application material. Then put your equipment away until Sept. 15th, '63—FOLLOW THE INSTRUCTIONS.
2. IF YOU HAVE NOT fertilized your lawn and have dandelions use a WEED & FEED such as: SACCO'S WEDO AGRICO'S WEED CONTROL GREENFIELD'S WEED & FEED
3. GARDEN WEED & GRASS CONTROL: Two excellent materials are SESONE and GREENFIELD'S GRASS & WEED CONTROL. (Do not use in vegetable gardens!) P.S. Your vegetables will be better off anyway if you cultivate them frequently.
4. TO GET rid of weeds and grass use HARMONDS' WEED KILLER ORTHO'S TRIOX or GREENFIELD'S COMPLETE KILL
5. For GROSS GRASS CLUMPS in your lawn we recommend SPOT GRASS KILLER. Don't waste your time trying to dig them out—it won't work.
6. SCALE on euphrasian and scotch pine is showing up. DON'T WORRY NOW. BUT about June 15th spray well with MALATHION or ISOTOX.
7. The HORRENDOUS orange jelly masses on cedars and junipers have done their job. DON't bother about them now. BUT, if you have Hawthornes, flowering crab or crab-apples you should spray with CAPTAN as follows:—
1. As buds show pink
2. 1 full bloom
3. At petal fall
4. 7 days later
5. 7 days later
8. BIRDBATHS, SHELLS, FOUNTAINS and GARDEN FIGURES are leaving our shop about as fast as they come in. KEEP IN TOUCH if you desire something nice for your yard and garden.
9. INSECTS are arriving as fast as Hollywood stars. You should be prepared for all with ISOTOX, MALATHION, GIN, SEVIN, FRUIT TREE SPRAYS, etc., along with fungicides such as PHALITAN, CAPTAN, SULPHUR, BORDEAUX, etc.
10. Mechanical devices which will relieve your strains and reduce your purchases of Ben-Cay, Mustard Plasters and Sloan's Liniment, are available here along with the broad information developed by our staff who are all (most) gardeners or engineers. DON'T pile up your garage with ineffective, useless tools.
11. About the middle of June we will invite you to lunch at our shop. The barbecue grills will be producing appetizing chunks of beef, sausage, chicken or ribs for your discerning taste and pleasure. More later. (More information, that is.)
12. Dogs may be discouraged from annihilating your yews with K-Pels, Ridz or ANIMAL REPELLENT ROPE. Border fencing is also pretty good.
13. The Audubon Society says it is not harmful to feed birds in the summer. Incidentally, we have seen more finches, orioles and woodpeckers this year than we ever have. HUMMING BIRD FEEDERS are (almost) a MUST.
14. Don't forget your garden. ROSES like XXX Rose Food, others need a 4-12-4 or 5-10-5 (GARD N-GRO or AGRICO). DICONURE is superb as a mild starter and conditioner (eatle, poultry and peat moss mixture).
15. WEED CONTROL in gardens by the use of heavy coverings of BUCK-WHEAT HULLS or PEAT MOSS are most successful. BUT don't be too hasty. The weather should be drier and hotter than we are having.
16. How does a crippled crab walk? With crutches, of course (Experiment).
17. Chipmunks (sophers, ground squirrels) can be eliminated with:
a. Poisoned grain
b. Rat treated with bread and peanut butter
c. Traps (VERY tedious)
18. MADAM'S trash from the back of the house will cause you trouble if she has a HANDY-CART. If you will probably get an extra golf day if you give her one.
You think we are kidding, don't you? Try it and then come in and apologize. This is all ON YOU!
