Three at Bloomfield Earn French Honors

By NANCY WEISSNER
Special Writer

Three Bloomfield Hills High School students—Mary Fox, senior; and Jill Wahl and Janis Adams, juniors—will receive awards for outstanding participation in French.

Mary is a fourth year French student, and Jill and Janis are both in their third year.

The girls will be guests at an afternoon party on Friday, May 24, at the official residence of the Honorable Alain Chaillos, Consul General of France. Their host will present the awards, given by the French government.

awards are 'A' student in French, excellent in reading, writing and speaking the language, and an interest in French culture. The students were elected by a committee consisting of French visitors to BHHS and French Club guest speakers.

On May 23, at the International Institute in Detroit, Monsieur Chaillos will present Mary Fox with an award as the outstanding senior French student of BHHS. This award will be given by the Alliance Francaise of Detroit.

Student Council, Class Officers Named at Groves

By BARR SCHIFFER
Special Writer

Elections held May 10, decided the officers for student council and class positions for the school year of 1963-64 at Groves. Since grades seven and eight will be elected next year, only one student council election was held.

Elected president was Dave Bradshaw (11); vice-president, Dan Hastings (10); secretary, Wendy Nahabedian (11); and treasurer, Nancy Howard (11).

In the eighth grade, Bob Spitznagle was elected president of his class; Betty Bates, vice-president; Sheri Craft, secretary; treasurer, Tom Hampson; and historian, Sue Whitesell.

In the 10th grade, Joan Schmalzreidit was elected president; vice-president, Doug Jarvime; secretary, Kay Heideman; treasurer, Tom Poirier; and historian, Jane Schaefer.

Next fall the faculty at Groves will be considerably diminished due to the many teachers leaving for teaching positions at the new Berkshire Junior High School. The list includes Miss Brezette, Music; Mrs. Bronson, English; and Mr. Dunlop, history.

LEAVING FOR the same reason are Miss Karp, French; Miss Hurst, English; Mrs. Kalitta, home economics; Mr. Levy, speech; Mr. Matson, art; Mr. Nunn, history; Miss Poelke, English; Mr. Ruthenberg, lateral science; Miss Scarborough, guidance counselor; and Mr. Schwarz, art.

Also included are Mr. Skribich, metals workshop; Mr. Stewart, French; and Mr. Gary Wilson, general science. Miss Ruth Sanders and Miss Piepho are leaving to be married.

TRYOUTS for next year's junior varsity cheerleading squad were held on May 8 and 9. Selected for positions on the 1963-64 squad were Carol Herabarger, Chris Ludwig, Nancy Shannon and Linda Zimmach from East Hills Junior High; and Carl Christenson, and Ruth Worman, with Holly Riggs and Cheryl Marsh as alternates from Bloomfield Hills Junior High.

Judging was based on acrobatic ability, personality, voice, entrance and exit, body movement and direction. The girls were selected by a panel of judges including teachers, high school cheerleaders and students.

EACH GHR presented both an individual and group cheer for the tryouts. Tryouts for next year's varsity cheerleaders will be held in the near future.

Election of 1963-64 class officers is in progress at BHHS. Now that student council elections are over, the students are concentrating on electing their future class leaders.

Running for officers of next year's senior class are: president, Daniel Maute; Marguerite Boye and Donald Hamilton; vice president, Jais Adams; Barry Brown and Roger Watta; corresponding secretary, Cynthia Skalsky; Ches Sandler and Judy Easkin; recording secretary, Teri Seibert, Sylvia Nowlin and Jane Anderson; and treasurer, Jane Ritchen, Margal Sikorski, Jane Higgins and Robert Richards.

PROSPECTS for the junior class officers are president, Gregory Lau, John Michel and Fred Bigley; vice-president, Geoffrey Smith, Susan Wiant and Barbara Calhoun; secretary, Susan Seaton, Peg Wolfe and Joan Carter; and treasurer, Nancy Kitchen, Barbara Deeb and William Jentzen.

Only the senior class has both a recording and corresponding secretary.

At the time of this writing, campaigning is in full swing. Candidates are distributing paper campaign buttons and displaying posters in the school's halls. Speeches were given on Thursday, May 23, and elections were held the next day. Results will be published next week.

Pick Delegates At Kingswood

By BETTY KRAUSE
Special Writer

The delegates for the 1963 Lake Forest Religious Conference have been chosen. This conference is an opportunity for girls, representing from 39 midwestern schools, to gather together for discussions and lectures concerning religious topics.

The eight girls that have been chosen from Kingswood for the conference this summer are Esther Goddstein, Alexa Harrison, Susan Good, Jean McGibbon, Dawnie Miskins, Lesley Schimpke, Kathy Shore, and Morley Thompson. The alternates are Carol Cole, Pat Pagan, and Dorothy Wagner.

THE STUDENT council chose the joint activities committee members for 1963, and the names were announced May 15. The committee is responsible for organizing events held jointly with Grand Brook School throughout the year.

The new members are Margie Deaton, Debbie Sterritt and Anne Puchs.

The committee chairman for the Kingswood Commencement Forum to be held Friday evening, June 7, are general chairman, Patricia Swan; invitations, Louise Bowen; refreshments, Susan Gerhart; and decorations, Eileen Schwalm, with Karen Blev as consultant.

Marian Girls to France

By CAROL JURICA
Special Writer

Pat Byrnes and Sue Savage, seniors at Marian, have been accepted by the Michigan Council of Churches to participate in their Teen-Age Exchange Program.

Pat and Sue will travel to France to spend the summer with French families. In the fall, they will attend a language school in Paris where they will spend the winter. Next summer, they will travel through France and the Netherlands, returning to the states in August.

THE EXCHANGE program was initiated to promote Youth-for-Understanding, one of the council's special projects. Most students on this program go for the summer months before entering their senior year of high school, but Pat and Sue will add their travels to other post-graduate experiences.

Last year 350 students from Michigan were represented in eight different countries for this program. This year, Marian, too, will be represented.

The new officers of next term's junior and senior classes have been elected. Officers of the senior class are Maureen Anderson, president; Nancy Brosius, vice-president; Barbara Schack, secretary; and Kathy Snyder, treasurer.

THE OFFICERS of the junior class are: president, Cynthia Diel; vice-president, Abby Forrester; secretary, Cathy Lund; and treasurer, Margaret Whalen. The sophomore class officers will be elected in the near future.

The art department is holding "Art All Over" on May 19-24 at Marian. The programs consisted of lectures and demonstrations, panel discussions and exhibitions of the department's varied accomplishments from the year's work.

The senior class will hold its class picnic at the home of Sue Bateman, a member of the senior class, on Thursday, June 6.

The girls and senior class teachers will enjoy themselves on tennis, swimming, boating and just plain relaxing. Thanks to the Batemans for their graciousness.

B'field Man Shows Films He Created On Project HOPE

The movie was featured at a meeting of the Kaffee Klatsch, a club group for retired persons at International Institute, 111 E. Kirby.

"Project HOPE" is the story of the medical ship HOPE which carries medicine and medical training to underdeveloped countries. Bruce Baker spent three months on location in Indonesia during the filming of the picture.
