Cadiz, Gibraltar (they lunched at the Rock Hotel), Torremolinos (famous resort) and Granada. Sevilla, a typical old Spanish city, was most fascinating with its narrow streets called "kissing streets" because balconies practically join over the street below, making it very easy to kiss one's neighbor or sweetheart with all the conveniences of home.

UPON RETURNING to Madrid for an over-night stay, Hazel and Jesse were delighted to discover Mr. and Mrs. Earl Triplett of Birmingham at the Ritz Hotel. Other friends from Texas and Birmingham joined them for dinner that night.

Three days of leisure at the resort, Palma Mallorca, was pleasant before visiting Barcelona, Spain, where Señor and Señora Antonio Golas honored them at a dinner party.

The Judes return visit to Cologne, Germany, (last was six years ago) was like going home for the weekend.

Former Birmingham residents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Haas, met their good friends and drove them to their suburban home at Gladbach. Hazel and Jesse were houseguests, there from Saturday until Tuesday.

Paris was the last city to revisit before returning home.

"SOON" CAN'T BE soon enough for Rita (Mrs. Kenneth A.) Berridge of Westwood Drive, to receive delivery on her new car, for that's when she will depart to pick up sister Connie (Mrs. L. Blaine) Clarke at her home in Chevy Chase, Md. Rita and Connie will start out on a girls "do-as-you-please, you-please" trip, which will include some antique hunting.

In the meantime, Mr. and Mrs. Berridge entertained at home Sunday. Attending the cocktail and supper party were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth B. Sanden, Mr. and Mrs. Richard N. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. James N. Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Saeffels, Mr. and Mrs. William Bond, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Staudt, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Coupe and Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Henderson.

MR. AND MRS. Harold W. H. Burrows of Birmingham decided to have a repeat performance of the Valentine dinner dance they gave at the Detroit Athletic Club in order to entertain friends who were vacationing on the February date.

They took over the pink room of the Detroit Golf Club last Saturday night—the date of the club's annual spring formal dinner dance. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. D. Richardson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Vaybrough, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Erdmann, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Worley, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sheetz.
